

PART 13

Cheat sheet

Two pages to read the night before and keep beside the camera. Method, priorities, words, numbers, dates.
Sources in [Sxx]; full table in Part 15.

The cheat sheet on one page: method, order, numbers

ANSWER IN 4 STEPS (45-75 s)

1 STEADY 0 to 5 s

"Let me check I have this right: you're asking..."

2 SORT 5 to 20 s

"Two things matter here: X, and doing it properly."

3 ACT 20 to 60 s

"First I'd..., then I'd..., and I'd tell... by..."

4 CLOSE 60 to 75 s

"So: outcome, owner, and it's on record."

Breathe out before step 1.

WHEN GOODS COLLIDE

1 Rules, integrity, the firm's name

2 Fair, equal treatment of every customer

3 The process and the record

4 Speed and the customer's convenience

"Within the rules, same for every customer, by the process, on record, then as fast as I possibly can."

Higher tier wins. Speed last.

TEN NUMBERS

£8,986m	FY2025 income, +7.1% org.
£4,799m	H1 2026 income, +8.4% org.
+11.9%	Markets H1 2026; ~40% of LSEG
$1,941trn	SwapClear notional, 2025
2,400+	FXall clients; 200+ LPs
44,000+	customers, 170+ countries
28,516	people, end 2025 (AR)
~94%	LCH stake; going >95%
50.9%	Tradeweb (economic)
$9.6tn	FX a day; UK share 37.8%

Source: FY2025 [S72]; H1 2026 [S70]; Markets ~40% [S71]; SwapClear [S301]; FXall [S340]; customers [S303]; people [S300]; LCH [S300, S121, S70]; Tradeweb [S300]; BIS Apr 2025 [S162, S163]. Protocol and order: this pack's method (Part 11).

The protocol, one line each

Steady: breathe out, restate the ask, no verdict. Sort: name the two things at stake and which tier wins. Act: two or three verbs, named owners, a time, one LSEG fact. Close: outcome, owner, record; then stop.

The never list

- Never guess a number. "I don't know, and I won't guess. What I do know is..."
- Never share or hint at another client's trading, or an issuer's pipeline.
- Never promise what you don't own: fix times, discounts, admission dates.
- Never skip, backdate or fake a control or a record. Escalate instead.
- Never give a market view or advice to a client.
- Never badmouth a past team, a rival, or an interviewer's challenge.
- Never say LSEG bundles SwapClear with Tradeweb or ForexClear with FXall: open access forbids favouring its own venues [S305].
- Never call Rachel Reeves Chancellor: John Healey is, since July 2026 [S243, S244].
- Never say LSEG owns 82.6% of LCH: about 94% [S300, S121].

Eight frame-breakers: the counter in one line

1. Interruption: "Good point. Let me take that, then finish the step I was on."
2. Contradiction: "Which part would you change?" If they're right: "I'd fix that; the rest holds because..."
3. Silence: count three. "In short, X because Y. Shall I go deeper on any part?"
4. Escalation: "That raises the stakes, not the order. I'd still do X, and tell my manager sooner."
5. Authority squeeze: "I'd help them get it done: approved route, or escalate. Not skip."
6. False choice: "I don't think those are the only two options. Keep the rule, then work hard for the client."
7. Knowledge trap: "I don't know that and won't guess. What I do know is... I'd check with..."
8. Badmouth invitation: "I'd rather talk about what I could control. What I learned was..."

Change your mind for a new fact, never for new pressure. Say which it is.

Lines to have ready

Why LSEG (30 seconds). "What draws me to LSEG is how it's built. It owns venues like the London Stock Exchange, Tradeweb and FXall, but its clearing house, LCH, has open access written into its rules: it must clear on fair, non-discriminatory terms even for rival venues, and banks still sit on its risk committee. That's why the market trusts it with over 90% of cleared interest rate swaps. Business management sits at the joins between those businesses, and that's where I want to learn." [S305, S304, S303]

Why Markets. "It's the fastest-growing division, up 11.9% in the first half of 2026 and about 40% of LSEG's revenue, and it's where the firm's trust is tested every day: in an outage, a trade break, a margin call. I want work where the numbers and the customer meet." [S70, S71]

One opinion. "Open access is LSEG's strength and its exposure. It's why banks trust LCH, but it also meant Euronext could take its clearing away, which cut Securities & Reporting revenue in 2025. I think LSEG is right to keep it, and to win with service and workflow, like FXall inside Workspace, rather than lock-in." [S301, S302] INFERRED

One question to ask. "LSEG says a large share of FXall's functionality is now in Workspace. How does the team measure whether FX clients are really moving their workflow, and would an intern work on that?" [S302]

Facts to use inside scenarios

- FX Global Code (Dec 2024): P17 last look must be disclosed; P19/P20 confidential information; P46/P48 confirm and fix breaks fast; P45 amendments controlled [S343].
- ISM: comments within 3 days (first) and 2 days (later); final docs and Form 1 by 9am one business day before; decision by Dealing Notice on RNS [S347]. Admission decided by the Exchange [S346].
- UK MAR: Art 7 inside information = precise, non-public, price-sensitive [S349]; Art 18 insider lists, kept at least 5 years [S348].
- LCH: defaulter's margin and fund, then LCH capital, then others' fund; IM at 99.7%; 9 defaults all within IM; Lehman $9trn, ~35% IM used [S351, S354].
- Three lines: business owns risk; Risk challenges; Audit assures [S300]. Speak Up: 192 reports in 2025; no retaliation [S300, S307].
- Values: Integrity, Partnership ("Our open model is integral..."), Excellence, Change [S307].

On the day

Camera at eye level, light in front. Card behind the lens: four steps, four tiers, three numbers. Water in reach. In 4, out 6, twice. Slower than feels natural. Look at the lens to close.

FIVE COMPOSURE TREES, ONE LINE EACH

Two seniors, one resource: find each deadline, try a split, else your manager decides. Skip a control: which control, approved exception? If none, escalate fast; never skip. Overheard inside information: precise, non-public, price-moving, or not sure? Stop, don't share or trade, tell Compliance today. Your error sent to a client: tell your manager within the hour, draft the correction, fix the cause. Incomplete data at deadline: reversible? Send best estimate, assumptions in bold. Not reversible? Escalate for time or a senior decision.
