EVENT BRIEF · INSIDE PRIVATE BANKING, LONDON · 19 OCTOBER 2026

J.P. Morgan's International Private Bank, from the ground up

What the Private Bank is, how it is run from London, who runs it, how it makes money, what its strategy is and where it is under strain, what happened this month, how the client scenario works, and the questions to ask each kind of host. Beginner to advanced, with 11 diagrams and 130 dated sources.

Prepared: 15 October 2026 for Janak Chohan, penultimate-year Economics, UEA. Public sources only; every number carries a marker that resolves in Part 6. People are described by public professional title only.

Honesty notes: no account of a previous "Inside Private Banking" day exists in public, so the agenda in Part 0 is inferred from the listing and from the bank's other student events. The London web page still lists Maya Prabhu, who was moved to Asia on 6 October; her UK successor is not verified. Two figures (the 1,900 relationship-manager ambition and the $2bn-a-month alternatives pace) come from single interviews or transcripts and are attributed as such.

PART 0

The day itself: what it is, who is in the room, and your plan

Monday 19 October 2026, 09:15 to 17:30, The Line Venue, 58 Victoria Embankment, next door to the Private Bank's London office at number 60.

What this event is, and what it is not

You were selected from a CV screen for a recruiting event run by the International Private Bank's early-careers team. The public listing promises four things: meeting "Bankers, Investors and Senior Leaders from the London office", a session on "the 2027 Private Banking opportunities and the recruiting process", networking, and "an interactive client scenario designed to give you insight into the work of the Private Bank" [S700]. Eligibility is tied to the 2027 summer internship, whose London applications close on 1 November 2026 [S746][S748].

Treat it as the first round of the internship process in everything but name. There is no public account of a previous "Inside Private Banking" day, in London or any other city, so the exact agenda and speakers are not known [S700]. The closest documented comparators are the US "Morning@Morgan" office visits (panels with senior and junior bankers, networking, a recruiting overview) and the Asia "Private Bank Challenge", where teams of four work a hypothetical client case and present to judges [S743][S744][S821]. Expect the London scenario to be a team exercise: profile a family or founder, map the balance sheet, decide which specialists to bring in, present.

kinds of host: bankers, investors, senior leaders. Each wants a different conversation (Part 4)

The day, and your move in each part of it

09:15	Registration, coffee, welcome	Arrive 08:50. Learn two names at your table and what they study. Find out who at the table has applied.
Morning	Senior leaders on the International Private Bank and the 2027 opportunities	One written question ready (Part 4). Note every number they quote; they will be the ones that matter in the HireVue.
Late morning	Bankers, investors, specialists: panels and small groups	Ask the banker where their last three clients came from. Ask the investor about the Q3 house view. Write names down.
Midday	The interactive client scenario	Listen first; both sides of the balance sheet; name the seats; two next steps. Bring the quiet person in.
Afternoon	Networking, recruiting process, close	Three short conversations beat one long one. Ask the recruiting team what comes next and when. Leave with five names.
Evening	Home	Write up every name and one line each. Send the thank-you on Tuesday morning, naming one thing one person said.

> THE ONE RULE FOR THE DAY
> Every host will meet twenty students who say they are "passionate about markets". The ones they remember ask a question that could only come from someone who has read what the bank itself has published. This document gives you that reading. Part 4 turns it into questions. Use three of them well rather than ten badly.

Timing	Arrive 08:50. The first twenty minutes, before anything formal starts, are the easiest networking of the day because nobody is tired yet.

The recruiting process they will describe

The London Advisor summer internship: nine weeks, June to August, penultimate-year students, application closes 1 November 2026 on a rolling basis; CV and questions, then a HireVue video interview, then a hiring-manager review and, for most, a final-round interview day [S746][S743]. The US campus page, the most detailed public description, gives the summer shape as a first week of welcome with the whole AWM cohort, weeks two to five of training with an assessment workstream, and weeks six to nine of a senior speaker series and a capstone presentation; then a roadmap from Summer Analyst to Incoming Analyst (licensing), Analyst years one and two (portfolio reviews, business development, client presentations), Associate (a business plan, mentoring) and Senior Associate (an independent portfolio) [S743]. The London full-time programme opens with a "five-week immersive global training program" with incoming analysts from around the world [S748]. London runs a separate Investment Solutions internship and analyst programme for the "Investor" track, described as "our main source of homegrown talent" [S747][S749].

> IF THEY ASK WHETHER YOU HAVE APPLIED
> "Yes, for the Advisor internship, and I have the HireVue recorded." If you have not yet, apply tonight. "I am applying this week" is an acceptable answer on Monday only if it is true by Tuesday.

PART 1 · BEGINNER

What a private bank is, where this one sits, and the words on the floor

Everything a candidate must know before walking in. Read once, then test yourself with the glossary.

What a private bank does, in plain words

A private bank is a bank for wealthy families that does everything under one roof: it invests their money, lends to them, holds their cash, and plans how their wealth passes on. The thing it sells is not a product. It is one accountable relationship, run by a banker, that can bring the whole bank to one family.

Three neighbouring businesses are easy to confuse. Retail banking sells standard products to everyone. Wealth management advises on investments around goals, often without a balance sheet to lend from. Asset management runs pooled funds for institutions and individuals; at J.P. Morgan that is George Gatch's business, next door to the Private Bank inside Asset & Wealth Management. Investment banking advises companies; the Private Bank advises the people who own and run those companies, which is why the two feed each other [S900][S575].

The International Private Bank, run from London, targets clients with more than $20m of liquid assets; the wider firm quotes "$10 million" as the Private Bank minimum in the United States and third-party guides put the UK at around £10m, though no official UK figure is published [S704][S812][S813]. Below that, UK clients are served by J.P. Morgan Personal Investing inside the Chase UK app, with a dedicated relationship manager above £250,000 [S835]. Above it sits 23 Wall, the unit for about 700 of the world's largest families, worth more than $4.5tn in aggregate [S816][S817].

Where the Private Bank sits inside JPMorgan Chase

JPMorgan Chase is three businesses sharing one balance sheet: Consumer & Community Banking (Chase), the Commercial & Investment Bank, and Asset & Wealth Management. In 2025 the firm earned $185.6bn of revenue and $57.0bn of profit. AWM was $24.1bn of that revenue, split between Asset Management ($11.7bn) and the Global Private Bank ($12.4bn), at a 36% pretax margin and a 40% return on equity, the highest in the firm [S900]. The Private Bank is small inside the firm and unusually profitable because it earns fees and spread rather than putting large capital at risk.

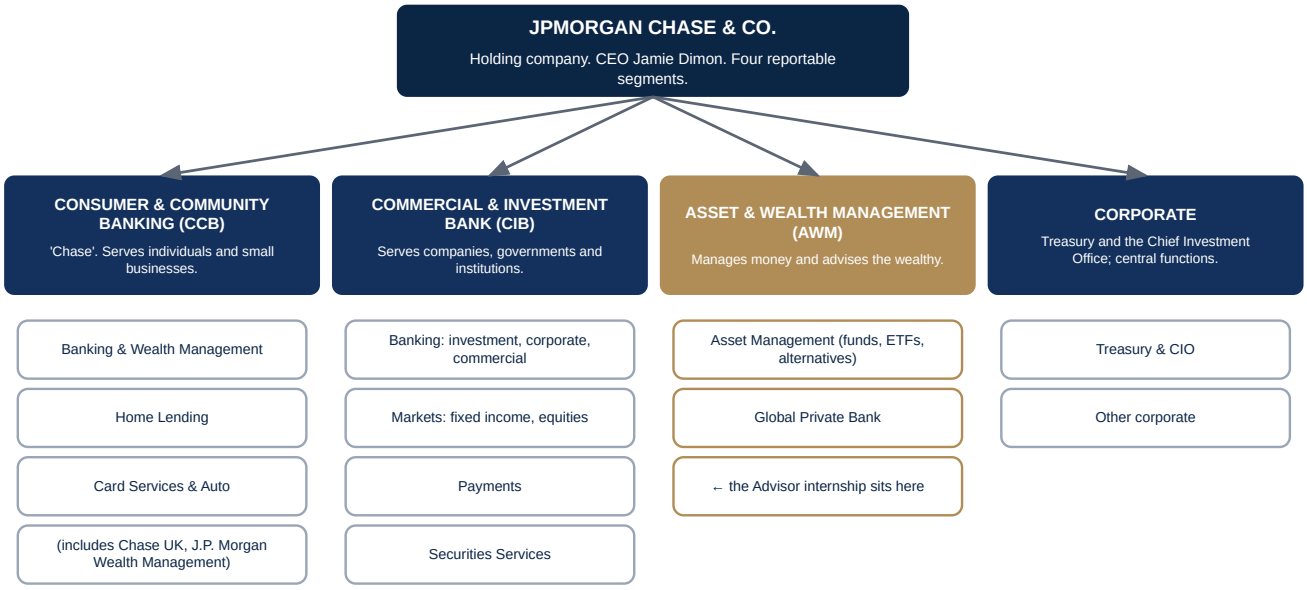

Figure 4. Where the Private Bank sits: the wealth half of Asset & Wealth Management, next to Asset Management, inside a three-business firm [S900].

The most recent quarter, reported on Tuesday 13 October, six days before your event: firm revenue $50.9bn (+8%) and net income $15.3bn; AWM revenue $6.9bn (+14%), of which the Global Private Bank $3.66bn (+16% on a year earlier); AWM net income $1.84bn; assets under management $5.2tn; client assets $7.9tn; $263bn of client-asset inflows in the quarter; average loans $302bn (+20%); expenses up 14% partly on "continued growth in private banking advisor teams" [S750][S751]. Those are the numbers the senior leaders will have in their heads on Monday.

The five seats around a client

Every J.P. Morgan Private Bank client is served by a team, not a person. The banker owns the relationship; four specialists own the disciplines. The firm's own services page organises what they do under four headings: Wealth Planning, Investing, Borrowing, Banking [S801].

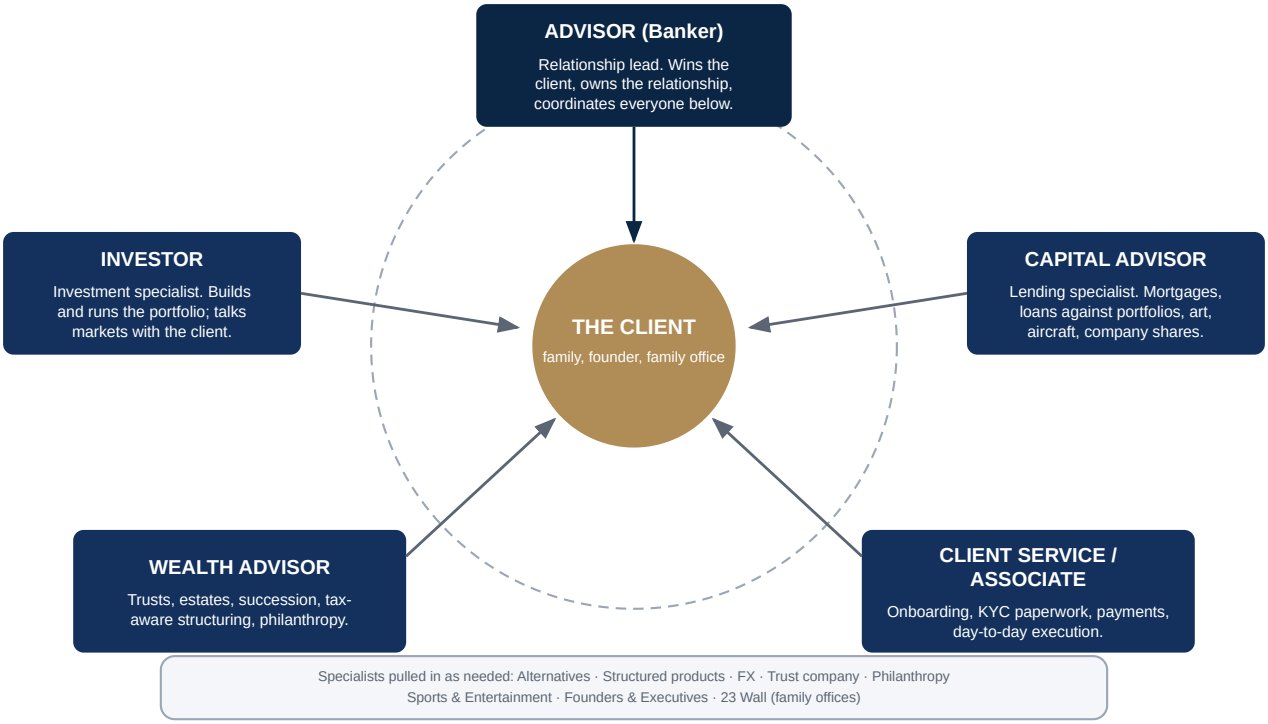

Figure 5. One client, five seats, one owner. The Banker is accountable; the specialists are shared across a team's book [S801] [S808].

Seat (London title)	What they do	How you will hear it described
Banker (Client Advisor; the "Advisor" track you applied to)	Wins and keeps clients. Advises "on their overall balance sheet" across asset allocation, investment management, wealth planning, credit and banking, and "leverage[s] internal specialists" [S808] [S961].	"Captain of the team." Measured on new clients, net new money and revenue on the book. "Profiling, negotiation and pro-active referral generation" are the named skills [S808].
Investor (Investment Specialist; the "Investment Solutions" track)	Owns the investment conversation on a banker's book: asset allocation, manager selection, market views, portfolio reviews. In London sits under Diana Robinson's Investments & Advice team [S701] [S710].	"The investor on the team." Runs the Entrust, Engage, Execute conversation (below).
Capital Advisor (Lending Advisor)	Securities-based lending, real estate lending, specialty lending (aircraft, art, sports). Under Folarin Oyeleye, Head of EMEA Lending Solutions [S806] [S717].	"Borrow rather than sell." "Not a commitment to lend" is on every page.
Wealth Advisor	Estate, tax, succession, trusts, philanthropy. Former private-client solicitors in the UK (James Chilvers, Head of UK Wealth Advisory, ex-Macfarlanes) [S720]; Chris Ottenritter heads EMEA Wealth Advisory [S719].	"Planning." The bank's framing question: "What's the purpose of your wealth?" [S804]
Client Service Associate	Day-to-day: payments, account administration, loans, transfers, KYC updates, digital adoption, helping bankers execute credit facilities [S963].	"The integrated team." The person the client calls most.

THREE WORDS YOU WILL HEAR: ENTRUST, ENGAGE, EXECUTE

The EMEA investment approach uses these instead of "discretionary, advisory, execution-only". Entrust: a fully managed portfolio. Engage: a collaborative portfolio with ongoing dialogue, the client deciding. Execute: self-directed. Clients mix all three across sleeves. Strategies come from J.P. Morgan and third-party managers through "manager research teams" and "portfolio construction teams"; a client may exclude J.P. Morgan's own strategies, which the page admits "carry higher fees for the firm" [S803].

How the bank makes money on one client

Four legs. A percentage fee on invested assets. The spread the bank earns on the client's deposits and loans. Fees and commissions on alternatives, brokerage and structured products. And fees for trusts, custody and planning. In 2025 AWM's revenue was 72% non-interest (mostly asset-management fees of $15.5bn) and 28% net interest income ($6.8bn), and the firm says 73% of the whole is recurring [S900][S831]. The private-bank client who uses all four legs is worth far more, and is far harder to lose, than one who uses one: when a US Private Bank client also actively banks with the firm, assets and revenue are on average 65% higher [S901].

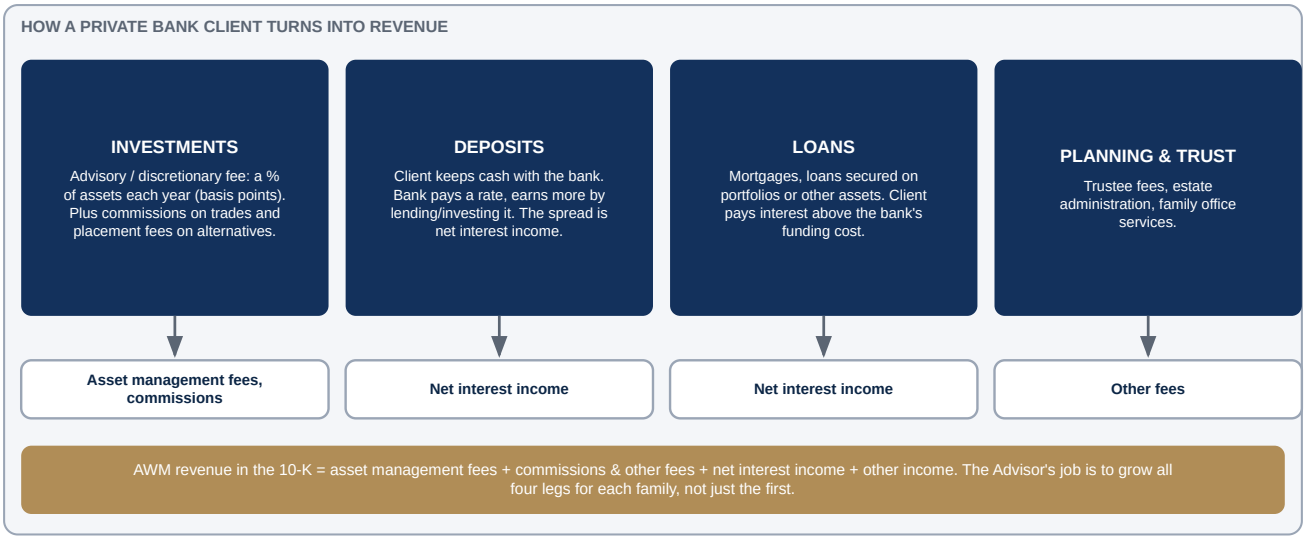

Figure 6. The four revenue legs on one client. AWM's 2025 revenue was 72% fees and other income, 28% net interest [S900].

Why lending matters so much here: wealthy people prefer to borrow against assets rather than sell them, because selling crystallises tax and gives up the exposure. J.P. Morgan calls its private-bank lending "the largest lending business in the private banking space", with $266bn of loans at end-2025 and AWM average loans of $302bn in the latest quarter, losses of a few basis points a year because every loan has "two ways out", the collateral and the client's cash flow [S901][S751]. It financed ten of the last fifteen major sports-team transactions and counts 60% of major team owners as clients [S812][S575].

The words on the floor

AUM / client assets / AUS
Assets under management are what the bank invests on a discretionary or advisory basis; client assets include custody, deposits and brokerage too. AWM: $5.2tn AUM, $7.9tn client assets at 30 September 2026 [S751].

Net new money (NNM) / inflows
Money clients bring minus money they take out. The number the business is run on: $553bn in 2025, $263bn in Q3 2026 alone [S754][S750]. "We are not number one in AUM, but we are number one in flows" is a house line [S901].

Book
A banker's set of client relationships and the revenue they produce. Books here are "seeded" by the firm, not bought from other banks [S901].

Primary bank
The bank a family uses for most of its needs; the whole model is built to become it.

Goals-based planning
Organising money by what it is for (lifestyle, growth, legacy, giving) and when it is needed, "with regular check-ins" [S801].

Balance sheet
Both sides of a family's finances: what they own and what they owe, liquid and illiquid. Bankers advise on "their overall balance sheet" [S808].

Liquidity event
A sale, IPO or inheritance that turns an illiquid asset into cash. The moment most new clients arrive. Pre-sale planning starts 18 to 24 months before [S810].

Concentrated position
Too much wealth in one stock, usually the founder's own. The bank's four verbs: Borrow, Hedge, Monetize, Give [S809].

Securities-based lending / Lombard loan
Borrowing against a portfolio. Advance rates roughly 50 to 70% on diversified portfolios, lower on a single stock; margin calls if values fall [S806][S904].

Alternatives / privates
Private equity, private credit, real assets, hedge funds. About half of the portfolio assets of the bank's 200 largest clients; evergreen funds now a fifth of its alternatives [S833][S613].

Evergreen / semi-liquid fund
A fund with no end date, monthly dealing and a quarterly exit capped at about 5%. The 2026 story of the year (Part 3).

Non-dom / FIG regime
UK tax status abolished 6 April 2025 and replaced by a residence test and a four-year foreign-income-and-gains regime; inheritance tax now follows residence with a tail of up to ten years after leaving [S826].

IHT
UK inheritance tax, 40% above the allowances; pensions come inside it from April 2027 [S775].

KYC / source of wealth
Know-your-client checks: how the fortune was built (source of wealth) and where this deposit came from (source of funds). Analysts do a lot of it.

Discovery
The first meetings, where the banker asks and listens. The bank's own question: "What's the purpose of your wealth?" [S804]

Advice Lab
Internal name for the planning specialists: Philanthropy Centre, Family Governance, Executive Compensation, Tax, Private Business Advisory, Family Office and Estate Disposition modelling [S805].

23 Wall
Coverage unit for about 700 of the largest families, a joint venture of the Investment Bank and the Private Bank run by Andy Cohen [S816].

Institutional Wealth Group
London team (Zeynep Ozturk Unlu) serving families and entities that behave like institutions [S701].

FIG team
Financial Institutions Group: bankers covering founders and partners of asset managers, hedge funds and private equity firms. London lead Paul Ferry, from Citi in November 2025 [S714].

Connect Coach
The advisor-facing AI assistant: 25 agents, a million personalised insights, about 17,000 users; meeting prep, portfolio analysis, call summaries [S815][S831].

Uniform global model
Erdoes' claim that this is "the only private bank in the industry with a uniform business model globally": the same team and platform in every city [S815].

Fortress balance sheet
Dimon's phrase for holding more capital than required so the bank is the safe place in a crisis. CET1 13.9% at Q3 2026 [S750] [S905].

Investor / Capital Advisor / Wealth Advisor
The three specialist seats (above). Say "investor" not "fund manager", "capital advisor" not "loan officer".

Superday / final round
A day of back-to-back interviews after the HireVue; behavioural, with "some working knowledge about the current market" expected [S960].

PART 2 · INTERMEDIATE

The International Private Bank from London: organisation, people, the client journey, and the scenario

What most candidates will have fragments of. Read this to have the whole picture.

How the International Private Bank is organised

The Global Private Bank is run by David Frame from New York. Its international half is run by Adam Tejpaul from 60 Victoria Embankment, and within that, EMEA is run by Pablo Garnica from Madrid through three region heads: the UK, Channel Islands and Ireland; Continental Europe; and Switzerland, the Middle East and Emerging Markets. London is both the UK region's home and the International Private Bank's headquarters [S701][S702][S705].

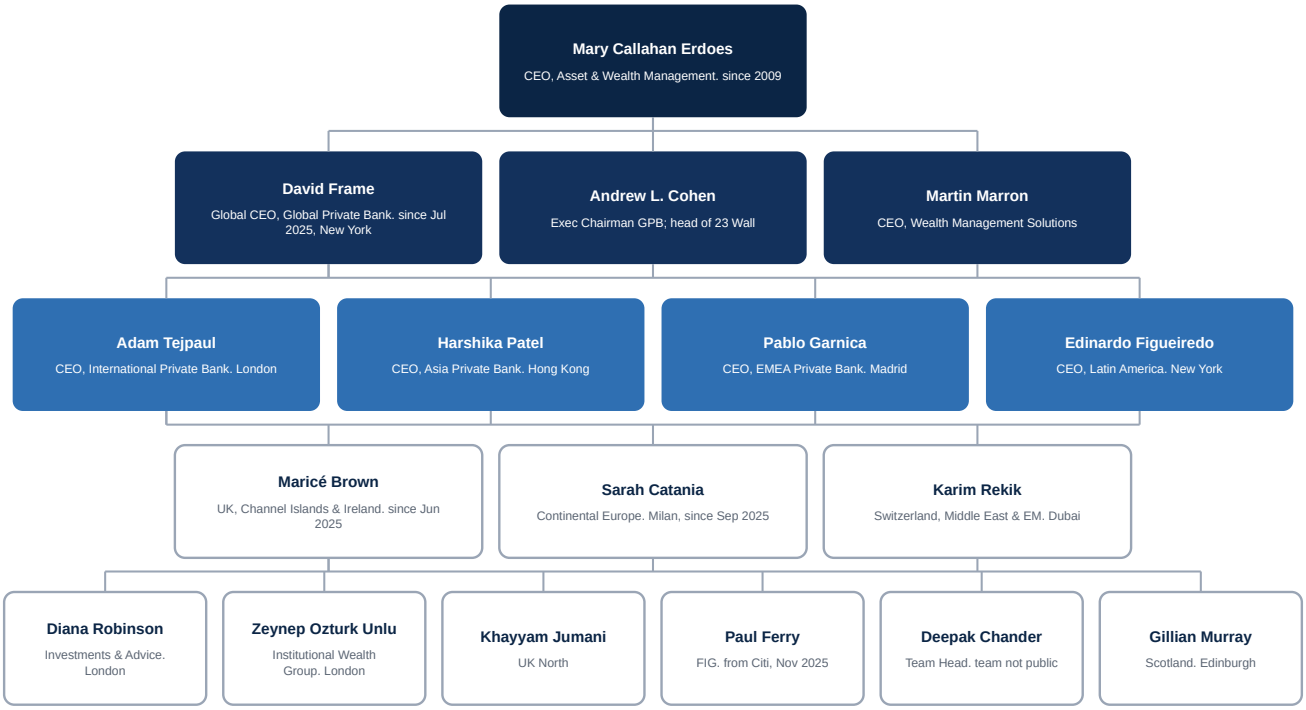

Figure 7. The International Private Bank as run from London, October 2026. Reporting lines simplified; functional heads (lending, wealth advisory, alternatives, strategy) run across the regions and are listed in the table [S701][S702][S705][S708][S709].

The three-region design is new and deliberate. Tejpaul told Euromoney in March 2026 that Europe needs "three very senior, almost CEO-like" region heads, and that the UK has shifted "from a largely offshore, London-centric model to onshore, multi-hub", with offices in Manchester, Edinburgh and Glasgow and new or expanded offices in Munich, Hamburg and Berlin. The International Private Bank has more than 1,000 relationship managers and an ambition of about 1,900 "over time"; in the twelve months to June 2025 EMEA revenue grew about 14%, assets about 25% and adviser headcount 9% [S705][S758]. Europe is where share is lowest and therefore, in his words, where the bank can "scale that materially" [S704].

Region (head)	What sits there	What to know

UK, Channel Islands & Ireland Maricé Brown, MD, Region Head (since June 2025)	London, Manchester, Edinburgh, Glasgow. Teams: UK Domestic and Crown Dependencies; UK Entrepreneurs & Executives; UK North (Khayyam Jumani); Financial Institutions Group (Paul Ferry); Institutional Wealth Group (Zeynep Ozturk Unlu); Scotland (Gillian Murray); a team led by Deepak Chander whose remit is not named publicly [S701][S715][S752].	Brown spent about twenty years at the firm, previously running Mexico. She succeeded Oliver Gregson, who left in 2025 to become CEO of Schroders Wealth Management, now owned by Nuveen since 1 October [S706][S707][S764][S784].
Continental Europe Sarah Catania, MD, Region Head (since September 2025, Milan)	France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Benelux, Nordics. Joined the investment bank in Milan in 2004; market manager Italy 2021, Greece 2024 [S708].	The named "share opportunity". Low-single-digit shares in several countries [S705].
Switzerland, Middle East & Emerging Markets Karim Rekik, MD, Region Head (Dubai)	Teams in the UK, Switzerland, Israel, UAE, Luxembourg and the US; the Israel and Middle East desks run from London sit here, not under Brown. Dubai team led by Selim Elgen; Rony Chaker joined from Barclays in March 2026 for UHNW [S709][S730][S731].	Middle East headcount going from about 370 to 500; Saudi regional HQ licence; Swiss assets $55.6bn, to double by 2030 [S739][S732][S814].

The specialists who sit across the regions

Function	EMEA / UK head	What they would talk about
Investments & Advice (the Investors)	Diana Robinson, MD, London; formerly head of investments and engagement in Asia [S701][S710]	Entrust, Engage, Execute; the house view (Part 3); the Women & Wealth programme she fronts [S820].
Lending (Capital Advisors)	Folarin Oyeleye, MD, Head of EMEA Lending Solutions, London [S717]	Securities-based, real estate and specialty lending; "borrow rather than sell".
Wealth Advisory	Chris Ottenritter (EMEA); James Chilvers (UK, ex-Macfarlanes) [S719][S720]	The April 2025 tax regime, IHT, trusts, succession, who is leaving the UK and who is staying.
Alternatives	Mark Hempstead, Head of Alternative Investments EMEA, London; global head Kristin Kallergis Rowland, New York [S721][S722]	Evergreens, pacing, liquidity budgets, manager selection in a year of gates.
Managed Solutions (discretionary)	Stewart Edginton, Head of EMEA Managed Solutions [S723]	What "Entrust" portfolios hold and how they are rebalanced.
Investment Strategy	Grace Peters, MD, Co-Head of Global Investment Strategy, London, ~40 strategists; Michael Cembalest, Chairman of Market and Investment Strategy, New York [S726][S727]	The Q3 house view: the Fed hiking cycle, AI concentration, the oil shock.
Philanthropy Centre / Advice Lab	Sheryl Fofaria is described in third-party bios as EMEA head (not confirmed on a bank page) [S724][S805]	Family governance, next-gen programmes, giving.

WHAT CHANGED THIS MONTH, AND WHAT IS NOT PUBLIC

On 6 October 2026 Maya Prabhu, who ran UK Domestic and Crown Dependencies and whose name is still on the London web page, was named Head of Wealth Advisory and Family Governance for Asia and moves to Hong Kong; one trade report, behind a block, names a Richard Gower as the UK successor, which could not be verified anywhere else [S711][S712]. Three VP bankers joined London in August: Harry Jellicoe (ex-Coutts), Oliver Andrews (ex-Investec) and Silvia Lepschy (lending) [S733][S734]. Not public: who heads Sports & Entertainment, Global Family Office coverage, Client Service or goals-based planning in EMEA. If a host introduces themselves with one of those titles, you have met someone no research could have found.

The building, and the one after it

60 Victoria Embankment was built in 1880 to 1882 for the City of London School, restored for the bank in 1991; the old school is now the conference centre and the complex is AWM's London home [S742][S740]. In November 2025 the firm announced a 3 million square foot tower on the Riverside South plot at Canary Wharf for up to 12,000 staff, more than £3bn, six years from planning consent, "subject to a continuing positive business environment in the UK"; the 265-metre height was agreed with London City Airport in February 2026 and the planning application was still pending in April [S740][S741][S787]. The firm employs about 23,000 people in the UK, 13,000 of them in London, with 5,300 in Bournemouth and 4,000 in Glasgow and Edinburgh [S740]. Dimon was in London on 6 October telling Bloomberg that a windfall tax on domestic banks "lacks principle" and that the UK has "the highest tax rate for banks probably in the world" [S786]. Budget day is Wednesday 28 October, nine days after your event [S775].

The client journey, and a day in the life

How clients arrive. Mostly by referral from the rest of the firm. Erdoes at the 2025 Investor Day: "We are every day investing in the companies that are taken public by the investment bank... helping the CEOs on their personal balance sheets... or we're taking all the great things in the commercial bank and the leads that they have." More than 95% of AWM's top 50 clients use other parts of the firm. The rule that makes it work: "We do not have side accounting groups that think about where those revenues get counted for. We are trying to win for the client" [S575][S815]. In London the FIG team covers founders of funds, the Entrepreneurs & Executives team covers people selling or running companies, and the Institutional Wealth Group covers families that behave like institutions [S701][S752].

Discovery. First meetings are for asking. The bank's own framing question is "What's the purpose of your wealth?" and its planning page lists ten disciplines it can bring: tax strategy, retirement and asset location, wealth strategy, estate planning, philanthropy, family and family-office advisory, cyber advisory, executive advisory, private business advisory, behavioural science [S804]. The Private Business Advisory page tells owners to start 18 to 24 months before a sale because some strategies "may only be available before the sale and not after", and lists the deal team: accountant, M&A adviser, valuation expert, corporate lawyer, trusts and estates lawyer, "personal banker and investment manager" [S810].

Proposal and onboarding. An investment proposal (allocation, holdings analysis, lending capacity, cash plan), the Entrust/Engage/Execute split, KYC on source of wealth, then account opening. The firm says real-time KYC should cut onboarding rejections by about a third and that well over three-quarters of eligible EMEA trades now execute online [S830].

Reviews. Quarterly reviews and market calls, where Connect Coach now surfaces which clients lack an exposure and drafts the talking points: about 17,000 users, "taking things that take days and weeks and turning them into seconds", and a 20% lift in gross sales the firm attributes partly to the tool [S831][S834][S756].

> A LONDON ANALYST'S WEEK, FROM THE POSTINGS AND ACCOUNTS
> Monday: the global morning meeting every banker attends so that market views are consistent across the world (Tejpaul: the same meeting in every city) [S704]. Then: preparing account reviews and pitch decks; running KYC document collection and account openings; coordinating with investors, capital advisors and wealth advisors on client pitches and agendas; drafting investment proposals; logging the CRM; sitting in on client meetings and writing them up; prospect research for the banker's pipeline. The Program Analyst posting describes supporting Client Advisors "with the routine of daily business", with promotion to Associate through an assessment centre [S828]. Hours around 08:00 to 18:30, lighter than the investment bank, heavier on judgement about people.

The client scenario: how it works and how to be good in it

The invitation promises "an interactive client scenario designed to give you insight into the work of the Private Bank". In every documented version of this exercise at J.P. Morgan and its peers, a team gets a hypothetical family or founder with a balance sheet and a problem, and is judged on how it thinks rather than on the answer [S744][S821][S822][S823].

Figure 9. The structure of a client scenario and what the assessors watch. Synthesised from the bank's own planning pages and the documented formats of its student case competitions [S804][S808][S744][S821][S824].

The structure to hold in your head. Listen first. Map both sides of the balance sheet. Sort the money by goal and horizon. Name the seats you would bring in. Agree one or two next steps. The pitfalls the bank's own pages warn about:

owners who "focus only on maximizing deal value and neglect their personal finances", and planning that cannot be done after a sale because it was not done before [S810][S811].

Questions a banker asks a new client	Why they are asked
"Tell me about your family." "What is something you are most proud of?"	Opens wide; the client chooses what matters. Both spouses are engaged [S825].
"What has changed, and what prompted the conversation now?"	Finds the liquidity event, the divorce, the inheritance, the move abroad.
"What is this money for? Which parts of it, and when?"	The bank's own "purpose of your wealth"; sorts lifestyle from growth from legacy [S804].
"Where does your money sit today, and who else do you bank with?"	Maps the balance sheet and the share of wallet.
"What keeps you up at night?" "If something could be different in two years, what would it be?"	Risk, in the client's words, not the bank's [S825].
"Where are you and your family resident, and do you expect that to change?"	In 2026 this is the UK question: the April 2025 regime, the IHT tail, the Budget on 28 October [S826][S775].
"What have we not asked you yet?"	The close that earns a second meeting [S825].

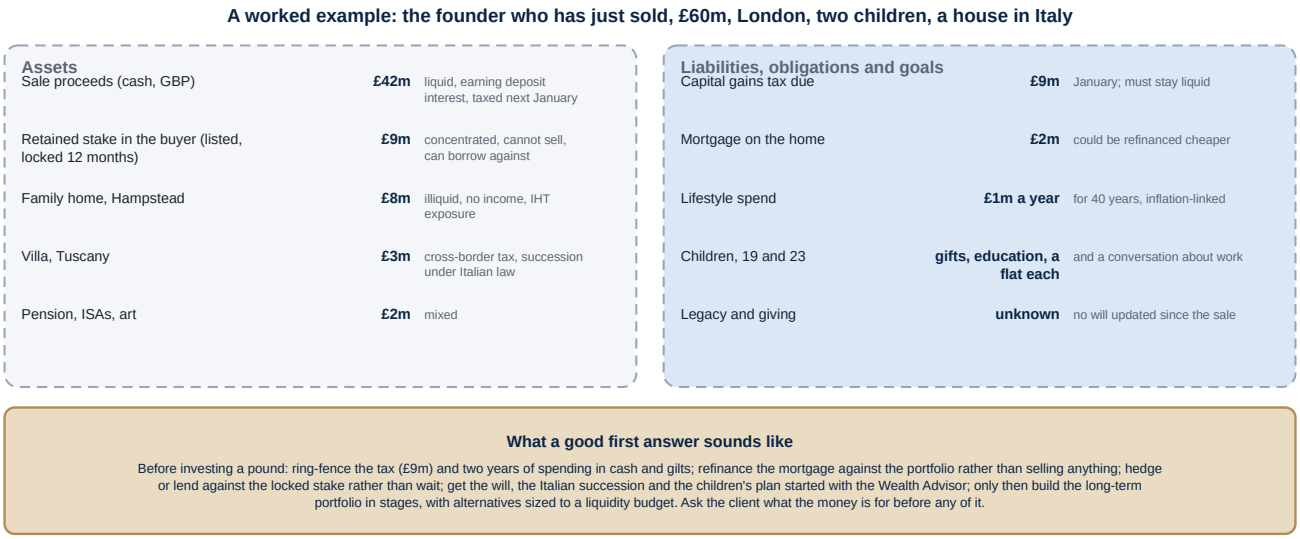

Figure 10. A worked example of the kind of case a scenario uses. Figures invented for illustration; the logic follows the bank's Private Business Advisory and concentrated-stock pages [S810][S809][S826].

If the scenario contains	Say this, and name the seat
A founder who has just sold, or is about to	Ring-fence tax and two years of spending; refinance rather than sell; start the will and succession; invest in stages. Pre-sale: the Private Business Advisory playbook, 18 to 24 months early. Seats: Wealth Advisor, Capital Advisor, Investor [S810].
A concentrated or locked stock position	The four verbs: Borrow against it, Hedge it, Monetize it (block trade or collar-and-borrow), Give it. Seats: Capital Advisor and Investor [S809].
A family thinking of leaving the UK	Residence replaced domicile in April 2025; a four-year regime only for those non-resident ten prior years; an IHT tail of up to ten years after leaving; pensions inside IHT from April 2027. Hand the tax to the Wealth Advisor; never give tax advice yourself [S826][S775].
A sports or trophy asset	The bank lends against personal assets such as art to meet league rules; ten of the last fifteen major team deals; more than $10bn financed since 2021. Seat: Capital Advisor, with the sports group [S812].

Children, a reluctant heir, a charity	Family governance, next-gen programmes, the Philanthropy Centre; ask what the family wants the money to do for the people, not the people for the money. Seat: Wealth Advisor and the Advice Lab [S805][S819].
An investment request ("put it all in AI stocks" or "I want 10% income")	Translate into goals and horizons, then Entrust/Engage/Execute; a diversified core; alternatives sized to a liquidity budget. The house view is a tool, not the answer. Seat: Investor [S803][S833].

IN THE ROOM, DO NOT

Open with a product. Talk about markets before the client has said what the money is for. Give tax advice (say "that is a Wealth Advisor question; here is what I would want them to look at"). Dominate the table: the assessors are watching whether you bring in the quiet person. Invent numbers: say "roughly" and give a range. Forget the human: a founder who has sold has lost a job as well as gained a fortune.

Rankings	Global Finance World's Best Private Bank seven years running (2026 edition); Euromoney 2026 World's Best for Digital and Alternatives, Europe's Best International Private Bank; DBS took Euromoney's overall title and Deutsche the UK international award [S768][S766][S767][S902]

PART 3 · ADVANCED

Strategy, its tensions, and what is happening this month

The material almost no candidate will have. It is where your questions come from.

The strategy, in the leaders' own words

AWM's stated ambition is "a path to $10 trillion" of client assets, built on seven investments: active management, active ETFs, alternatives, workplace, Private Bank advisors, personalisation, and technology and AI. The Private Bank's share of that plan is to go from about $3tn of client assets to $5tn by growing advisors, growing alternatives, and growing abroad [S831] [S901].

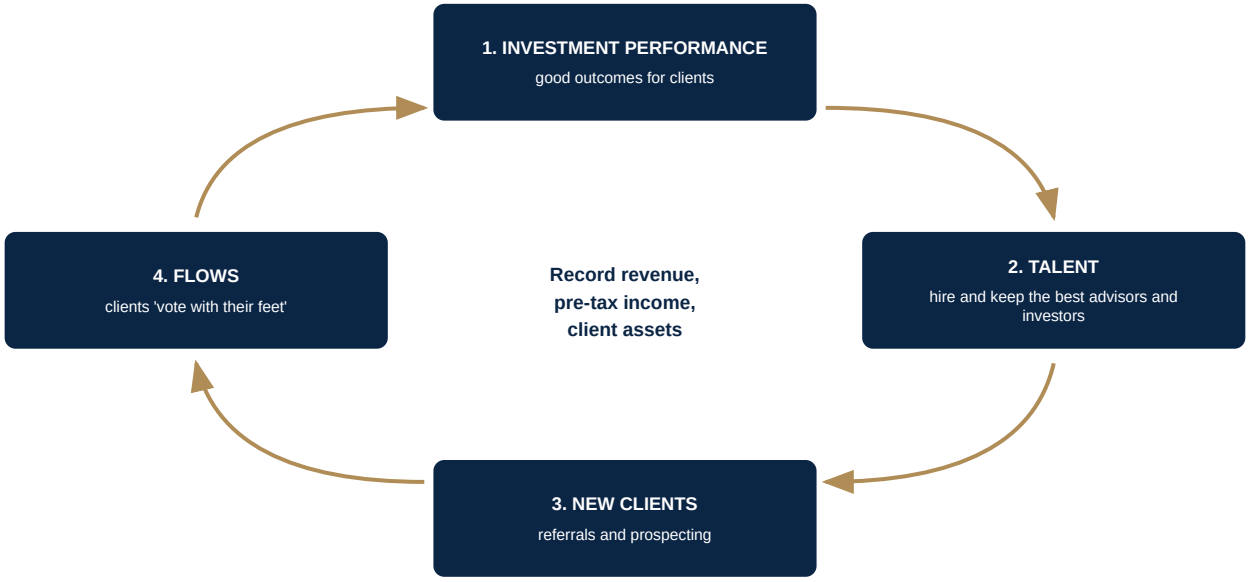

Figure 11. Erdoes' four ingredients for growth (performance, talent, new clients, flows) drawn as the loop they are. A new banker sits in 'talent' and is measured on 'new clients' and 'flows' [S901].

Initiative	The facts	The quote
Grow advisors, grow your own	2,200 advisors in 2010, 2,500 in 2020, 4,100 in 2025: 1% a year for a decade, then 11% a year. Revenue per banker up 15% over the same five years. Half of new advisors are home-grown; training hours tripled since 2019; AI role plays up 150%; cost per advisor trained down 27%. Hiring will "normalize later this decade" [S815] [S901].	"This isn't the brokerage business model... We don't buy books of business. We seed books of business." (Erdoes, 2022 Investor Day) [S901]
Europe and the international build	"The largest U.S. bank in the high-net-worth-plus segment internationally", double-digit growth where it leads, share "below 1%" in some markets. IPB from >1,000 to ~1,900 RMs; three CEO-like region heads; Munich, Hamburg, Berlin, Edinburgh, Glasgow; Swiss assets to double by 2030; Middle East to ~500 staff [S815] [S705] [S732] [S739].	"In terms of where the biggest opportunity is to grow market share, it's very much within the European franchise." (Tejpaul) [S705]

Alternatives for private clients	From ~$40bn in 2010 to >$200bn, goal to double in five years; an 18-person structuring team; an evergreen shelf across PE, credit and real assets; "Managed evergreen alternatives" discretionary portfolios launched 2025; a pacing and liquidity tool; on 15 September 2026 JPMAM launched two more evergreens for EMEA wealth clients, JPMF (private equity) and JCRED (private credit) [S833][S765].	"If they can't figure out how it fits in the framework of a portfolio, you've lost the game." (Kallergis Rowland) [S833]
AI for advisors, not instead of them	Connect Coach: 25 agents, a million insights, ~17,000 users; information found "up to 95% faster"; gross sales +20% partly attributed; advisors expected to grow rosters by up to 50% in three to five years; "long-running autonomous agents" due in 2026. Boundary: the bank "deliberately avoids automated portfolio construction or personalised investment advice" client-side [S815][S834][S756][S830].	"We constantly strive to make every adviser operate like our best and to make every client feel like our only one." (Frame) [S819]. "AI won't replace relationships." (Tejpaul) [S704]
The uniform global model	Same five-seat team, platform and credit process in every city; the same morning meeting worldwide; booking centres London, Luxembourg, Switzerland [S815][S704].	"We believe we operate the only private bank in the industry with a uniform business model globally." (Erdoes) [S815]
The affluent layer below	Nutmeg became J.P. Morgan Personal Investing in November 2025, inside the Chase UK app, with a relationship manager above £250,000; assets from £3.5bn to >£8.5bn; Chase UK has >2.5m customers and >£25bn of balances. The UK version of "Bank with Chase, Invest with J.P. Morgan" [S835][S789].	"There are 2,000 private banking clients that walk into those [Chase] branches every day." (Erdoes, on the US) [S575]
The balance sheet as product	$50bn committed to direct lending alongside the investment bank (Feb 2025); "the largest lending business in the private banking space"; sports: ten of the last fifteen major deals [S572][S901][S812].	"We serve clients through thick or thin." (Dimon, 13 Oct 2026) [S752]

The tensions a thoughtful candidate can see

A strategy is a set of bets, and every bet has a cost. These are the six the senior leaders are managing right now. Each is also a question (Part 4).

Tension	The two sides
Advisor growth against productivity	Hiring at 11% a year while revenue per banker still rises 15% is unusual; expenses were up 14% in Q3 on "continued growth in private banking advisor teams". The firm itself says hiring will normalise later this decade. The question is what a new banker's first book looks like when the firm has already hired 1,600 since 2020 [S751][S815].
Alternatives against liquidity	Half of the largest clients' assets are in private markets and evergreens are the fastest-growing wrapper. 2026 was the year the wrapper's 5% quarterly cap bound at Blue Owl (Q1 requests 22% and 41% at its two wealth funds; Q3 still 17% and 39%), Blackstone's BCRED (over the cap three quarters running), Apollo, Ares, HPS and Partners Group, which replaced its CEO. The bank's own strategists called gates "prudent tools" and "simply a feature of the vehicles' structure" and told clients to keep private credit at about 15% of a private-markets allocation. Then it launched two more evergreens in September [S798][S576][S577][S765].
AI against the relationship	Coach is meant to let a banker cover 50% more clients. The bank's own line is "digitally enabled, not digital only", and Tejpaul's headline is "AI won't replace relationships". The risk is subtle: if every banker's talking points come from the same engine, what is the banker's own judgement worth to the client? [S830][S704][S834]

The UK as home against the UK as tax risk	London is the International Private Bank's headquarters and the firm plans a £3bn tower, "subject to a continuing positive business environment". The non-dom regime ended in April 2025; 30% of advisers think more than a quarter of former non-doms have left, to the Gulf and Italy; a third of £250k+ investors say they are considering emigrating; the Budget on 28 October is Chancellor Healey's first, with a £35bn gap, a mansion-tax threshold cut mooted and pensions entering IHT in April 2027. Dimon says the UK bank tax is the highest in the world. The bank's answer has been "onshore, multi-hub": Manchester, Edinburgh, Glasgow [S741][S778][S779][S775][S786][S758].
Europe's low share against Europe's cost	Share "below 1%" in some markets is a runway only if the cost of building share is paid for years before the fees arrive. Tejpaul's three region heads, the German offices and the 1,900-RM ambition are that bet; EMEA revenue growing 14% while advisers grow 9% says it is working so far [S815][S705].
Succession at the top	Dimon, 70, named Doug Petno and Troy Rohrbaugh co-presidents in June 2026; Marianne Lake retired; Erdoes, CEO of AWM since 2009, was reported to be no longer a candidate; Frame has been Global CEO of the Private Bank for fifteen months. The business is run on long relationships, and its own leadership is in transition [S900][S702].

What is happening right now: the month to 15 October 2026

Date	What happened, and the line to use
16 Sep	The Fed raised rates to 3.75 to 4.00%, its first hike since 2023, under Chair Warsh; the dots imply one more this year [S790].
17 Sep	The Bank of England held Bank Rate at 3.75% by six votes to three, cut quantitative tightening to £46bn and paused gilt sales to April 2027; August CPI 3.1%, with the Bank warning of about 4% in early 2027 [S780].
15 Sep	JPMAM launched JPMF and JCRED, two evergreen private-markets funds for EMEA wealth clients, through Luxembourg Part II structures [S765].
1 Oct	Nuveen completed its purchase of Schroders; Schroders Wealth, run by former J.P. Morgan UK head Oliver Gregson, stays as Cazenove in the UK. The Private Bank's Q3 house view, "The road to year end": the Fed has hiked once, the team expects about two more; the S&P 500 forward multiple has compressed from 22 to about 19, a 5% earnings yield roughly equal to the ten-year Treasury; core bonds and 5%-plus munis attractive; the Iran conflict the key three-month driver [S784][S773].
2 Oct	Blue Owl's Q3 tenders: $4.2bn requested across its two wealth funds, 16.8% and 39% of shares, both paid at the 5% cap; requests down from a $5.4bn Q1 record. Evercore's line: the slowdown in new subscriptions is the longer issue [S798].
6 Oct	Dimon in London for the firm's Tech Stars conference: a windfall tax on domestic banks "lacks principle"; the UK has "the highest tax rate for banks probably in the world". The S&P 500 set a record above 7,800. Maya Prabhu named Head of Wealth Advisory and Family Governance for Asia. Paramount Skydance reported to have closed its $110bn purchase of Warner Bros. Discovery [S786][S793][S711][S799].
8 Oct	Cembalest's Eye on the Market, "Califoreboding": 42 AI-linked stocks are 67% of the S&P 500's price return and 81% of its capex and R&D growth since January 2024; ten-year yields "blow through" the Treasury's line; private-credit stress runs at about 5% by one measure and 15% by JPMAM's own BDC analysis, with actual write-offs 1 to 2% [S770][S771].
9 Oct	The ten-year gilt hit 5.51%, its highest since 2007; the market prices a near-certain Bank of England hike on 5 November, Bailey calling it "increasingly difficult to avoid if the energy shock persists" [S781].
13 Oct	JPMorgan Chase Q3: revenue $50.9bn, net income $15.3bn, EPS $5.57 against a $5.86 consensus (a $658m securities loss); AWM revenue +14%, Private Bank +16%, $263bn inflows; Dimon: "some of the credit terms have gotten a little bit loose"; Barnum: the firm's AI exposure is "still quite modest". Tanker attacks in the Strait of Hormuz, largely closed since March, surged to twelve in a week; Brent about $104 [S750][S752][S799][S796].
14 Oct	US CPI 3.7% (core 2.6%): the S&P 500 fell 1.1% to 7,719 and the Nasdaq 1.9%, its worst day since July; the FTSE 100 rose 0.7% to 10,725 (about +8% this year); the dollar at an eighteen-month high; gold about $4,150 [S791][S792][S794][S796].

15 Oct	Korea's Kospi fell 7.6% and the Nikkei 4.9% on AI-funding and debt worries; ten-year Treasuries back to about 5.08%, gilts about 5.36%; sterling $1.32. Spear's: nearly one in three wealthy Britons say they are considering leaving [S796] [S781] [S779].
19 Oct	Your event.
28 Oct	Autumn Budget, Chancellor John Healey's first (Burnham became Prime Minister on 20 July). No rise in income tax, NI or VAT promised; about £35bn to find; CGT equalisation reportedly ruled out; mansion-tax threshold cut to £1.5m from 2028 mooted; a wealth tax "off the agenda for now" [S775] [S776] [S777].
5 Nov	Bank of England decision; a hike is priced [S781].

THREE MARKET VIEWS WITH A "SO WHAT" FOR A UK CLIENT

Rates. "Both central banks are hiking into an oil shock. For a client that means cash finally pays and the long end is dangerous: gilts at 2007 highs are an opportunity for a liquidity bucket and a reason to keep duration short." AI concentration. "Cembalest's number is that 42 stocks are two-thirds of the S&P's return. For a founder whose sale proceeds went into an index fund, that is a concentration they did not choose; the question is whether to diversify into the parts of the market the AI trade ignored." Private markets. "Evergreens worked as designed this year and still disappointed people, because 5% a quarter was sold as liquidity. The lesson for a client is sizing: nothing needed in the next two years belongs behind a gate, and the manager matters more than the yield." [S773] [S770] [S798] [S577]

The competitors in London, one line each

House	Scale and what it says it is best at	How J.P. Morgan positions against it
UBS	$4.94tn invested assets globally; UK presence since 1999 with "over 120 advisors... over 15,000 clients"; "liquidity, longevity and legacy"; a new UK Private Client & HNW segment from $2m launched April 2026 [S837] [S838] [S839].	Size versus one bank: UBS has the private bank but a smaller investment bank; J.P. Morgan lends more and has no side accounting between divisions.
Goldman Sachs PWM	Euromoney's World's Best for UHNW 2026; about $1.7tn client assets, 17,000 UHNW clients, average account $75m, 1,000 advisers [S840].	Very similar pitch (the investment bank's families). J.P. Morgan's edge is the balance sheet, the commercial-bank referral engine and the uniform global model.
Morgan Stanley	Reached its $10tn total client-asset target; record $148bn of net new assets in Q2 2026; lending-led growth [S837].	Mostly a US story; smaller international private bank.
Citi Private Bank	$2.69tn client assets (+15%); referrals from the institutional network; London FIG head Paul Ferry came from here [S837] [S714].	Closest structural rival internationally; J.P. Morgan's AWM margin and ROE are far higher.
HSBC Global Private Banking	Private-bank invested assets about $458bn within $960bn of wealth assets; "one bank"; a new global head of family offices in September 2026 [S841].	Asia and the Middle East strength; UK wealth job cuts reported.
Barclays Private Bank	£124bn invested assets; discretionary and selective private markets [S842].	UK domestic franchise; smaller abroad.
Coutts (NatWest)	£58.5bn plus the £2.7bn Evelyn Partners acquisition completed 30 June 2026, about £128bn combined; hired Shona Baijal from UBS in June [S843] [S783] [S782].	The "family bank" and sterling current-account role J.P. Morgan does not play.
Schroders Wealth / Cazenove	£121bn; Nuveen's acquisition completed 1 October 2026; CEO Oliver Gregson, J.P. Morgan's former UK head [S844] [S784] [S764].	Discretionary and charities; now US-owned.

Rothschild & Co, Lombard Odier, Pictet, Julius Baer	Rothschild "more than 15,000 families"; Lombard Odier a record CHF239bn; Pictet about CHF810bn, Julius Baer about CHF547bn (ranking-site figures, low confidence) [S845][S846][S847].	Partnership model, continuity, discretion; no balance sheet of J.P. Morgan's scale.
Multi-family offices and independents	Pitch fiduciary independence and an "air traffic controller" role for $25m to $250m families [S848].	J.P. Morgan's answer is 23 Wall for the largest and the Institutional Wealth Group in London.

Questions to ask, by who is in front of you, and how to introduce yourself

Each question comes with why it is a good one and what to listen for. Pick three. Write them in the notebook before you go in.

Your thirty-second introduction

SAY THIS, ADJUSTED TO THE PERSON

"Janak Chohan, penultimate-year Economics at UEA. I spent this summer at Pictet Asset Management in client servicing and onboarding, mostly on due-diligence questionnaires from distributors, which is where I got interested in how private-markets funds are sold to wealthy clients and what happened to evergreens this year. Before that a placement year at Box in client operations and a spring week on Goldman's trading floor. I have applied for the Advisor internship here. What I am trying to understand today is [one thing: how a new banker builds a book / how the team decides who leads a client / what the scenario taught you when you did it]."

It names three firms, one real theme and one honest question in under thirty seconds, and it tells them you have applied. Vary the last sentence by host. Never ask a question whose answer is on the website; ask the question the website raises.

For a senior leader

Question	Why it lands, and what to listen for
"Adam Tejpaul described a shift from an offshore, London-centric model to onshore, multi-hub, with Manchester, Edinburgh and Glasgow. What does a client in Manchester get from a Manchester banker that they did not get from London?"	Shows you read the Euromoney interview. Listen for: proximity to regional entrepreneurs, referrals from the commercial bank's regional offices, the cost of a London hire versus a regional one [S705][S758].
"The firm says advisor hiring will normalise later this decade after growing 11% a year. What changes in how a new banker is given a book when the hiring wave is over?"	Shows you read the Erdoes letter and understood the economics of "seeded books". Listen for: internal referrals, team splits, the Investor track as the alternative route [S815][S901].
"With Europe named as the biggest share opportunity and the UK's tax regime changing, where is the next five years of growth in this region: UK onshore, the Continent, or the Middle East desks run from here?"	Forces a real answer about allocation. Listen for which region they personally own, and whether the Budget comes up unprompted [S705][S739][S775].
"The Private Bank's strategists wrote that gates are a feature of evergreen structures. After this year, how has the bank changed how it sizes semi-liquid funds for a client?"	The most current question in the room. Listen for: liquidity budgets, the pacing tool, manager concentration (the firm backs fewer than six direct-lending managers), and whether they mention the September launches [S576][S577][S833][S765].
"Mary Erdoes says this is the only private bank with a uniform global model. Where does the model have to bend for a UK client?"	Lets them talk about what they know best. Listen for: sterling banking, IHT and trusts, the FCA's Consumer Duty [S815][S785].

For a banker

Question	Why it lands, and what to listen for
"Where did your last three new clients come from?"	The honest version of "how do you prospect". Listen for the split between investment-bank and commercial-bank referrals, existing-client referrals and cold outreach; the firm's line is that referrals are everything [S575].
"When a founder six months post-exit sits down with you, what do you ask first, and what do you deliberately not talk about in the first meeting?"	Shows you understand discovery. Listen for "purpose of the wealth", tax ring-fencing, and the refusal to pitch products early [S804][S810].
"How do you and the Investor on your team divide a client conversation? Who leads when the client wants to talk markets?"	The team model in practice. Listen for how often the Investor is in the room, and the Entrust/Engage/Execute split [S803].
"What does Connect Coach actually change in your week? Which of its insights do you act on and which do you ignore?"	Specific, current, and it invites candour. Listen for meeting prep and call summaries versus "next best action" [S831][S834].
"What did your first two years as an analyst teach you that the training did not?"	The question junior hosts like most. Listen for KYC, pitch books, learning to listen in client meetings.

For an investor, a capital advisor or a wealth advisor

Question	Why it lands, and what to listen for
Investor: "The Q3 house view expects about two more Fed hikes and calls core bonds attractive. How does that translate into a conversation with a client who wants to stay in AI stocks that made them rich?"	Shows you read the 1 October note. Listen for concentration, the 42-stock number, and how they use the house view without hiding behind it [S773][S770].
Investor: "Half of the largest clients' assets are in alternatives. How do you pace a client into private markets when they have a large tax bill in January and gilts yield 5.4%?"	Combines the alternatives push with today's rates. Listen for the liquidity budget and the pacing tool [S833][S781].
Capital advisor: "After the First Brands and Tricolor collapses and Dimon's 'loose credit terms' remark on the Q3 call, has anything changed in how you lend against private company shares or fund interests?"	Current and precise. Listen for advance rates, the "two ways out" rule, and specialty lending against GP commitments [S752][S903][S806].
Wealth advisor: "Since the non-dom regime ended, how many of your clients left, how many stayed, and what did the ones who stayed want from you?"	The 2026 UK question. Listen for Milan, Dubai, Switzerland; the ten-year IHT tail; the Budget on 28 October [S778][S826][S775].
Wealth advisor: "What does a family-governance conversation look like when the children do not want the business?"	Shows you see the human part. Listen for next-gen programmes and the Advice Lab [S805][S819].

For the recruiting team

Question	Why it lands
"The London summer runs nine weeks with a capstone. What did last year's strongest interns do in weeks two to five that set them apart?"	Specific to the programme shape and asks for a behaviour, not a trait [S743].
"How do you decide between the Advisor track and Investment Solutions for someone who could do either?"	Shows you know there are two tracks and have thought about fit [S746][S747].
"After today, what is the next step in the 2027 process and when should I expect to hear?"	Practical, and it shows you have applied.

QUESTIONS NOT TO ASK

"What does a private banker do?" "What is the culture like?" "How much do analysts earn?" "Is the HireVue hard?" Anything about Jamie Dimon's succession, the Epstein litigation or the First Republic layoffs. Anything that starts "I read that J.P. Morgan is the biggest". Anything with a compound three-part structure; one question, then listen.

How to use the answers

Write the host's name and one line of what they said in the notebook before you move on. On Tuesday, send one short email to the recruiting address thanking them and naming one thing you learned from one named person. If a host offered a LinkedIn connection, send it the same evening with a one-line note that quotes their own point back to them. The answers you collect on Monday are also the material for the HireVue "why this bank" answer and for the final-round interviews: a candidate who can say "a banker on the UK North team told me that..." has evidence nobody else has.

The one-page cheat sheet

Fold it into the notebook. Read it on the train.

The place

Global Private Bank (David Frame, NY) → International Private Bank (Adam Tejpaul, London) → EMEA (Pablo Garnica, Madrid) → UK, CI & Ireland (Maricé Brown) / Continental Europe (Sarah Catania) / Switzerland, ME & EM (Karim Rekik). London MD team heads: Diana Robinson (Investments & Advice), Zeynep Ozturk Unlu (Institutional Wealth), Khayyam Jumani (UK North), Paul Ferry (FIG), Deepak Chander; Gillian Murray (Scotland). Specialists: Oyeleye (lending), Ottenritter and Chilvers (wealth advisory), Hempstead (alternatives), Edginton (managed solutions), Peters (strategy).

The numbers

Q3 2026 (13 Oct): firm revenue $50.9bn, net income $15.3bn. AWM revenue $6.9bn (+14%), Private Bank $3.66bn (+16%), AWM net income $1.84bn, margin 36%, ROE 45%. AUM $5.2tn, client assets $7.9tn, $263bn inflows in the quarter. FY2025: AWM revenue $24.1bn, $553bn inflows, 22nd positive year. Advisors 4,100 (from 2,500 in 2020). IPB >1,000 RMs, ambition ~1,900. Alternatives >$200bn; evergreens a fifth of it.

The vocabulary

Five seats: Banker, Investor, Capital Advisor, Wealth Advisor, Client Service. Four pillars: Wealth Planning, Investing, Borrowing, Banking. Three approaches: Entrust, Engage, Execute. Four verbs for a concentrated stock: Borrow, Hedge, Monetize, Give. One question: "What's the purpose of your wealth?" One rule: "We do not have side accounting groups... We are trying to win for the client."

The scenario

Listen first. Both sides of the balance sheet. Goals and horizons. Name the seats. Two next steps. Ring-fence tax and two years of spending; borrow rather than sell; start the will; invest in stages; alternatives to a liquidity budget. Never tax advice. Bring in the quiet person.

This month

Fed hiked to 3.75 to 4.00% (16 Sep); BoE held 3.75%, hike priced for 5 Nov; ten-year gilt 5.5%, highest since 2007; S&P 7,719 after a 1.1% fall on 3.7% CPI; FTSE 10,725 (+8% YTD); Brent $104 with Hormuz closed; gold $4,150. Budget 28 Oct, Chancellor Healey, PM Burnham. Blue Owl Q3 requests 17% and 39%, paid at 5%. JPMF and JCRED evergreens launched 15 Sep. Prabhu to Asia 6 Oct. Dimon in London 6 Oct on the bank tax.

The three questions I will ask

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

Names and one line each on the back page of the notebook.

THE THIRTY-SECOND VERSION OF THIS BANK

"Two things about this bank I cannot get elsewhere. First, how clients arrive: the investment bank sells a founder's company, the founder becomes a Private Bank client, and nobody counts the credit, which is why 95% of its top clients use other parts of the firm. Second, how bankers are made: it seeds books rather than buying them, half its advisors are home-grown, and it has gone from 2,500 to 4,100 advisors in five years while naming Europe as where it wants share. I want to be trained in that model, in London."
