The LinkedIn deep dive

What LAM posts, which themes keep coming back, what the videos are, and what they are really trying to push.

1.1 The page at a glance

159,933

followers (4 Oct 2026) [L1]

10 posts visible publicly (about 1 month) [L1]

4 / 10

posts are video clips [L1]

149 likes on the top post: the Lazard supply-side paper [L1]

"At Lazard Asset Management, we are dedicated to delivering investment solutions and creating long-term value for our clients. As a trusted partner to many of the world's leading institutions and investors..."

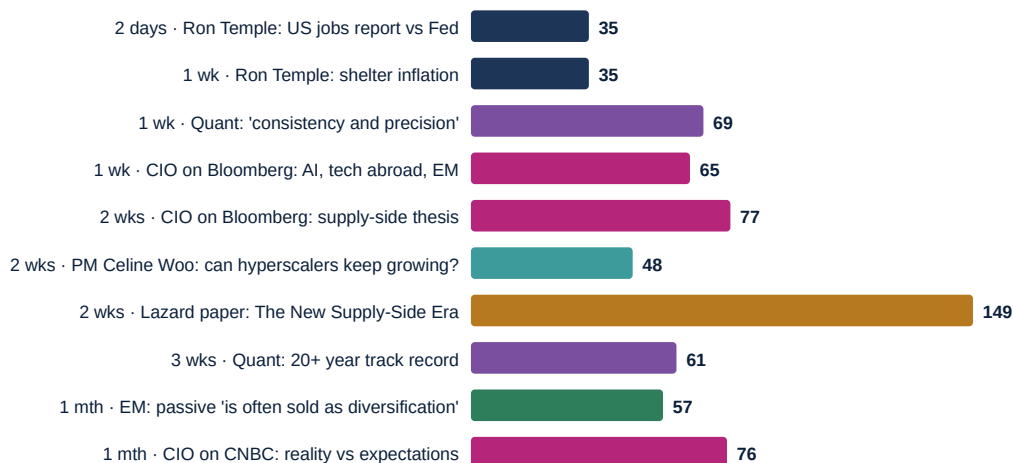

LAM LinkedIn 'About' [L1]

KEY TERM · WHY LINKEDIN MATTERS TO AN ASSET MANAGER

LinkedIn is where professional buyers (pension trustees, consultants, fund selectors) spend time. Industry research found 100% of the top 30 institutional managers use it [M51]. For LAM it is the main social channel; YouTube has been quiet for about 3 years [L8].

1.2 Every recent post

The last 10 LinkedIn posts and their likes (newest first)

Post-by-post

Source: LAM LinkedIn company page, fetched 4 Oct 2026 via a summarising tool, so post ages are approximate [L1]. Colours match the themes in 1.3.

What the posts are about: 7 of 10 sell expertise, 3 sell a product idea

CIO Eric Van Nostrand on TV

Ron Temple macro notes

Quant / Equity Advantage

Lazard 'supply-side' paper

AI and hyperscalers (PM)

Active vs passive EM

EXPERTISE + MACRO: 7 posts

PRODUCT IDEAS: 3 posts

Format: 4 videos (all TV or radio clips), 6 links to articles or pages. No paid ads, no product prices, no 'buy now'.

The content mix

Source: Author's classification of the 10 posts Inferred [L1].

PICTURE IT

If LAM were a restaurant, LinkedIn would be the chef doing interviews on TV, not the menu. It makes you trust the kitchen. The menu (fund details, performance, fees) is inside, on the website, and the waiter (the salesperson) takes the order.

1.3 The five themes

Theme 1 · The CIO as the face of the firm (3 videos)

Eric Van Nostrand became CIO in January 2026 [L9]. He appears on Bloomberg Open Interest twice and on CNBC once [L1].

"Markets don't move on good or bad news alone, they also move on the gap between reality and expectations."

LAM LinkedIn, CNBC clip, about 1 month ago [L1]

What it pushes: trust in LAM's investment thinking, and quietly, EM: one clip covers "the tech sector's upside abroad" and LAM's "approach to constructing emerging markets portfolios" [L1].

Theme 2 · Quant / Equity Advantage (2 posts): the main product push

"Quantitative investing, built on consistency and precision. Our quantitative investment team doesn't rely on off-the-shelf factors, they start with rigorous research to develop proprietary definitions of value, growth, quality, and sentiment."

LAM LinkedIn, about 1 week ago [L1]

"For more than 20 years, our quantitative investment team's proprietary process... has delivered consistent returns in changing market environments while minimizing the impact of macro volatility."

LAM LinkedIn, about 3 weeks ago [L1]

What it pushes: the fastest-growing product, which doubled to about $50bn [N18], timed around the Europe ex-UK Equity Advantage launch on 30 Sep 2026 [N29] Inferred. Both posts link to the same quant page [L1].

Theme 3 · Emerging markets: active beats passive (1 post)

"Passive emerging markets exposure is often sold as diversification. The numbers tell a different story."

LAM LinkedIn, about 1 month ago [L1]

The numbers behind it: a passive EM fund holds "12.5%" in one stock (TSMC) and "32.4%" in its top 10 [L6]. The linked piece is likely "Technology's Outsized Role in Passive Allocations to Emerging Markets Equities" (25 Aug 2026) [L7] Inferred. What it pushes: paying an active EM manager rather than an index fund.

Theme 4 · AI and the hyperscalers (1 video)

Portfolio Manager Celine Woo on Bloomberg Radio: "can hyperscalers sustain their current growth levels through the current decade?" Her point: "even the most bullish investors failed to anticipate the current levels of AI-related growth" [L1]. AI also runs through the CIO clips and the EM Monitor ("Can the AI Story Be Written Without EM?") [M14].

Theme 5 · Big-idea thought leadership (3 posts)

Two weekly Behind the Headlines notes from Chief Market Strategist Ron Temple (US jobs, shelter inflation) [L1], and the most-liked post: Lazard's paper "The New Supply-Side Era: The O-Ring Meets Geopolitics" by Peter Orszag, Eric Van Nostrand, Noah Barbieri and Layla McDermott, launched with the London School of Economics in September 2026 [L3][L4][L5].

"modern economic volatility increasingly emanates from the supply side."

Lazard post shared by LAM [L1]

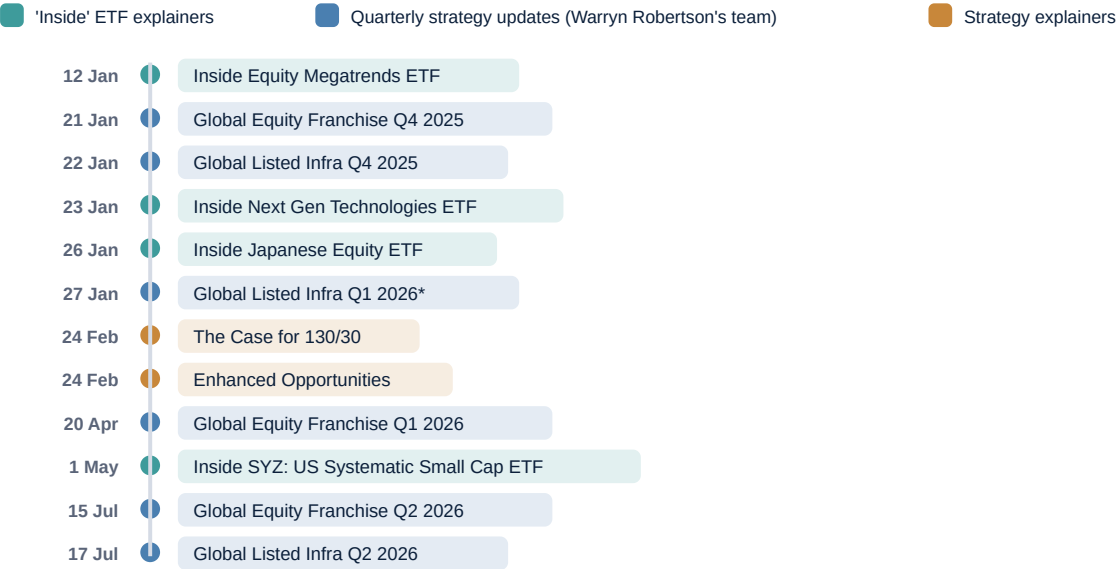

Why it matters: the paper is a Lazard-wide idea (CEO + CIO) that LAM then uses on TV. It shows the advisory side and the asset manager sharing one brand voice Inferred.

1.4 The videos

There are two quite different kinds of video:

Where	What	Purpose
LinkedIn	Clips of LAM people interviewed on Bloomberg TV, Bloomberg Radio and CNBC [L1]	Earned media: free, credible, builds trust
LAM website	Product videos made by LAM: quarterly strategy updates and 'Inside...' ETF explainers [L2]	Explains a specific fund to clients who are already interested

LAM website videos in 2026: three kinds

2026 video timeline

Source: LAM US 'View All Insights', fetched 4 Oct 2026 [L2]. *The site dates the GLI Q1 2026 video 27 Jan, which looks like a labelling error; check before quoting.

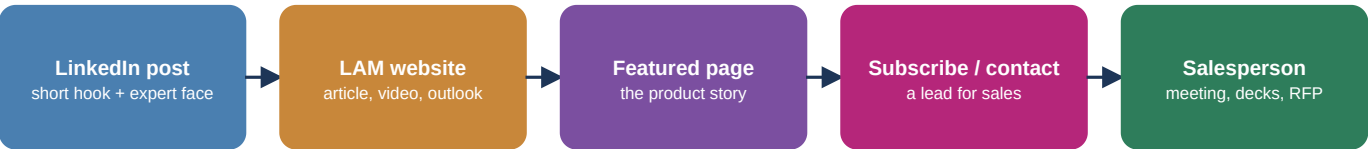

KEY TERM · THE QUARTERLY RHYTHM

Warryn Robertson's team (Global Listed Infrastructure and Global Equity Franchise) publishes a video every quarter [L2]. This is the same quarter-end cycle as your JD line 'Update quarter-end presentations for portfolio managers and sales representatives' [N1].

The burst of four "Inside" ETF videos in January to May 2026 [L2] supports the US active ETF push ("Power Your Portfolio") [M21].

1.5 What they are really trying to push

How LinkedIn fits the bigger machine

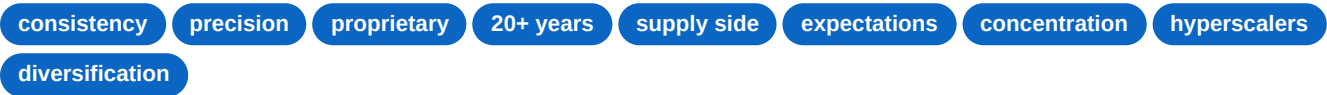

LinkedIn sells trust; the website and salespeople sell the product.

Example: the quant post links to the 'Quantitative Investing Done Differently' page.

LinkedIn in the funnel

SAY THIS

"Your LinkedIn sells expertise more than products. Seven of the last ten posts are your CIO, Ron Temple or a portfolio manager explaining markets, and the product posts focus on quant, with words like 'consistency' and 'precision'. That fits the Equity Advantage Europe launch for model-portfolio buyers who want a predictable style."

YOUR TURN

Ask: "How does Central Marketing Services decide which content becomes video, like the quarterly strategy updates, and does LinkedIn engagement feed into the sales team's leads?"

CHECK BEFORE YOU QUOTE

LinkedIn shows only about a month publicly, and the tool used summarises, so quotes may be slightly paraphrased. Check the live page before quoting word for word. One CIO post mentions a 'Federal Reserve Board rate hike'; check the news before repeating that as fact.

PART 2

How LAM's strategy is different

The industry is splitting in two. Here is where LAM stands, compared with BlackRock, Schroders, AllianceBernstein and the rest.

2.1 LAM's strategy in one sentence

LAM is choosing to stay a high-conviction active specialist in markets where skill still pays (emerging markets, international equity, quant, listed infrastructure), charging a premium fee for it, while adding new ways to buy it (active ETFs) and small private-markets partnerships.

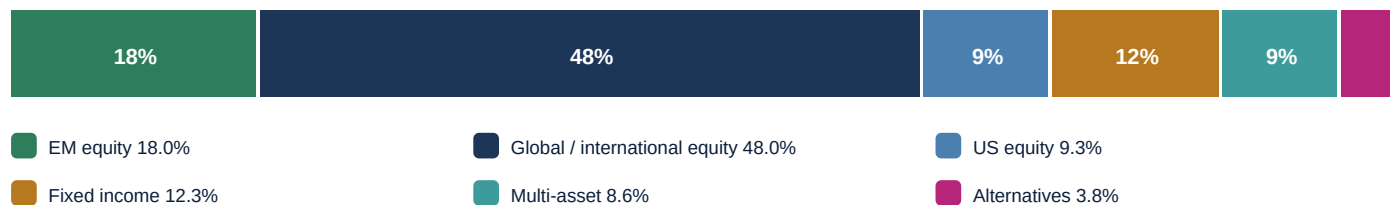

"We compete based on the quality and breadth of our products and innovative solutions we offer, which are derived from our objectivity, differentiated insights and fundamental research orientation."

Lazard 10-K, FY2025, on how LAM competes [P2]

"Active management plays a particularly valuable role where information is imperfect and technology can be applied to generate excess returns, including quantitatively driven strategies, emerging markets, and customized solutions."

Peter Orszag, Lazard CEO, Q4 2025 call [P4]

What LAM manages: $284.65bn at 30 June 2026, by asset class

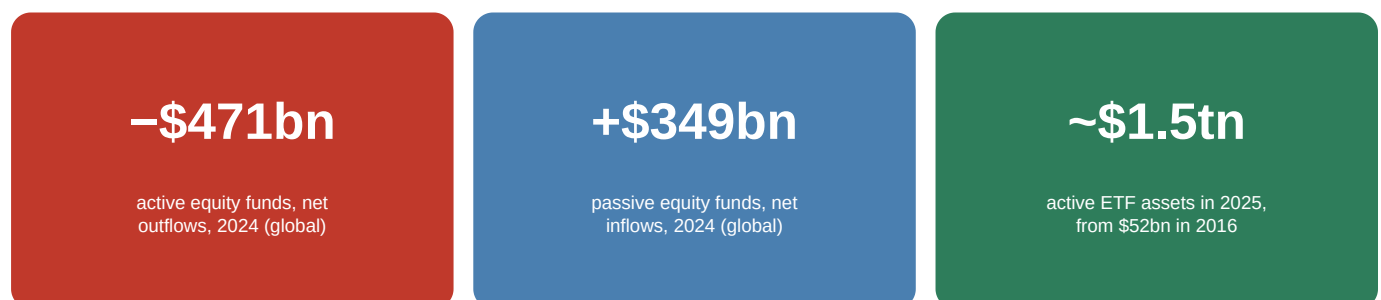

About 75% is equity, two-thirds is non-US equity, and alternatives are under 4%.

The product mix

Source: Q2 2026 results [P1]; percentages are the author's arithmetic.

2.2 The industry squeeze

The squeeze, in three numbers

Active stock-picking is losing money to cheap index funds, but active ETFs are booming.

Why strategy matters now

Source: McKinsey, Asset management 2025 [P19]; Morningstar, Jan 2026 [P21].

In the US, passive funds passed "over 55% of net assets" at the end of 2025 [P21]. UK operating margins "fell to a new low of 18%, down from 31% in 2019" [P20]. McKinsey's verdict: "Firms dependent on active equity" are structurally losing money, and the winners have proprietary distribution, giant low-cost platforms or large alternatives businesses [P19]. Its blunt summary: "the rush to partner, buy, or be bought" [P19].

KEY TERM · PASSIVE VS ACTIVE

A passive (index) fund just copies a market index, so it is very cheap. An active fund pays experts to pick investments, so it costs more and must beat the index to justify the fee. LAM is 100% active.

2.3 Three paths, and LAM's choice

Three ways asset managers are answering the industry squeeze

LAM's choice: the specialist path, plus new wrappers (active ETFs) and small private-markets partnerships.

Three strategic paths

Source: Author's framework Inferred built on McKinsey's winner types [P19] and each firm's latest results [P23]-[P38].

How big LAM is next to the giants

Source: BlackRock [P35]; Nuveen/Schroders [P24]; Invesco [P36]; T. Rowe [P33]; AB [P31]; LAM [P1]. BlackRock is about 54 times LAM's size (author's arithmetic).

2.4 Peer by peer

Firm	Size	Their big bet	How LAM differs
BlackRock	$15.3tn [P35]	'a leading public markets manager, a scaled private markets platform, and a global technology company' [P35]; iShares over $6tn	No index funds; can't buy private markets on that scale; competes with niche skill instead Inferred
Schroders (now Nuveen)	£867.8bn; combined ~$2.6tn [P23][P24]	Cost cuts, then sold to Nuveen; delisted 1 Oct 2026 [P24]	Schroders chose 'be bought'. LAM's backstop is its Lazard parent Inferred
aberdeen	£579.4bn AUMA [P26]	Its own UK investing platform, interactive investor (record £6.8bn H1 inflows) [P26]	LAM owns no platform; it sells through other people's Inferred
M&G	£387bn AUMA [P27]	Insurance balance sheet + £83bn private markets; Daiichi Life partnership [P27]	No in-house insurance money to invest Inferred
Jupiter	£73.7bn [P28]	UK retail funds; growth by acquiring CCLA [P28][P29]	LAM is global and institutional; Jupiter is UK retail Inferred
Ninety One	£171.8bn [P30]	EM recovery + partnerships (Sanlam £18.3bn) [P30]	Closest EM rival. LAM's EM growth (+54.6%) was mostly organic [P1]
AllianceBernstein	$905.5bn [P31]	Private markets (~$91bn), wealth, active ETFs [P31][P32]	Hogbin's old firm: a template for where LAM may head, at 3x the size Inferred
T. Rowe Price	$1.9tn [P33]	34 ETFs ($30bn); Goldman Sachs private-markets alliance [P34]	Same active-equity pressure; LAM is more international and institutional Inferred
Amundi	€2,581bn [P38]	ETF platform over €400bn; bank distribution [P38]	Scale and distribution player; LAM is a specialist Inferred

CHECK BEFORE YOU QUOTE

Fidelity International is left out: no reliable 2026 primary source was found. Sizes use different dates, currencies and definitions (AUM vs AUMA), so compare rough scale only. AB's private-markets figure and Jupiter's CCLA deal come from search results only.

2.5 What makes LAM different

What makes LAM different: six edges

Six edges

Source: LAM pages and filings [P2][P12][P13][P14][P17][P18]; Lazard CL [P10]; Q2 2026 call [P8].

1 · The parent is an advisory firm

FACT	Lazard is 'the preeminent financial advisory and asset management firm' [P1]. Advisory earned $1.8bn vs Asset Management $1.2bn in 2025 [P4].
LAZARD CL	Lazard is buying Campbell Lutyens to form Lazard CL, a third business: 'Over $190 billion of capital raised for clients over the past two years' [P10]. It sits outside LAM.
SO WHAT	Lazard's big private-markets bet is on the advisory side; LAM adds small partnerships (Elaia, Arini) [P3][P11] Inferred .

2 · Quant with a human touch

FACT	'Model-Driven, Human Touch: Human analysis of all trades accounts for information that models may not capture.' [P13]
GROWTH	'more than doubled to $50 billion in assets under management in the past year' (CFO Tracy Farr) [P8]
SO WHAT	Quant is LAM's answer to passive: cheaper to run than stock-picking, more predictable for model portfolios, but still active Inferred .

3 · Deep emerging markets

FACT	'35+ Years of Investing in EM', '60+ Investment Professionals', '$56B Assets Under Management' [P12]
GROWTH	EM equity AUM +54.6% in a year [P1]
SO WHAT	EM is where active managers argue they have an edge: less efficient markets and a concentrated index Inferred .

4 · Niche specialist teams

LISTED INFRA	'at the forefront of listed infrastructure investing for more than 20 years' [P14]
GLOBAL EQUITY FRANCHISE	On Hargreaves Lansdown's Wealth Shortlist since 16 Jan 2025 [P18]
RATHMORE	Convertible arbitrage hedge strategy, track record from 2007 [P17]

5 · No passive; active ETFs instead

FACT	LAM offers no index funds; 'low-cost passive' is what competitors offer [P2]
ETFs	US active ETFs: 'surpassed $1 billion... already doubled to $2 billion in July' [P8]
EUROPE	Lazard 2030 says 'including in Europe' [P3]. No European LAM active ETF found yet as of 4 Oct 2026; Schroders already has $3.5bn there [P23]

6 · A platform with boutiques

FACT	New CIO role (Jan 2026): 'Portfolio managers will report to the CIO but remain responsible for the investment decisions in their portfolios.' [P5]
WHY	Hogbin: 'strengthen analytical rigor, build greater collaboration across teams, and enhance the consistency of our process' [P5]
SO WHAT	LAM is moving from loose boutiques toward a joined-up platform, while PMs keep autonomy Inferred .

2.6 Hogbin's plan

"The second is really around growing. The most important thing we can do there is to scale our existing products... But then there's secondly a lot of white space around us, whether that's in traditional markets, private, or our wealth channel."

Chris Hogbin, LAM CEO, Q4 2025 call [P4]

His three priorities: strong investment performance, growth (scale existing products first), and efficiency, including "integrating AI" [P4]. Lazard 2030 adds: active ETFs "including in Europe", wealth offerings, "particular emphasis on the third-party distribution market" and margin expansion [P3].

2.7 The honest weaknesses

Weakness	Evidence
Years of outflows	Net flows −$35.7bn in FY2024 and −$18.1bn in FY2025 [P9]
One client can hurt a lot	Q4 2025: −$19.7bn from the 'closure of a U.S. sub-advised relationship' [P4]
Lumpy flows	Q1 2026 +$9.0bn, Q2 2026 −$1.6bn [P1]
Small in private markets	Alternatives $10.8bn, under 4% of AUM [P1]
Scale	BlackRock is about 54x bigger; tech and distribution costs favour giants [P19][P35]
Fee pressure	10-K warns of 'pricing pressures' as competitors cut fees [P2]; active ETFs are priced ~15bps below mutual funds [P19]

SAY THIS

"Most of the industry is going one of two ways: get huge and cheap, or go into private markets. LAM is choosing a third path: stay a specialist where markets are less efficient, like emerging markets, international equity and quant, and earn a fee of around 44 basis points for it. The test is keeping flows steady, which is why third-party distribution and model portfolios matter so much."

PART 3

How sales & marketing won

From two years of outflows to record sales: the numbers, what changed, the wins, and what LAM does differently.

3.1 The scoreboard

$63.2bn

record gross inflows 2025 vs $50bn target [W1][W2]

+$9bn

Q1 2026: best quarter in almost 20 years [W3]

$285bn

record AUM, 30 Jun 2026 [W5]

44.6 bps

fee rate, up from 41.2 a year earlier [W3]

Gross inflows (new money won), $bn: the sales turnaround

Sales nearly doubled
Source: 10-K AUM roll-forward [W1]; target quote, Q4 2025 call [W2]. +82% is the author's arithmetic.

"We achieved record gross inflows that exceeded our target of $50 billion through increased focus and accountability in sales and distribution, along with enhancements in our research and investment platform."
Peter Orszag, Q4 2025 call, 29 Jan 2026 [W2]

Net flows (money in minus money out), $bn

Net flows turned positive
Source: 10-K [W1]; 'excluding one large U.S. sub-advised relationship, net inflows were $8.4 billion' [W59]; Q1 2026 [W3]; H1 2026 [W5].

"In Asset Management, we delivered our best first-half net inflows in nearly 20 years and reached record reported AUM, providing clear evidence of the inflection we anticipated."

Peter Orszag, 23 Jul 2026 [W5]

The 'won but not yet funded' pipeline keeps refilling

The pipeline

Source: Q4 2024 letter [W13]; Q4 2025 call [W2]; Q2 2026 call [W6].

KEY TERM · WHY THE FEE RATE MATTERS

LAM earns a percentage of what it manages. Winning $1bn of EM equity at a high fee is worth far more than $1bn of a cheap sub-advisory mandate. The pipeline is 'predominantly emerging market equities, listed infrastructure that tend to be quite healthy fees' (Hogbin) [W2]. So revenue grew faster than assets: Asset Management revenue was up 23% year on year in Q2 2026 [W6].

CHECK BEFORE YOU QUOTE

September 2026 AUM is not out yet (expected around 9-13 Oct), and Q3 results come on 22 October 2026, the day applications close [W10]. Q2 2026 (–$1.6bn) and August (–$1.8bn) were negative, so say 'about +$6bn year to date after August', not 'every month positive' [W5][W8].

3.2 What changed

What changed, 2023 to 2026

Timeline

Source: Ryan [W16]; memo [W11]; Forsyth [W17]; goals [W28]; Levavasseur [W18]; ETFs [W36]; Wosneski [W19]; Hogbin [W20]; Van Nostrand [W21]; Enders [W22]; paper [W32][W34]; launch [W39].

Step 1, the reset (2023). The Lazard 2030 memo says the then-CEO Evan Russo "restructured his leadership team, amplified marketing, and focused on bolstering collegiality", with a new structure for "enhancing ownership and accountability" [W11]. The firm also told LAM: "We should not confuse discretion with invisibility" [W11].

Step 2, accountability (end 2024 onward). This is the most important explanation. Asked what changed, Orszag said:

"There was an exercise towards the end of last year and at the beginning of this year to set goals for the teams in terms of as a very specific product and strategy level against very specific clients, what the sales and distribution goals would look like, and we've been attentive to making sure that we're hitting those goals, and it's paying off."

Peter Orszag, Q2 2025 call, 24 Jul 2025 [W28]

The 'accountability' engine Orszag described

Your JD sits inside this engine: 'Prioritise extensive potential prospect lists based on firm strengths and client needs' is step 3.

The engine

Source: Focus [W13][W30]; goals [W28]; CRM and AI tools [W48]; result [W1]; JD [W49]. Step layout is the author's Inferred.

Step 3, focus. Sales were pointed at a short list: "our Quantitative and Emerging Market equity platforms, and specialized products such as Japanese Equity and Global Listed Infrastructure" [W13]. Lazard 2030 made it policy: "aligning our investment and distribution resources with services where we have the highest conviction" [W15].

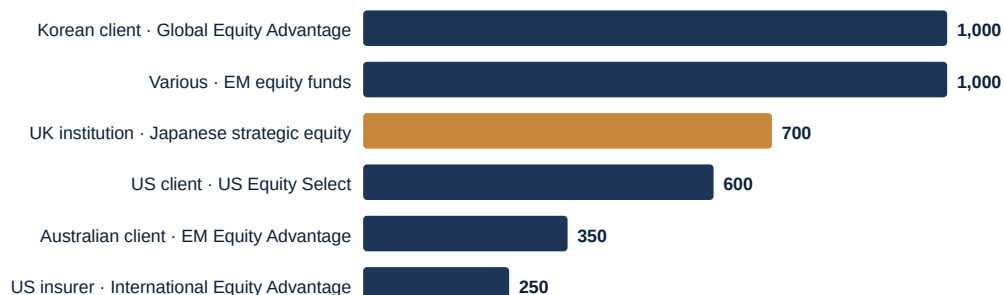

Step 4, alignment and public stretch goals. "our sales and distribution groups have clear alignment on shared goals. This cultural shift has contributed directly to results" [W14]. Orszag even welcomed doubters: "I appreciate some of the skepticism earlier in the year because it only motivates performance even more." [W28]

CHECK BEFORE YOU QUOTE

No public source describes changes to sales pay or incentives. Don't claim it. Also: the '~30% of asset management revenue from alternatives or private markets and wealth by 2030' target is confirmed in the 2023 Annual Letter [W12], so it can now be quoted (an earlier guide said not to).

3.3 The wins

Sample wins named on the Q4 2025 call, $m ('over' or 'nearly' as stated)

Named wins, Q4 2025

Source: Orszag, Q4 2025 call [W2]. Clients are not named. The UK win is highlighted.

Win	Evidence
Mid Wynd International Investment Trust (UK)	Mandate awarded 27 Jun 2023, net assets 'more than £400m' [W46]
Hargreaves Lansdown Wealth Shortlist	Global Equity Franchise added 16 Jan 2025 [W42]
Fidelity Select 50	Lazard Emerging Markets; a Tom Stevenson pick for 2026 [W43]
Hedge Fund Journal awards	Rathmore: 2026 UCITS Hedge Award for Convertible Arbitrage, plus 2023-2025 [W44]
Australia Fund Manager of the Year 2026	GLI Active ETF in the winner's slot, Infrastructure Securities (read from page formatting) [W45]
US ETF platform	$0 (Apr 2025) → $1bn (Feb 2026) → $2bn (Jul 2026) [W36][W6]
Equity Advantage	'more than doubled to $50 billion' in a year [W6]
Nordic High Yield	From €70m to over €300m by Mar 2025 [W47]

"We're seeing net inflows in Asia. We're seeing net inflows in Europe. We're seeing net inflows in the U.S."

Chris Hogbin, Q2 2026 call [W6]

3.4 What LAM's sales and marketing does differently

Seven differences

Source: Synthesised from [W2][W14][W15][W18][W19][W32][W37][W39][W51][W52]. Grouping is the author's Inferred.

1 • Specialist, product-led selling
EVIDENCE	One 'Featured' campaign hub per strategy: EM, Global Listed Infrastructure, US Small Cap, Quant, Rathmore [W57]
WHY IT WORKS	LAM puts the whole machine (content, goals, ETFs, buy-list pitches) behind a few proven strategies Inferred
2 • Thought leadership as the front door
EVIDENCE	Weekly Behind the Headlines [W51]; 'The New Supply-Side Era' paper by Orszag and Van Nostrand, launched at the LSE on 14 Sep 2026 [W32][W34]
WHY IT WORKS	Gives salespeople a reason to call a client that isn't a product pitch Inferred

3 · The Lazard brand as amplifier

EVIDENCE	'We call the resulting discipline "contextual alpha": incorporating geopolitical and regulatory factors more directly in business and economic analysis.' [W32]
WHY IT WORKS	Few asset managers sit inside an advisory firm whose CEO was a White House budget director; LAM borrows that credibility Inferred

4 · Global-local

EVIDENCE	Same Equity Advantage message through Tony Maddock (UK) and Jeremy Taylor (Spain) [W39][W40][W41]; UK homepage pushes Rathmore, US pushes ETFs [W57]
WHY IT WORKS	Global product and brand; local voice, language and emphasis Inferred

5 · Consultants as gatekeepers

EVIDENCE	10-K: 'poor reviews of our products... by such intermediaries or consultants could materially reduce our revenue' [W1]; Wosneski hired for 'positive ratings' [W19]
WHY IT WORKS	One consultant 'buy' rating opens many pension doors Inferred

6 · Selling to model portfolios

EVIDENCE	'For portfolio builders and model portfolio service providers, our Equity Advantage funds are designed to target three outcomes: consistency of relative returns, controlled risk and a predictable style profile.' (Maddock) [W39]
WHY IT WORKS	One model-portfolio win brings steady monthly money from every adviser using it Inferred

7 · New wrappers for proven strategies

EVIDENCE	EMKT was a conversion of an existing EM mutual fund into an ETF [W37]; TP Enders ran Goldman's 'first mutual-fund-to-ETF conversion' [W22]
WHY IT WORKS	Each new ETF carries a long track record from day one Inferred

3.5 Setbacks and lessons

2024 was hard: "significant outflows from active equity strategies across the industry", and LAM's international, value-tilted range was out of favour [W13]. In Q4 2025 one low-fee US sub-advised client left (–$19.7bn) [W2]. Management had flagged it a year earlier:

"the reason that about this time last year we were flagging this sub-advised account was because that was something that we knew had performance issues and challenges. And was at some risk. [...] The business is much more diversified as a result."

Peter Orszag, Q4 2025 call [W2]

Lesson	Evidence
Winning and keeping are separate jobs	Record gross sales in 2025 but net –$18.1bn because of outflows [W1]
Diversified beats concentrated	Top 10 clients fell from 32% to 24% of AUM in a year [W1]
Higher-fee clients matter more	The lost client paid 'significantly lower than our average fee rate' [W2]
Institutional flows are lumpy	'big mandates that we can win and also big mandates we can see redeemed' (Hogbin) [W6]

Your interview lines

Ready-to-say lines that tie the LinkedIn, strategy and sales story together, plus smart questions to ask.

1. LinkedIn [L1]

"Your LinkedIn sells expertise more than products. Seven of the last ten posts are the CIO, Ron Temple or a portfolio manager explaining markets, and the product posts are about quant, using words like 'consistency' and 'precision'."

2. Strategy [P1][P7][P24][P35]

"Most of the industry is either getting huge and cheap, like BlackRock or the new Nuveen-Schroders, or moving into private markets. LAM is choosing a third path: a specialist in less efficient markets, like emerging markets, international and quant, earning around 44 basis points for it."

3. Quant [P8][P13]

"Equity Advantage doubled to about $50bn in a year. Its pitch against bigger quant houses is 'Model-Driven, Human Touch': a person checks every trade."

4. EM vs Ninety One [P1][P30]

"Both have 35-year EM franchises, but LAM's EM equity grew about 55% in a year mostly organically, while Ninety One also took on an £18bn book from Sanlam."

5. The turnaround [W1][W2][W28]

"LAM nearly doubled gross inflows to a record $63bn in 2025, beating its $50bn target. Orszag credited goals set at 'a very specific product and strategy level against very specific clients'. That's where prospect lists like the ones in this internship come in."

6. The brand [W32][W34]

"The supply-side paper by Peter Orszag and Eric Van Nostrand, launched at the LSE, gives salespeople a non-product reason to call a CIO: 'contextual alpha'. Few asset managers can borrow an advisory firm's voice like that."

7. Wrappers [W36][W6][P3][P23]

"LAM is a late mover in active ETFs, but it put proven strategies into them. The US platform went from zero to $2bn in about 15 months, and Lazard 2030 says Europe is next. Schroders already has $3.5bn in European active ETFs, so that is the bar."

8. Honest risk [W2][W59][P3]

"The weakness is flow stability. One low-fee sub-advised client cost about $20bn in Q4 2025. Excluding it, 2025 was +$8.4bn. That's why third-party distribution and model portfolios matter: they bring steadier money."

4.1 Smart questions to ask them

QUESTION 1

How has the goal-setting by product and client that Peter Orszag described changed day-to-day life for the London sales team?

QUESTION 2

When LAM launches active ETFs in Europe, how will the UK team position them against Schroders and others who are already there?

QUESTION 3

How do Central Marketing Services and the sales team use content like the supply-side paper in client conversations?

QUESTION 4

Does LinkedIn or website engagement feed into the sales team's prospect lists, and how?

DON'T SAY THIS

Don't say LAM bought Campbell Lutyens (Lazard did, for its new Lazard CL business, outside LAM) [P10]. Don't say LAM has launched a European active ETF (none found as of 4 Oct 2026) [P23]. Don't say LAM runs TV adverts or changed sales pay (no evidence).

SOURCES

Sources

Every source cited in this guide. L = LinkedIn pack, P = peers pack, W = wins pack, N/M = earlier sales and marketing packs.

Confirmed = stated by a fetched source. Reported = reported by a third party or seen only in a search result. Inferred = the author's reasoning from the evidence. All accessed 3-4 October 2026.
