How to use this pack

Plus the emergency version: what to know if you only have ten minutes

Reading routes by time available

This pack is long because it has to do several jobs at once. It teaches the industry from zero, explains Hayfin from the inside, rehearses the interview, and gives you the evidence behind every claim. You do not need to read it in order.

Time you have	What to read	What you can then do
10 minutes	The emergency page below, then the cheat sheet (Part 13).	Answer "why Hayfin", name three recent events, ask one strong question.
1 hour	Part 1 (the role), the start of Part 2 (the money flow figure), Part 12 (why Hayfin), Part 13.	Explain what PSG does on a Tuesday afternoon and why it matters to the firm.
Half a day	Parts 1 to 4, then Part 7 (news) and Part 9 (question bank).	Hold a 40-minute first round with commercial awareness and firm detail.
Two days	Everything, plus the drills in Part 11. Say the scenario answers out loud.	Handle a case exercise, a frame-breaking interviewer and a CV grill.

What this pack assumes about you

The input form for this pack left the candidate fields blank. So the pack assumes a penultimate or final year student with one 8 to 12 week internship in banking, consulting or alternatives (the SEO eligibility rule), and a starting knowledge of private credit of about 2 or 3 out of 10. It assumes you learn best from diagrams. Every term is defined the first time it appears. If you already know credit, skip Part 5.

SOURCE UNCERTAIN · READ THIS

Several facts in older material about Hayfin are now out of date. The SEO London page says Hayfin "has invested over €30 billion across more than 440 portfolio companies". Hayfin's own history page now says over €59bn across 600+ companies as of 30 June 2026 [s79]. The job description says "ten offices"; the July 2026 fund release says 13 offices [s71], and the About page lists 14 locations [s327]. Use the newest primary figure and say its date. That small habit is itself a signal to an investor relations team.

The 10-minute emergency version

Ten facts to have cold

1. What Hayfin is. A London-headquartered, European-focused private credit and alternative asset manager, founded in 2009 by Tim Flynn and Mark Tognolini, both ex-Goldman Sachs leveraged finance [S79][S282][S283]. About €40bn of assets under management (AUM) at Q2 2026 [S224].
2. Owners. Management bought the firm back from the Canadian pension fund BCI in a buyout funded by Arctos, completed 7 February 2025. Mubadala, AXA IM Prime and Samsung Life later bought minority stakes [S73][S74][S75]. Hayfin is private and independent.
3. The big news. Direct Lending Fund V (DLF V) closed on 2 July 2026 at over €15bn, more than double DLF IV (over €6bn, August 2023) [S71]. About $600m came through a rated note feeder built for insurers [S237].
4. Strategies. Direct Lending, Special Opportunities, Tactical Solutions, High Yield and Syndicated Loans with CLOs, Private Equity Solutions, plus specialist Healthcare, Maritime and Real Estate teams [S327][S328].
5. AUM mix (March 2025). Direct Lending €16.2bn, High Yield and Syndicated Loans €9.2bn, Special Opportunities €2.6bn, Tactical Solutions €2.3bn, others smaller [S305]. Read from a chart.
6. Investors. All institutional. Pensions 51%, insurers 19.5%, sovereign wealth funds 12% (March 2025) [S305]. No retail money in private credit [S227].
7. PSG. Partner Solutions Group: fundraising, investor coverage, product strategy, and reporting for funds and separately managed accounts (SMAs) [JD]. Global co-heads of client coverage: Risa Lipsky and Steve Bringardner [S285][S286].
8. New offices. Seoul opened 1 October 2026 as a dedicated investor relations office [S223]. Dubai opened January 2024 [S275]. Chicago opened November 2024 [S97].
9. What investors asked about in DLF V. PIK (interest paid in kind), technology exposure and loss rates. Consultants were more involved than in any earlier Hayfin fund [S222].
10. The market. 2026 was the year US retail private credit funds were hit by withdrawal requests far above their 5% quarterly limits. Hayfin turned its

The 30-second "why Hayfin"

SAY THIS IN THE INTERVIEW

"Hayfin is one origination platform with several doors. The same local teams can offer a company a senior loan, gap capital, or a rescue, and the workout team stands behind all of them. A 2016 Pennsylvania pension memo put it neatly: because the market sees Hayfin as both an 8% and a 15% lender, it sees more companies and gets better terms. Partner Solutions is where that mechanism gets explained, evidenced and reported to investors. DLF V raised over €15bn through five different wrappers for one strategy. I want to learn how you turn deal-level evidence into something an LP can underwrite."

Evidence: [S307] for the 8% / 15% line; [S222] for the wrappers.

Three questions to ask

1. "DLF V had more consultant involvement than any earlier Hayfin fund. How has that changed what PSG produces day to day?" [S222]
2. "Your 'Tale of Three PIKs' piece separates good, bad and fake-good PIK. Does that framework show up in quarterly LP reporting?" [S229]
3. "How does PSG use AI tools in DDQ and reporting work today, and what has to stay human?"

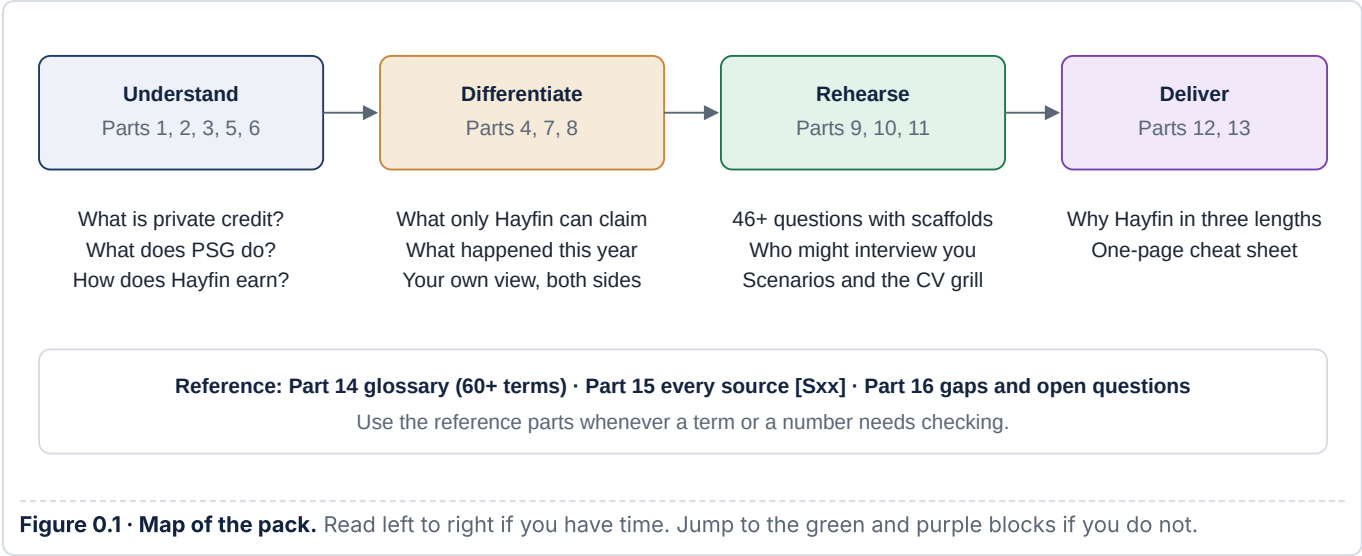

Three things never to say

DON'T SAY THIS

"Hayfin has €30bn" (stale). "Hayfin sells to retail investors" (it says it takes no retail capital in private credit [S227]). "IR is my route into the deal team" (signals you will leave). Do not name Alex Wolfman as head of PSG: he appears to have left [S296].

locked-up, institutional-only structure into a selling point [S221][S243].

How the pack is organised

PART 1

The role, decoded line by line

What a Partner Solutions intern actually does, who for, how it is judged, and who sits around you

KEY TERMS FOR THIS PART

Investor relations (IR): the team that raises money from investors and keeps them informed afterwards.

Fundraising: persuading investors to commit to a new fund. DDQ (due diligence questionnaire): a long standard list of questions an investor sends before investing. RFP (request for proposal): a formal search where an investor or consultant invites managers to answer a fixed questionnaire for a mandate.

Consultant: a firm such as Mercer or Cambridge Associates that advises pension funds on which managers to hire. SMA (separately managed account): a single-investor vehicle that follows a strategy with custom terms. Pitch book: the main presentation used to market a fund.

What the team is called, and why the name matters

Hayfin calls its investors and borrowers "partners". Its Approach page says partners "consist of both our borrowers and investors, which include public and private pension funds, sovereign wealth funds, insurance companies, endowments, financial institutions and family offices" [s28]. The investor-facing team was called "Business Development" in 2020 and 2021 and became "Partner Solutions" by March 2023 [s12] [s13][s11]. Confirmed

The new name is a description of the job Inferred. The team does not only sell a fund. It builds solutions: the same lending strategy delivered through an unlevered fund, a levered fund, an SMA, an evergreen vehicle or a rated note feeder for insurers, depending on what each partner needs [s222]. The PSG co-heads put it this way: managers must "remain disciplined in how they invest, while becoming increasingly flexible in how investors access those investments" [s94].

A SMALL ERROR IN THE JD

The JD says "Special Memorandum Accounts (SMAs)". The industry term, and Hayfin's own term, is Separately Managed Account [s25]. Use the correct phrase in interview. If it comes up, you can say lightly that you assumed SMA meant separately managed account. That shows attention to detail without scoring a point.

The JD, line by line

Every duty line has three parts below: what it involves day to day, what good looks like, and what it tells you about Hayfin.

Duty 1. "Supporting Hayfin's marketing and fundraising activities, including assisting with pitch materials, DDQ responses, and investor presentations."

Item	What it actually involves	What good looks like
Pitch materials	Updating the master pitch book and fund-specific decks each quarter: AUM, team, offices, deployment, number of borrowers, average leverage, sector mix, track record (gross and net IRR, MOIC, loss rate), case studies, terms summary. Hayfin's current themes: 40% of the DL book as sole lender, lower leverage and tighter documents in Europe, software under 6% of DL [s95][s227].	Every number ties to the latest quarter and to the same number elsewhere. Compliance footnotes present. A version log so nobody sends last quarter's deck.

DDQ responses	Pulling approved answers from the DDQ library, updating stale numbers (AUM, headcount, bios, ESG scores), routing new questions to Legal, Compliance, Risk, ESG or the deal team, then proofreading. Main templates: ILPA DDQ 2.0 (November 2021, built with private equity in mind) [S46]; AIMA modules for illiquid and closed-end private credit [S48]; PRI and SFDR questions for ESG [S25].	Fast, consistent with every other document the investor holds, and never overclaiming. A single DDQ can take 40 to 60 hours of work across teams (vendor claim) [S190].
Investor presentations	Quarterly update calls, annual meetings, Advisory Board meetings (twice a year per fund [S305]) and investor days. Hayfin's New York Investor Day in April 2026 had over 90 investors, partners and colleagues [S31]. Intern work: decks, attendee briefing notes, logistics, notes of the meeting.	A one-page brief per attendee: who they are, what they own, what they asked last time.

What it reveals about Hayfin. The pitch is built around downside protection, not headline returns. In DLF V, "LP scrutiny of downside protection" was "even deeper than in previous cycles, particularly around use of PIK, technology exposure and loss rates" [S30]. So the materials you update are answers to those three questions. Inferred

Duty 2. "Responding to ad hoc client requests."

Typical requests [Inferred from S30, S19]: exposure to a sector (software, AI-sensitive names); a look-through by country; the share of income paid in kind (PIK); a cash flow forecast for future capital calls; a currency breakdown; a tax form; a consultant's quarterly data template. The 2024 PSG intern described "responding to DDQs and RFPs, taking the minutes for meetings, creating and updating investment case study slides and developing an investment fund track record" [S15]. Confirmed

What good looks like. Acknowledge the request the same day, confirm what exactly is wanted, pull data only from the approved source, have a senior person check before anything leaves, and log it so the next request is faster. What it reveals. Hayfin's investors are large institutions with their own reporting systems. Half of AUM is pension money and almost a fifth is insurance [S305]. Insurers need data for Solvency II capital reporting; the Fund Controller role explicitly supports "Solvency II reporting" [S333].

Duty 3. "Developing case studies on investments for use in marketing and investor communications."

A case study is one or two slides on a single deal: borrower, sponsor, sector, why Hayfin won (sole lender, speed, structure), terms (senior secured, leverage, covenants), ESG angle and outcome. Public raw material in 2026 includes Condis (€305m unitranche, Spain) [S231], Hyve (fully underwritten for Hellman & Friedman) [S233], CloserStill (repeat borrower since 2018) [S220] and Juvisé (€550m refinancing) [S70].

This is the duty with the sharpest compliance edges. Know them unprompted:

- Fair, clear and not misleading. FCA COBS 4.2.1R: "A firm must ensure that a communication or a financial promotion is fair, clear and not misleading" [S49]. Confirmed
- Past performance. COBS 4.6.2R requires that past performance is not the most prominent feature, covers complete 12-month periods, states the source, warns that it "is not a reliable indicator of future results", and discloses the effect of fees if shown gross [S50]. These rules are written mainly for retail communications; Hayfin's investors are professional, so treat them as best practice and check with Compliance Inferred.
- No cherry-picking. In the US, the SEC Marketing Rule (Rule 206(4)-1) bans gross performance without net performance shown with equal prominence. A 19 March 2025 SEC staff FAQ allows gross-only figures for a single extracted deal only if the whole portfolio's gross and net performance is shown with at least equal prominence [S53][S173]. Hayfin's own published strategy updates carry this language [S330]. Confirmed
- Greenwashing. The FCA anti-greenwashing rule (ESG 4.3.1R) requires sustainability claims to be "consistent with the sustainability characteristics of the product or service" and "fair, clear and not misleading" [S52]. Hayfin trained its "Investor Relations and Partner Solutions teams" on this rule in 2024 [S25]. Confirmed

- Confidentiality. Borrower names and numbers in a case study must be public or cleared. Loan terms are usually confidential under the facility agreement Inferred.

Duty 4. "Assisting with quarterly LP reporting, including updating performance data and proofreading reports."

Hayfin's Stewardship report lists exactly what goes to each fund and SMA every quarter [S305]: a Summary of Investments and Portfolio Update ("A line-by-line track record is provided for both realised and unrealised investments", with amount invested and called, carrying value, realised proceeds, expected gross IRR at deal and fund level, deployment and repayment profile); a Portfolio Breakdown with each company's LTM EBITDA, enterprise value and leverage; a CEO Letter sent through the administrator's portal; and audited financials within 90 days of 31 December. ESG case studies are "drafted by the ESG function and overseen by the Investor Relations team" [S305]. Confirmed

KEY TERM · THE RETURN METRICS YOU WILL TOUCH

IRR (internal rate of return): the annual return that makes all cash in and out net to zero. Gross = before fees and carry; net = after. MOIC: total value divided by money invested. DPI (distributions to paid-in): cash returned divided by cash called. RVPI: remaining value divided by cash called. TVPI = DPI + RVPI. Subscription line: a short-term bank loan to the fund that delays capital calls; it lifts IRR without changing the multiple. LTM EBITDA: a company's last twelve months of earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation. Leverage: debt divided by EBITDA.

The 2026 change you should know. ILPA released an updated Reporting Template and a new Performance Template on 22 January 2025. The Reporting Template applies to funds "still in their investment period during Q1 2026" or starting on or after 1 January 2026 [S43]. The Performance Template's first delivery is due after the quarter ending 31 March 2027, according to Travers Smith [S45]. DLF V was still investing in 2026, so it is likely in scope if Hayfin adopts the templates Inferred. A summer 2027 intern may work on the first deliveries. Hayfin's adoption is not public [Gap].

What good proofreading looks like. Every number ties to its source (administrator report, monitoring system); dates and currencies are right; totals add; commentary matches the numbers; borrower names are spelled correctly and none are disclosed that should not be. A recruiter's description of IR work: "Materials must be prepared in a timely manner, but also with little to no errors" [S59].

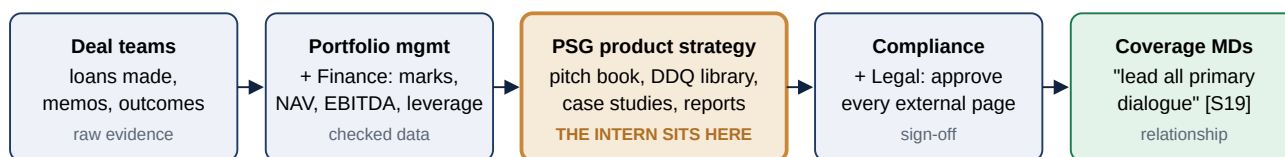

The skills and attribute lines, decoded

JD line	What they are really asking
"undertaking research across a range of topics, produce a summary... present this"	Can you turn a messy question (what are Korean insurers allocating to private credit?) into one clear page with sources? In 2026 the PSG intern posting named "assessing the competitive landscape" as a task [S265].
"keen to build a career in Investor Relations... discuss the subject knowledgeably"	They fear interns who see IR as a back door to the deal team. Show you want the client side.
"improve efficiency and processes using AI tools"	The 2026 Chicago IR analyst posting asks for "Practical familiarity with AI tools and large language models, used with careful attention to accuracy" [S19]. Have one safe, concrete idea (Part 12 has one).
"role of private capital in the wider economy... how investors allocate capital"	Can you explain why a pension fund buys a seven-year illiquid loan fund? Part 5 covers this.
"see things others don't see, able to complete all tasks"	Attention to detail and follow-through. Bring one story where you caught an error others missed.
"presenting with gravitas, making others listen"	Expect a short presentation exercise; a 2025 IR candidate reported an Excel fund performance task plus presenting a fund [S261].

JD line	What they are really asking
"Converse in other languages (desirable)"	Coverage is regional: Japan, Korea, DACH, Nordics, MENA and Southern Europe, Australia, North America [S1]. Link any language you have to a region.

The role's value chain and its two channels

From a deal to a commitment, and back again every quarter

Two channels to the investor

Channel A · Direct coverage

Regional MDs meet pensions, insurers, SWFs directly. Bespoke DDQs, SMAs, side letters, roadshows, investor days. Examples: Seoul office for Korean institutions [S223]; Melbourne for Australia (22.8% of AUM) [S272][S305].

Output the intern touches: briefing notes, bespoke DDQs, ad hoc data.

Channel B · Consultants and intermediaries

Consultants shortlist managers for many clients; RFPs, databases (eVestment), scoring. Placement agents in some markets: £1.35m placement fees in the UK LLP, FY2025 [S23]. DLF V: consultant role "greater than in any prior" raise [S222].

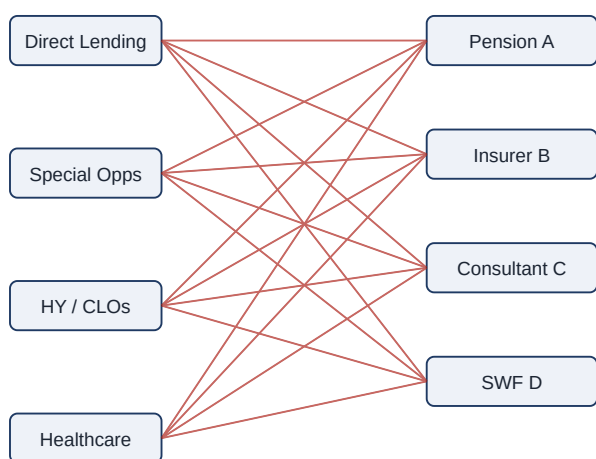

Output the intern touches: RFP answers, database updates, data templates.

Figure 1.1 · The role's value chain (top) and the two channels it serves (bottom). Sources as marked. The position of the intern is inferred from the JD, the 2024 intern's account [S15] and the London analyst listing [S20].

Why the consultant channel deserves a sentence in your answers. PSG's senior hires since 2023 include a head of consultant relations from BlackRock (Bringardner), an ex-Mercer consultant (Rob Kneip), an ex-JANA CIO (Carew) and an ex-Meketa principal (Atkinson) [s1][s4][s272]. That is a deliberate strategy to win the gatekeepers Inferred. Consultants pick managers for dozens of pension funds at once, so one consultant "buy" rating can unlock many commitments.

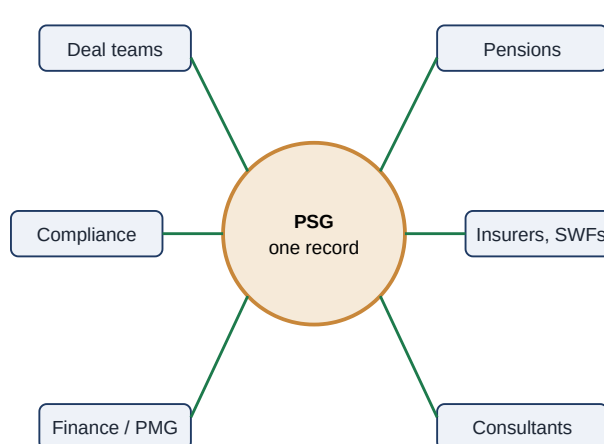

Why a central investor function exists at all

Without PSG: the tangle

16 links; four versions of the truth; deal teams distracted

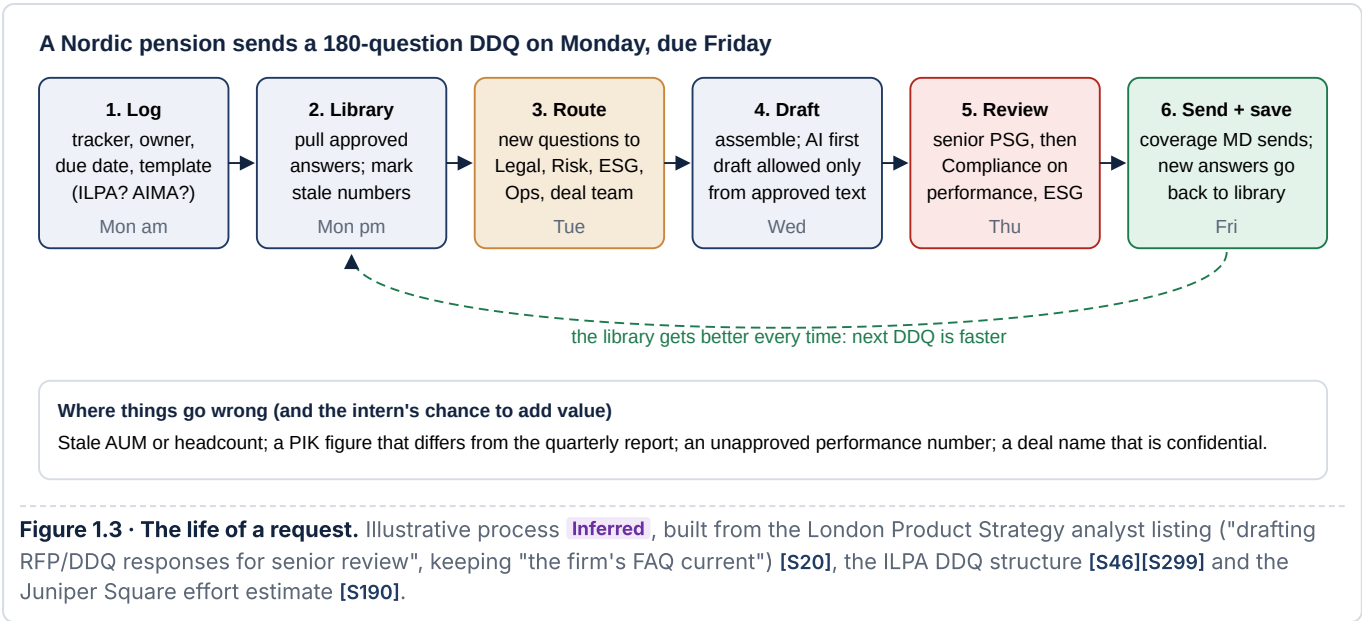

With PSG: the wheel

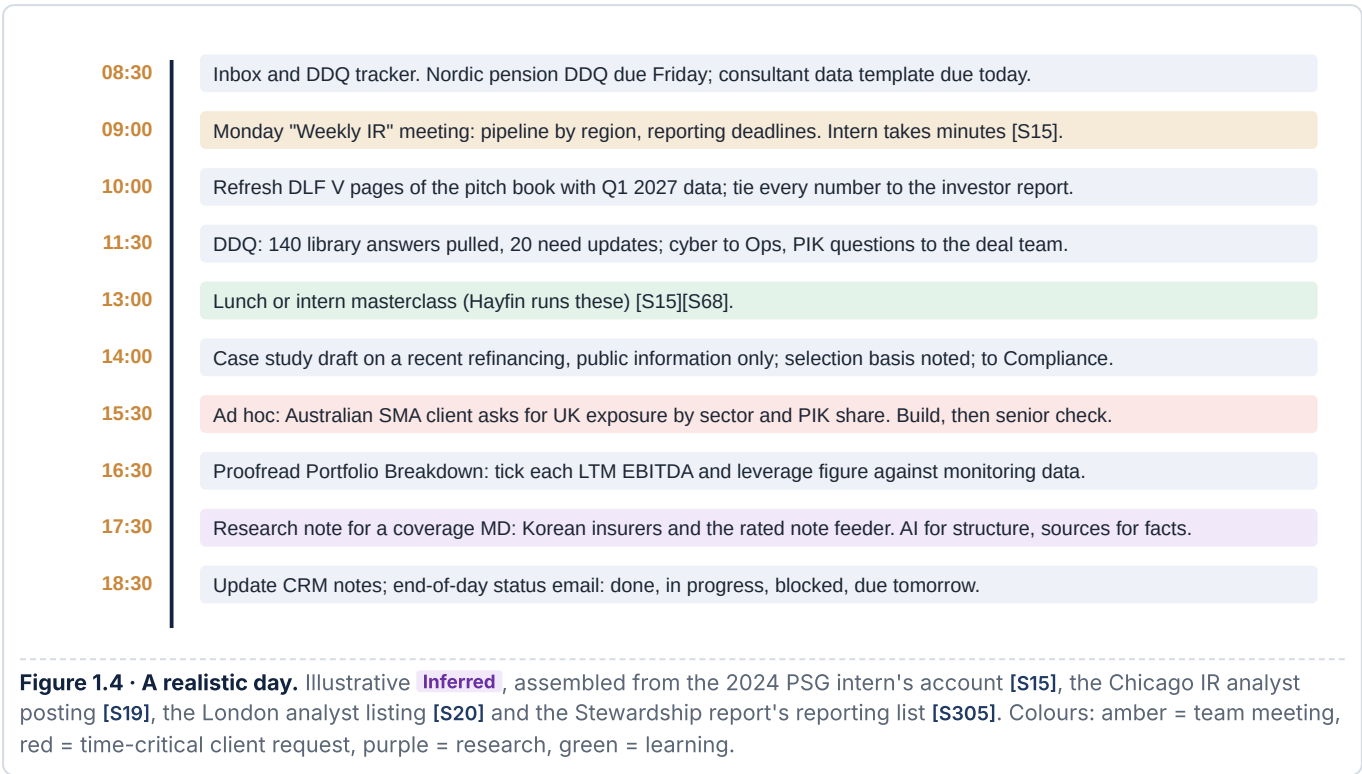

each side talks to one hub; one approved answer per question

Figure 1.2 · The hub diagram. Without a central team, each strategy would answer each investor separately: more links, inconsistent answers, and deal teams pulled off deals. With PSG, answers come from one approved library and one data source. Illustrative Inferred; Hayfin's multi-strategy structure and investor types from [S305].

The life of a request through PSG

A worked day in the seat (July 2027)

The full taxonomy of PSG work, the clients, and how the team is judged

Activities and formats

Raise Pitch books, teasers, data rooms, roadshows, RFPs, consultant meetings, fund terms and wrapper design (levered, unlevered, SMA, evergreen, rated feeder) [S222]

How the team is judged

- Capital raised against target. DLF V was "significantly exceeding its target" [S71].
- New investors and re-ups (repeat commitments).
- Growth in fee-paying AUM. Hayfin's remuneration disclosure: "Shareholder value is primarily driven

Diligence	DDQs (ILPA, AIMA, bespoke), operational due diligence, ESG questionnaires, reference calls
Service	Quarterly reports, CEO letters, Advisory Boards, capital call and distribution notices (administrator), ad hoc data, investor days
Intelligence	CRM, prospect lists, "LP allocation trends", "consultant scoring activity" [S19], competitor tracking [S265]
Content	Case studies, insight articles (two PSG-authored in Sept 2026 [S222][S262])

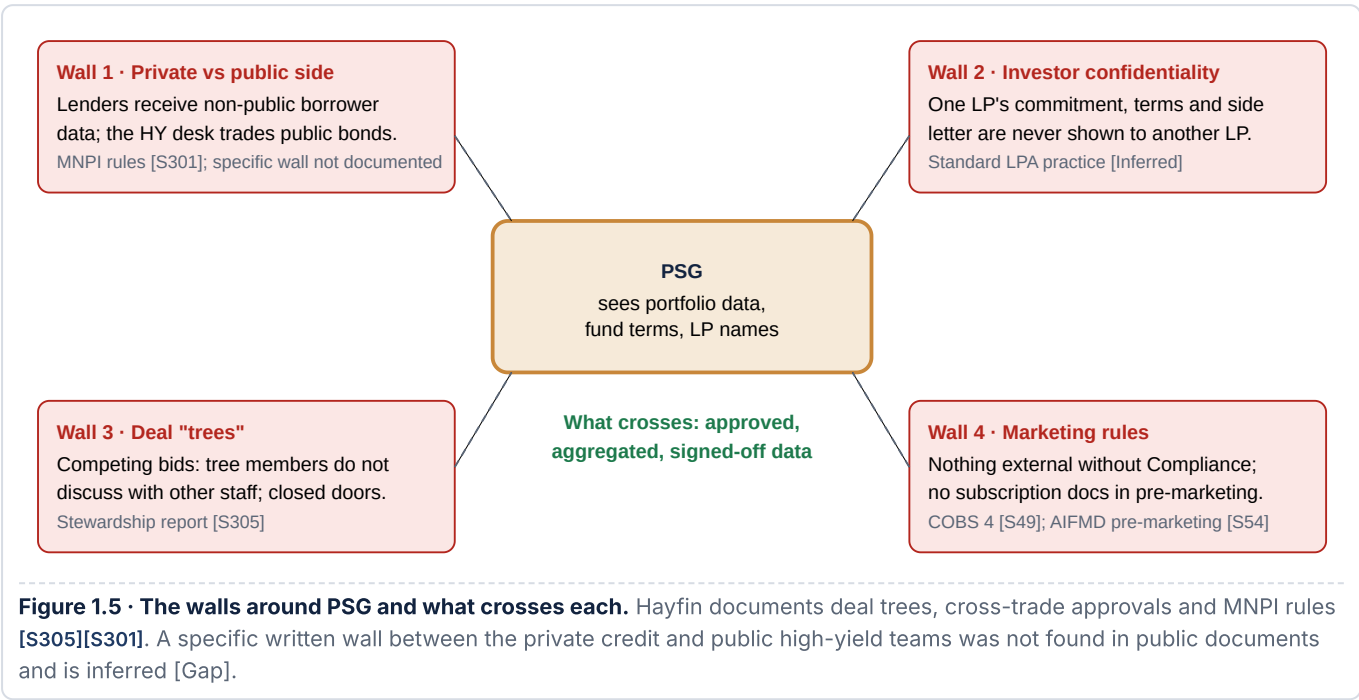

- by growing the Firm's fee-paying AUM" [S24].
- Diversification of the investor base by type and region [S222].
- Speed and accuracy on DDQs, RFPs and requests [S20].
- Reporting on time: audited accounts within 90 days [S305].
- Consultant ratings Inferred.

Who the internal clients and counterparties are, concretely

Internal: the Direct Lending, Special Opportunities, Tactical Solutions, HYSL, Healthcare, Maritime and Real Estate teams (for case studies and deal facts); Portfolio Management (Carlos Pla) and Finance (Fund Controllers who review NAVs "before it goes to investors" [S333]); Legal and Compliance (sign-off); ESG (case studies, PRI and SFDR data); Operations and Technology (cyber, business continuity answers).
External: pension funds (51.1% of AUM), insurers (19.5%), sovereign wealth funds (12.1%), banks (6.9%), funds of funds, family offices, endowments, consultants [S305]; fund administrators; placement agents [S23].

Confirmed

The control dimension: walls, bright lines and regulation

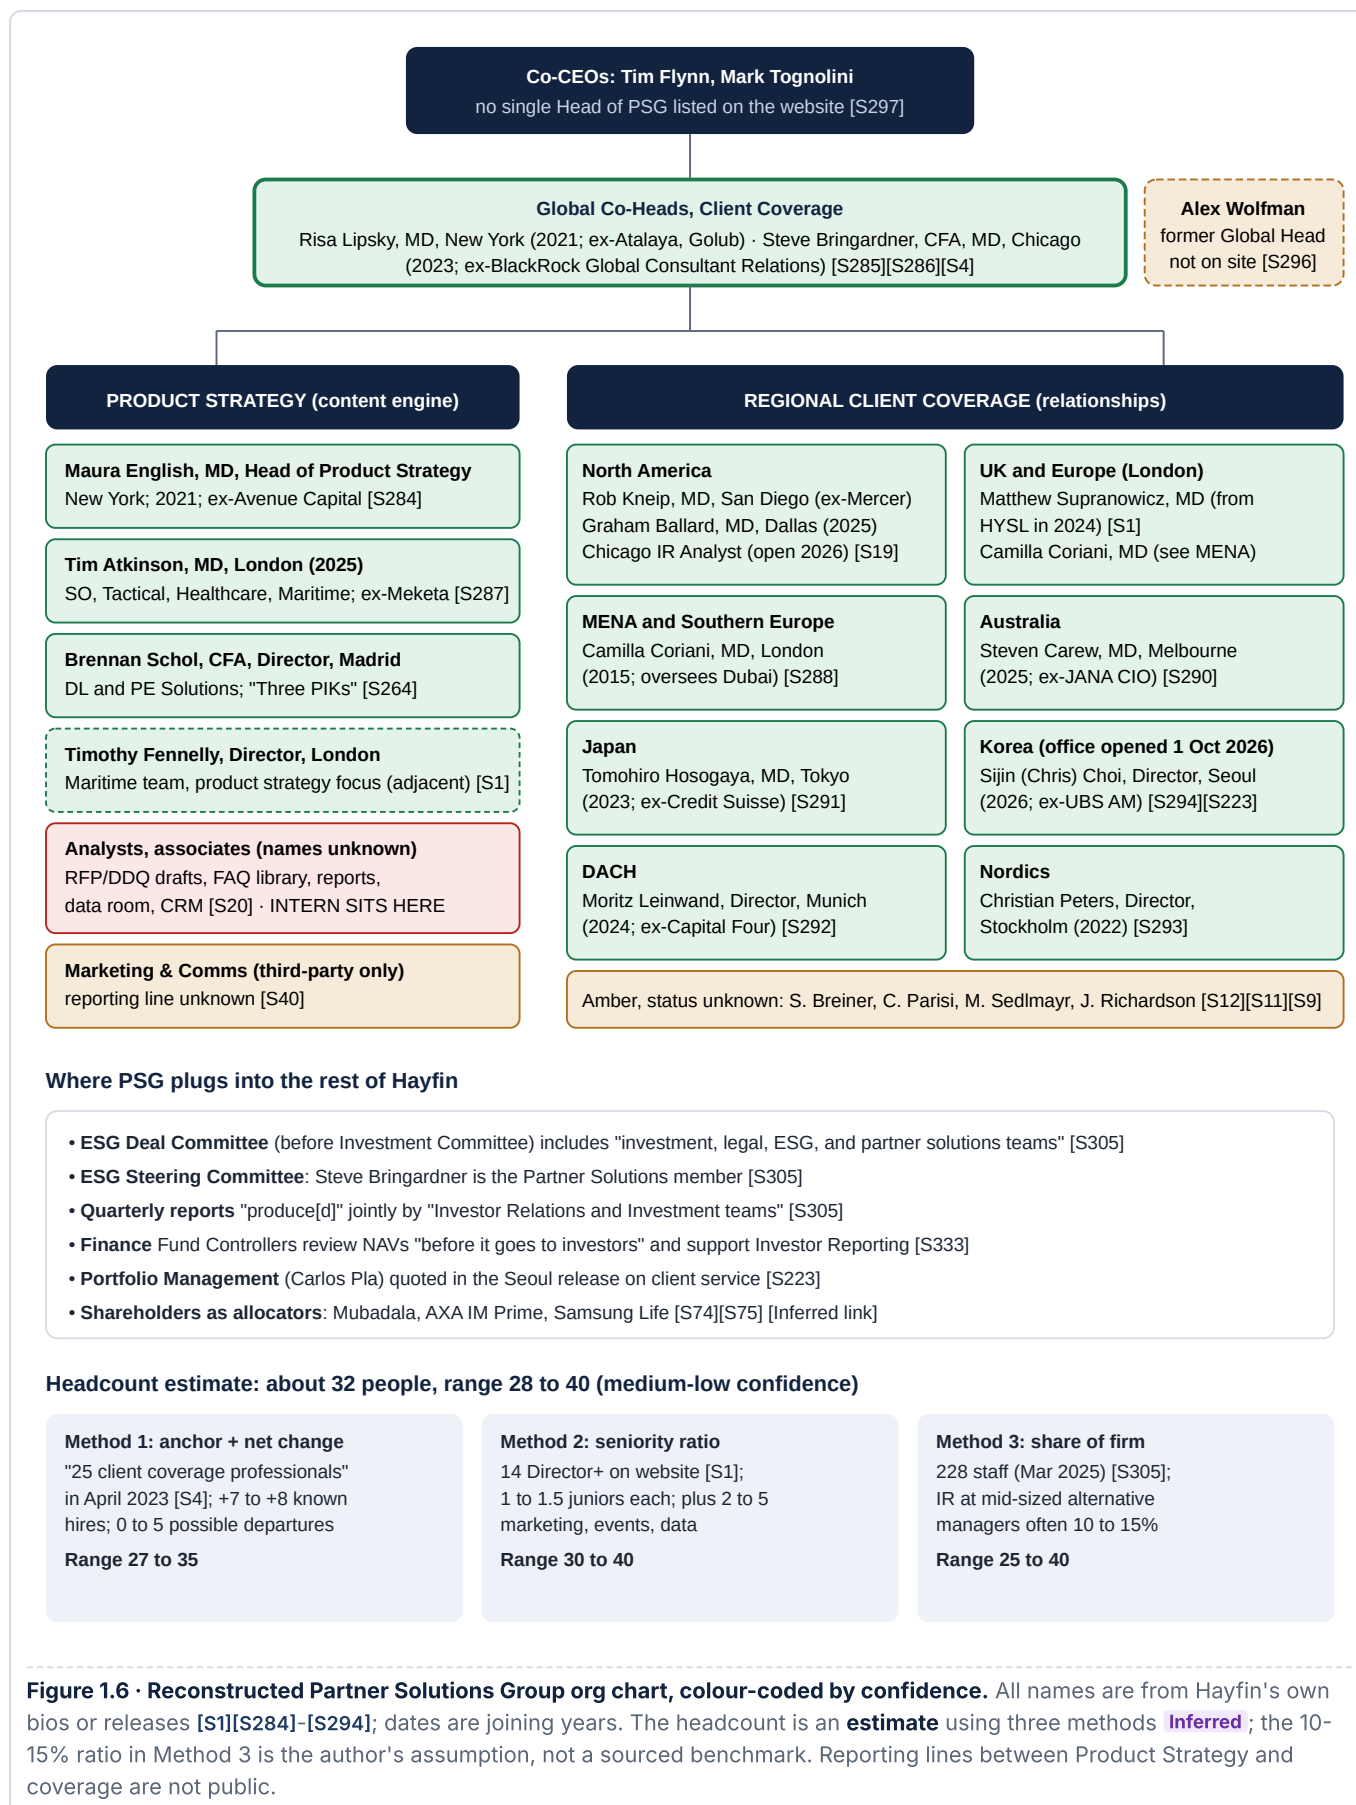

SAY THIS IN THE INTERVIEW · THE UNPROMPTED COMPLIANCE LINE

"Anything I produce that leaves the building is a financial promotion, so it has to be fair, clear and not misleading, show net next to gross, and go through Compliance. And I would treat every LP's name and terms, and every borrower's numbers, as confidential unless I am told otherwise."

Regulation that binds the work (details and dates in Part 6): FCA COBS 4 and the anti-greenwashing rule (UK) [S49][S52]; AIFMD and AIFMD II for EU marketing, transposed from 16 April 2026 [S163]; the SEC Marketing Rule for US-facing material [S53]; UK reform of the AIFM regime under consultation CP26/28, which closes 22 October 2026 [S167]; SFDR for EU sustainability disclosures, with Hayfin running six Article 8 funds [S25].

The team mapped: Partner Solutions Group

Hayfin publishes no org chart. This one is reconstructed from Hayfin's website bios (pulled through its public data feed), press releases and job postings. Colour key: green = on Hayfin's website or in a Hayfin release in the last 12 months; amber = named 2021 to 2024 but not on the current site; red = role inferred, person unknown.

How the work splits, and whether your interviewers sit here

- By function: coverage owns relationships and "lead[s] all primary dialogue with LPs and consultants" [S19]; product strategy owns content, DDQs, reporting and new structures such as the rated note feeder [S20][S222].

- By region: eight coverage regions listed above. Australia (22.8% of AUM) and North America (26.2%) are the biggest investor regions [s305].
- By strategy: product strategy is split between direct lending and PE solutions (Schol) and opportunistic strategies (Atkinson) [s1][s287].
- Your interviewers are likely London PSG staff: associates to MDs, possibly Tim Atkinson or Camilla Coriani, the two London MDs found [s287][s288]. Junior staff cannot be identified from public sources.

Inferred

Benchmark against peers' equivalent teams

Firm	What is public about its investor team
Ares	Over 2,850 direct institutional relationships; $113.2bn raised in 2025; no client-solutions headcount given in the 10-K [s64]
ICG	681 clients (FY24), over 870 (FY26); a "global marketing and client relations team"; hiring into its Client Solutions Group [s65][s66]
Pemberton	Head of Investor Relations plus an MD who reports to that head [s61]
Arcmont	Partner and Head of Client Services, ex-BlackRock Alternatives Client Services [s63]
Hayfin	Two global co-heads, a product strategy hub and eight regional coverage teams; about 32 people (estimate)

What this means for you Inferred : Hayfin's model is the large-manager model at a smaller scale. A PSG intern at Hayfin sees more of the whole chain, from deal evidence to a consultant's scorecard, than an intern at a firm with thousands of investor relationships.

A realistic career path from this seat

- The ladder: Analyst, Associate, VP or Principal, Director, MD. Hayfin uses Principal, Director and MD titles in PSG [s9][s1].
- Two tracks: product and reporting (content, DDQs, structuring) or coverage (relationships, a region) Inferred .
- How Hayfin's PSG seniors got there: other managers' IR teams, investment consultants (Mercer, JANA, Meketa), allocators (Texas Permanent School Fund), and internal moves (Supranowicz from High Yield) [s1][s289].
- A role model: Camilla Coriani started with an Intesa Sanpaolo investment banking internship, moved to IR at FiveSixty, then sales and structuring at 10AK, joined Hayfin in 2015 and is now Head of MENA and Southern Europe [s288].
- The internship programme: Hayfin says it has run a 10-week programme since 2021, with 64 interns from 28 universities, and calls SEO London's Alternative Investments Programme "the main talent recruiter for the previous three years" [s16]. No formal graduate programme was found; full-time hiring looks team by team Inferred . The 2026 PSG internship ran 22 June to 14 August [s265]; the 2027 SEO listing says 1 June to 31 August.

Founding insight, how the money flows, the contracts, the risk architecture, ownership, and the last 24 months

KEY TERMS FOR THIS PART

Private credit: loans made by investment funds rather than banks, negotiated directly with the borrower and usually held until repaid. Asset manager: a firm that invests other people's money for a fee. LP (limited partner): an investor in a fund. GP (general partner): the manager that runs the fund, here Hayfin. AUM (assets under management): how much money the manager looks after. Fund vintage: a fund raised in a given period; DLF V is the fifth vintage of the Direct Lending fund.

A. The founding insight

Who. Hayfin Capital Management LLP was registered in England on 11 June 2009 (LLP number OC346320) [s86][s87]. It began as Haymarket Financial LLP and took the name Hayfin in 2013 by joining the first three letters of each word [s79][s82]. The founders are Tim Flynn and Mark Tognolini [s79]. Confirmed

What they did before. Flynn was a partner at Goldman Sachs and co-head of European leveraged finance and acquisition finance. Before that he was a corporate lawyer at Sullivan & Cromwell in New York [s282]. In a 2024 podcast he said his first job was as a beekeeper on a CARE Canada project in Nicaragua [s105]. Tognolini was a vice president in Goldman's leveraged finance, UK M&A and private finance teams, after legal roles at Allen & Overy and Gadens in Australia [s283]. Confirmed

The thesis. Flynn's own account is precise. Bank capital rules (he cites Basel II risk weighting) would force banks to reprice lending to mid-sized and sub-investment-grade companies, and that "could create a window to build" a European market leader [s105]. The crisis came while he was on garden leave, "which made capital formation certainly harder" [s105]. Hayfin's history page puts it as a funding gap left when banks pulled back from mid-market European companies after the financial crisis [s79]. Reported

The design choice that followed. Hayfin did not start as a fund manager. A 2016 Pennsylvania public schools pension (PSERS) memo says the original backers, TowerBrook, OMERS, PSP Investments and Australia's Future Fund, "capitalized Hayfin's management company by providing cash to form a balance sheet to invest in private credit" [s307]. So Hayfin began as a lender using its own balance sheet. It moved to managing third-party funds later, after a shareholder transaction made the team the largest shareholder [s307]. [Confirmed, primary LP document]

YOUR OPINION GOES HERE

Why does it matter that Hayfin started as a balance-sheet lender? One reading Inferred: the firm's habits were formed by lending its own owners' money, which rewards caution and workout skill more than asset gathering. You can test that reading against the 2026 language: "Scale should be an outcome of repeatability, rather than an objective in itself" [s222]. Decide whether you believe it, and why.

Why breadth. Flynn explains that Europe is "very, very shallow and inefficient", so "We have to run extremely broad mandates compared to what we would do in the U.S." In the US "we might run a very focused, cash flow only, sponsor-only business" [s324]. That one sentence explains most of Hayfin's shape. Confirmed

Mission in its own words. The homepage calls Hayfin "a leading European alternative asset management platform, providing critical debt, equity and hybrid capital" [s127]. The JD pack says: "Our mission is to deliver consistent, superior, risk-adjusted returns to our investors" through "integrity, discipline, and creativity" [JD].

Some year-to-event pairings on Hayfin's history page are inferred from layout and are approximate (2012-2021) [S79]. Fund sizes: S79, S88, S90, S71. Owners

B. How Hayfin makes money

An asset manager like Hayfin makes money in two ways. First, a management fee: a percentage of the money it manages, paid every year whatever happens. Second, a performance fee or carried interest: a share of the profit above an agreed minimum return (the hurdle or preferred return), paid only if the fund does well. Hayfin does not publish its fund terms [Gap]. The best public guide is a November 2024 note by Macfarlanes, Hayfin's own fund counsel, on European direct lending norms [S104]:

- A typical unlevered direct lending fund charges "a management fee on net invested capital, a performance fee subject to a preferred return with catch-up". The headline management fee is about 1%, with the effective average slightly lower after discounts for early, large and loyal investors [S104]. [Reported, industry norm, not Hayfin's terms]
- "A 2% management fee would be seen as commercially unviable within direct lending" [S104].
- Over a fund's life, manager income splits roughly 50/50 between management and performance fees [S104].
- The one listed peer that publishes a figure, Tikehau, reported a credit fee rate of 75 basis points (0.75%) for the twelve months to June 2026 [S141]. Confirmed

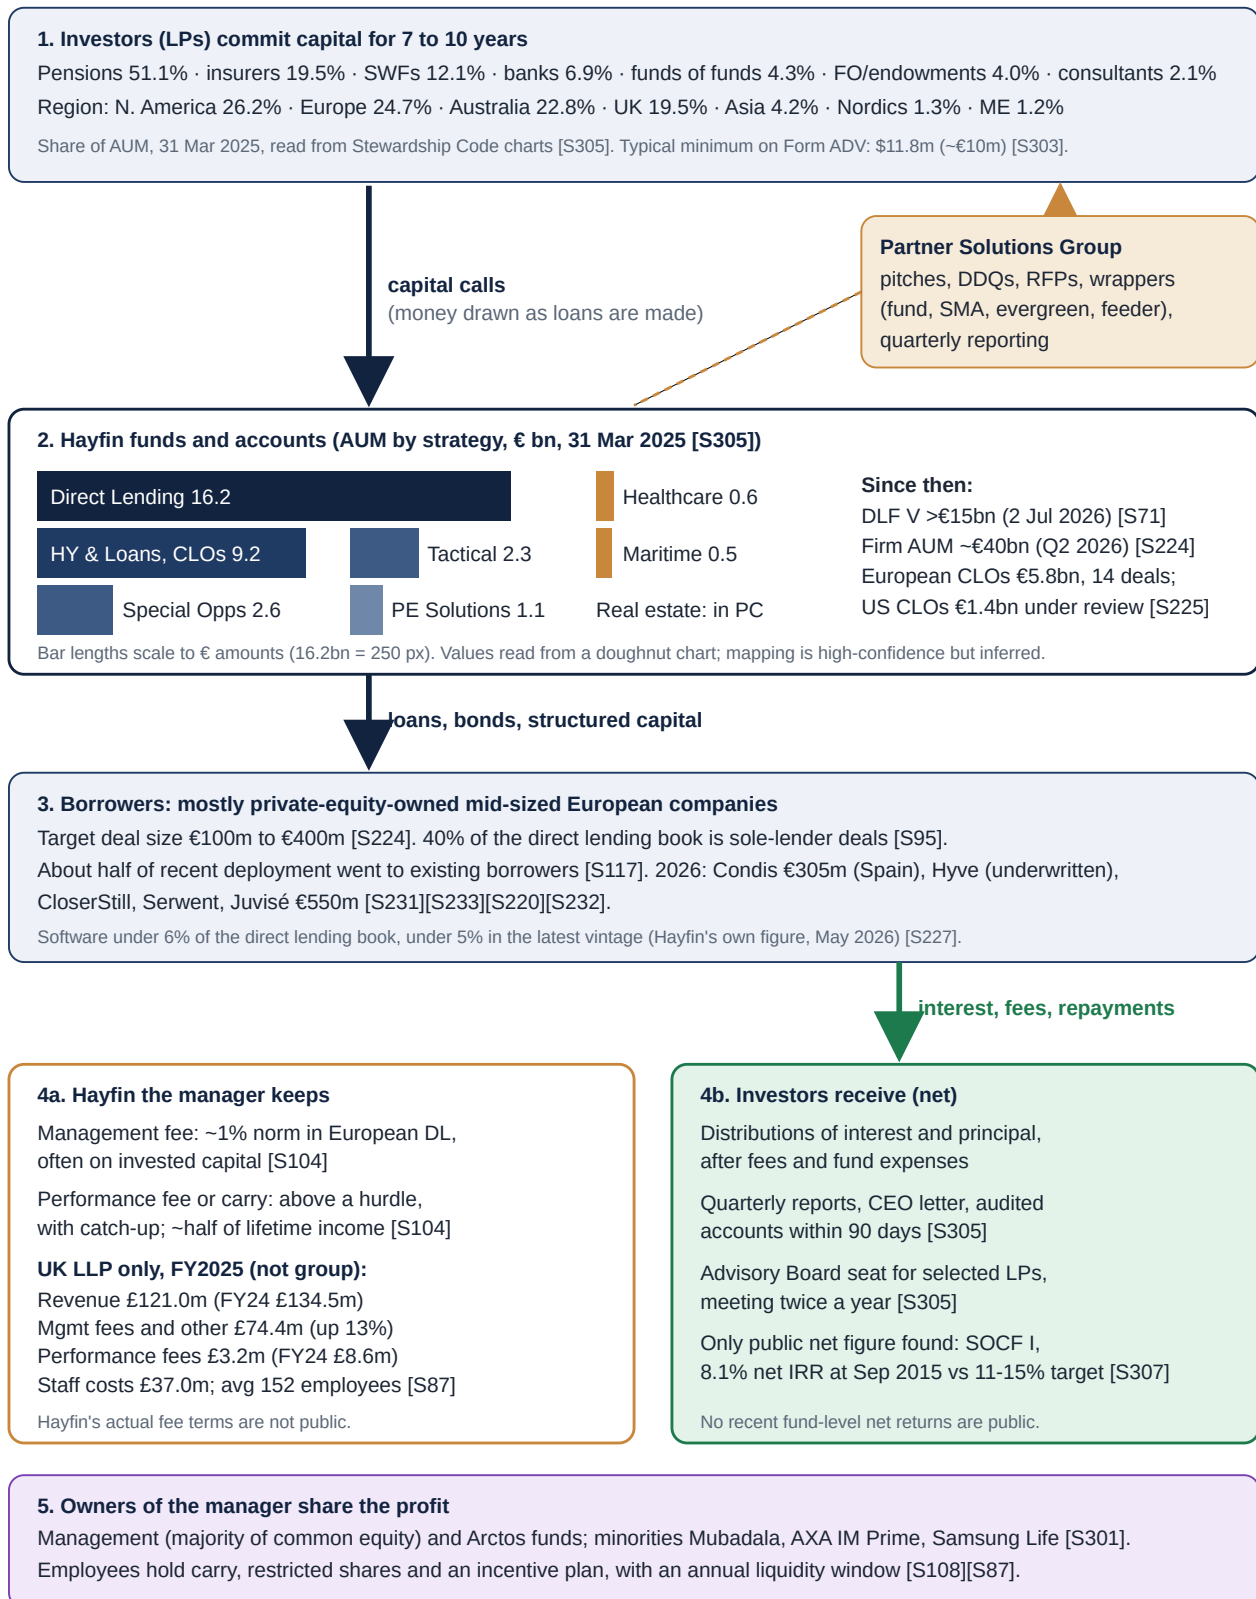

Figure 2.2 · The money flow through Hayfin. All shares and sizes are dated; "~1% norm" is an industry estimate from Hayfin's counsel, not Hayfin's terms. UK LLP figures cover one entity of the group and are not group results [S87]. The dashed green line shows distributions returning to investors.

What the UK accounts say, and what they do not

The audited accounts of Hayfin Capital Management LLP for 2025 were filed at Companies House on 23 September 2026 [S87]. This entity is the FCA-regulated UK adviser. Its credit-risk note says its "core business is to advise related party entities on investment decisions" [S87], so group revenue is larger and partly booked elsewhere (Cayman and Luxembourg managers, and the parent, Hayfin Management Holdings Limited). Read the numbers as a direction, not a total. [Confirmed figures, Inferred reading]

Hayfin Capital Management LLP (GBP)	FY2025	FY2024	What it tells you
Advisory fees	43.2m	59.8m	Fees from advising group entities fell
Investment management fees and other income	74.4m	65.9m	Recurring fees grew about 13%
Performance fees	3.2m	8.6m	Booked only when reversal is very unlikely; lumpy
Total revenue	121.0m	134.5m	Down 10%
Personnel expenses	37.0m	30.8m	Up 20%; platform build
Profit before members' remuneration	16.2m	21.7m	Down 25%
Average employees (investment / other)	79 / 73	67 / 74	Investment staff grew

C. The contracts the business is made of Every business is a set of deals between people. Here are Hayfin's, reconstructed from its filings, its Stewardship Code report and press. Where a term is an industry norm rather than a Hayfin fact, it says so.

Party	Gives	Gets
Investors (LPs)	A commitment of money for a three to four year investment period, a three to four year harvest and two possible one-year extensions [S305]. No right to redeem; exit only by selling on the secondary market [S301]. Fees and carry. Currency risk if not in euros [S307].	Senior secured loans and other credit, with interest paid mostly in cash. Quarterly line-by-line reporting, a CEO letter and audited accounts [S305]. An Advisory Board that reviews conflicts and expenses twice a year. LPA changes need 50%, two-thirds or 75% LP consent depending on materiality [S305].
Borrowers and their PE sponsors	Interest (usually floating rate), arrangement fees, security over assets, covenants (promises such as maximum leverage), information rights.	Speed and certainty, a single lender or small club (40% of the DL book is sole-lender [S95]), local teams who know the jurisdiction, and a lender that can grow with them (half of recent deployment went to existing borrowers [S117]).
Employees	Their careers, under a culture where staff are "rewarded to collaborate, rather than outperform peers" [S305].	Salary, cash bonus, carried interest, restricted shares and a management incentive plan, plus an annual window to buy or sell group equity [S108] [S87].
Owners	Capital to fund the buyout (Arctos underwrote 100% of the funding [S72]); strategic links (Samsung Life, Mubadala, AXA IM Prime each hold a board seat, reported [S93]).	A share of manager profits and future value. Several owners are also large allocators, so ownership doubles as distribution Inferred .
Service providers	Fund administration in the UK, Luxembourg and US; a third-party Luxembourg AIFM (Vistra) for some funds [S303][S333].	Fees; Hayfin's in-house teams oversee them.

D. The risk and control architecture

A credit manager's product is the absence of losses. So the controls are part of what investors buy. Hayfin's Stewardship Code report (October 2025) describes them in unusual detail [S305].

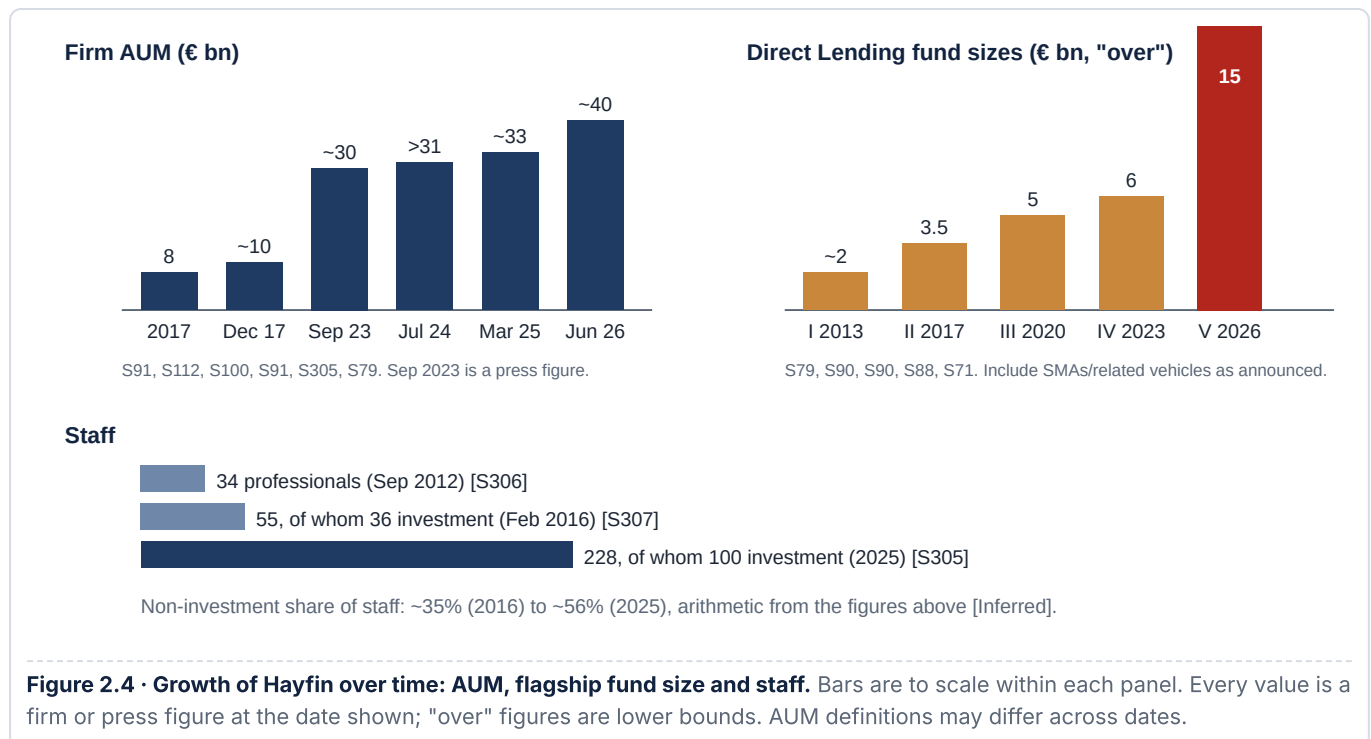

Named owners of risk. Andrew McCullagh is Chief Risk Officer and a member of the LLP since March 2010; Lara Dressler is Chief Compliance Officer; David Rushford is General Counsel; Kevin Sarafilovic is CFO (from 2025) [S303]. Carlos Pla, with Hayfin since 2009, is Head of Portfolio Management [S76][S277]. Michaela Campbell joined in April 2024 as MD to oversee private credit portfolio monitoring and risk [S70]. Confirmed

Why this produces the characteristic result. A direct lender wins by not losing. Three mechanisms do the work [Inferred, from Confirmed pieces]: (1) a wide funnel, so the firm can say no often (in 2012 Hayfin saw over 1,400 opportunities and made 60 investments, about 4% [S306]); (2) senior secured positions with covenants, so problems surface early; (3) an in-house legal and workout team that has run restructurings in each European creditor regime [S307]. Flynn says workout capability is "the number one theme in the LP community" [S281].

SOURCE UNCERTAIN

Hayfin publishes no current loss rate. The only public statement found is dated: "Since inception through September 30, 2015, Hayfin has not incurred any realized losses as a result of an event of default by a borrower" across Special Opportunities and Direct Lending [S307]. Do not repeat this as current. If asked, say what is public and what is not.

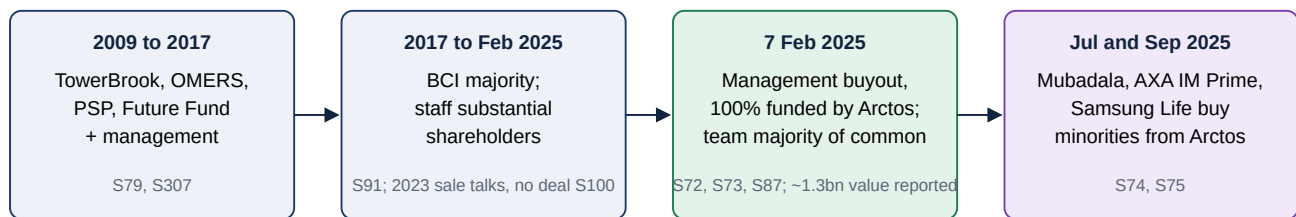

E. Strategy mix and growth

What grew [Confirmed figures, Inferred reading]:

- Direct lending is the engine. Fund sizes went about €2bn, then over €3.5bn, €5bn, €6bn and now €15bn [S79][S90][S88][S71]. Hayfin invested a record €7.1bn in direct lending in the twelve months before DLF V closed, and €38bn across 350+ investments since inception [S71]. A Finance job post already refers to "DLF VI to follow" [S333].
- Opportunistic credit is steady at about €5bn (Special Opportunities plus Tactical Solutions) [S305]. Hayfin hired a London product strategy MD for it in September 2025 [S272].
- Liquid credit is being refocused on Europe. In May 2026 Hayfin raised new equity for future European CLOs (now €5.8bn across 14 deals) and hired Greensledge to "explore options" for its €1.4bn US CLO business [S225].
- Specialist verticals (healthcare, maritime, real estate, PE secondaries) are small in AUM but give capability and story. Maritime has deployed over $4bn across 100+ vessels [S227].
- Distribution geography widened. Dubai (2024), Chicago (2024), a Dallas MD (2025), Melbourne coverage (2025), Seoul (2026) [S275][S97][S99][S272][S223].

F. Ownership: private, and what that means for your research

Legal chain on SEC Form ADV, 30 March 2026 (ownership bands, not exact stakes) [S83]

Atlas Preferred SPV LP owns 75%+ of Hayfin Management Holdings Ltd, which owns 75%+ of the LLP's corporate member.
Inside Atlas: Hayfin Management Holdings LP (management) 50-75%; AKP Atlas Aggregator LP (Arctos Keystone) 25-50%.

Figure 2.5 · Ownership history. Sources as marked. The ~1.3bn MBO valuation appears as both USD and EUR in different trade reports [S80][S92]; treat it as approximate. Samsung Life's stake is reported at 3.96% by a single low-confidence source [S128].

What "private" means for research. Hayfin has no listed shares, so there are no earnings calls or annual reports with group numbers. The public evidence comes from: SEC Form ADV filings (US regulator; fund sizes, owners, officers) [S83][S84][S85]; Companies House accounts for the UK LLP [S87]; the UK Stewardship Code report [S305]; MIFIDPRU remuneration disclosures [S108]; US public pension board papers that commit to Hayfin funds [S306][S307][S309]; and Hayfin's own press releases and insight articles [S70]. That is also the list of documents a careful investor would read. Knowing it signals you think like one.

G. Leadership and its stated view of the future

Person	Role	Background (public, professional)
Tim Flynn	Co-founder, Co-CEO	Goldman Sachs partner, European leveraged and acquisition finance; Sullivan & Cromwell; JD Columbia, BS Georgetown [S282]
Mark Tognolini	Co-founder, Co-CEO since 2025 (previously COO)	Goldman Sachs leveraged finance VP; Allen & Overy; UNSW BA LLB [S283][S81]
Raj Paranandi	COO since May 2025	MarketAxess, UBS [S279]
Michael Marsh	Head of Investments (new role, May 2026)	Goldman Sachs partner, Head of Capital Solutions EMEA [S226]
Carlos Pla	Head of Portfolio Management	With Hayfin since 2009; ex-Goldman [S277]
Risa Lipsky, Steve Bringardner	Global Co-Heads, Client Coverage, Partner Solutions	Atalaya, Golub (Lipsky); BlackRock consultant relations, CFA (Bringardner) [S286][S285]

Their stated view of the future, in their own words:

- Tognolini, May 2026: "Uncertainty is not an environment we are waiting to pass. It is the environment we are built for" [S227]. And: "We consider ourselves the European home team, with 17 years of track record and a platform built to operate across fragmented jurisdictions, languages and legal regimes" [S227].
- Tognolini, July 2026: European lenders benefit from "greater market fragmentation, continued bank retrenchment and a predominantly institutional capital base" [S221]; "we are well placed to take further market share" [S71].
- Lipsky and Bringardner, September 2026: European direct lending is becoming "a core, strategic holding rather than a satellite one", and managers should "remain disciplined in how they invest, while becoming increasingly flexible in how investors access those investments" [S94].
- Flynn, November 2024: "Expanding our presence in North America is a top priority for us" [S97].

YOUR OPINION GOES HERE · THE AUTHOR'S INFERENCE

Read the hiring and office moves together and a pattern appears Inferred : Hayfin is concentrating its investing on Europe (the US CLO review, "core European investing businesses" [S225]) while globalising its investor base (Chicago, Dallas, Melbourne, Seoul, Dubai, Tokyo). In one line: European assets, global capital. That makes Partner Solutions one of the firm's main growth engines. Test this view in the interview by asking, not asserting.

I. Skeletons in the cupboard, told straight

Nothing serious turned up. Know these so nothing surprises you, and do not raise them unprompted.

- Regulatory record. All three SEC-filing Hayfin advisers show no disciplinary disclosures [S82]. The FCA register page would not load for this research, so the UK record could not be checked directly [Gap]. The UK LLP's FCA reference is 503730, authorised 23 June 2010 [S87].
- Kingsland litigation. The founder of Kingsland, the US CLO manager Hayfin bought in 2017, sued Hayfin in New York over the purchase agreement. The case was dismissed with prejudice on 7 May 2021 [S110]. That same US CLO business is now under strategic review [S225]. Confirmed
- A sale that did not happen. In September 2023 Bloomberg reported Hayfin was considering options including a sale; DWS and Janus Henderson were named [S100]. No outside sale happened; the management buyout followed. Reported

- Portfolio stress. Hayfin was among the lenders (with Pemberton and Blue Owl) that took ownership of Cinven-backed Netceed through a debt-for-equity swap in October 2025 [s109]. Write-down size not disclosed. Reported
- Softer UK entity numbers. FY2025 revenue at the UK LLP fell 10%, profit before members' remuneration fell 25%, and performance fees fell from £8.6m to £3.2m [s87]. Entity-level only. Confirmed
- Old returns below target. The 2012 Special Opportunities fund showed 8.1% net IRR against an 11-15% target at September 2015; for a US dollar investor that was minus 2.6% because the euro fell [s307]. Early-life IRRs are often depressed by fees. Confirmed
- People moves. The former Global Head of Partner Solutions, Alex Wolfman, no longer appears on the site and is labelled "former" by a third-party directory [s296]. No departure announcement was found Inferred.

DON'T SAY THIS

Do not ask "Why did the head of Partner Solutions leave?" or "Why did revenue fall?" in an intern interview. If the interviewer raises a weakness, acknowledge it calmly and move to what you would want to understand. That is the investor relations skill they are testing.

PART 3

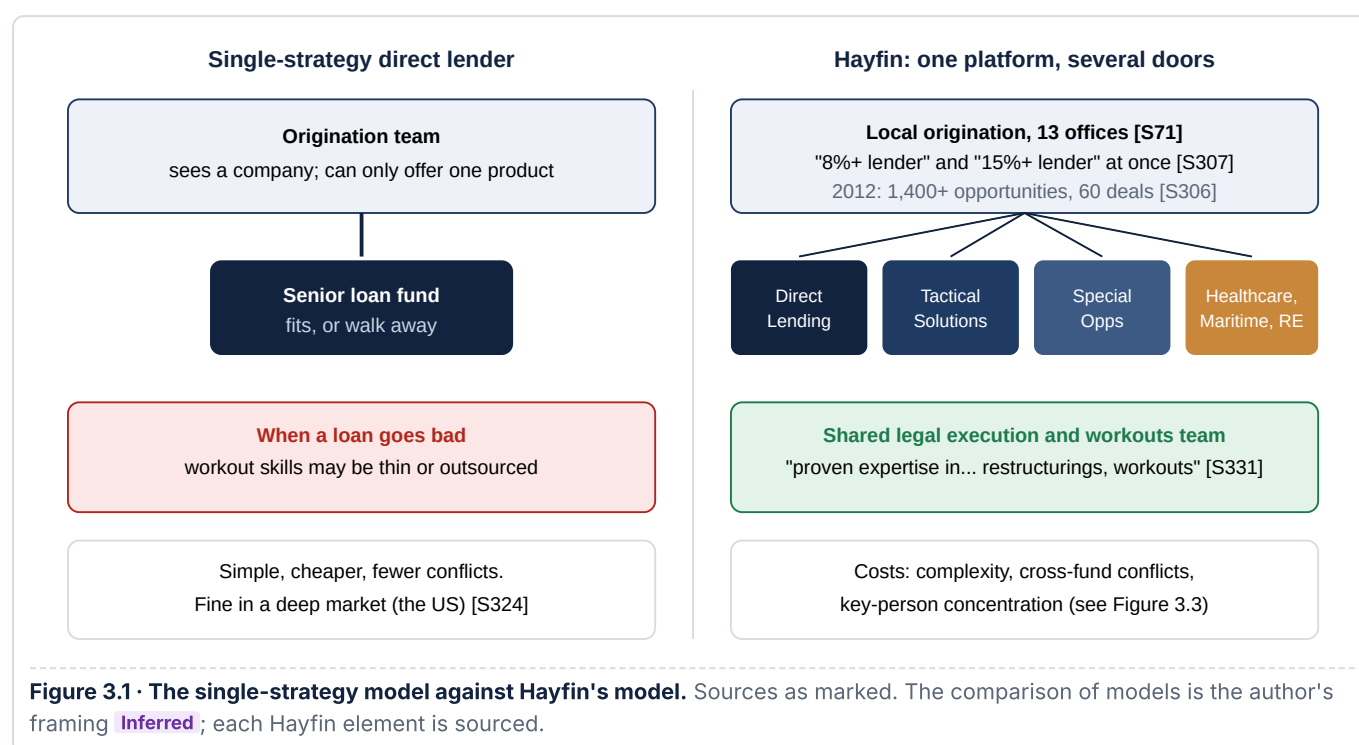

Why Hayfin is built this way

Structure, how the teams work together, what investors actually buy, and the non-investment side

This part answers four questions with evidence rather than adjectives. Why is Hayfin a multi-strategy credit platform with local offices, and not a single-strategy lender? How do its teams actually work together? What exactly do its investors buy? And how big is the non-investment side that PSG belongs to?

1. Why this structure: the theory, and what it costs

The theory in one sentence. A multi-strategy credit manager shares one origination network and one underwriting culture across several funds, so it can lend across the capital structure and across the cycle, with a workout team behind every loan. Each link below has evidence.

The evidence, link by link

- 1. One origination engine, several doors. The 2016 PSERS memo: "the continued evolution of Hayfin's Direct Lending strategy has served to benefit the Firm's Special Opportunities strategy. This has allowed Hayfin to cast a wider net and engage a broader range of companies with the market now not only viewing Hayfin as a 15%+ lender but an 8%+ lender. Once engaged, Hayfin has a greater ability to obtain favorable pricing" [s307]. [Confirmed, primary LP document] In plain words: a company that meets Hayfin for a cheap senior loan is a future customer for a dearer, more complex one, and the other way round.
- 2. Deploy at every point of the cycle. Special Opportunities uses "both direct origination and secondary purchases of illiquid assets" to "find attractive deployment at all points of the cycle" [s328]. The 2016 memo: "Secondary sourcing provides flexibility of deployment as cycles turn" [s307]. In 2020, when competitors were nursing portfolios, Hayfin invested a then-record €3.7bn in direct lending [s314]. Confirmed
- 3. Europe forces breadth. Flynn: "We have to run extremely broad mandates compared to what we would do in the U.S." [s324]. Europe has many countries, legal regimes and languages, and banks still dominate lending; no single niche is deep enough to deploy €15bn alone Inferred.

The boundary between Hayfin funds: what is shared, and what is never shared

SHARED across strategies

- Origination network and borrower relationships [S307]
- Legal execution and workout team [S307][S327]
- Investment Committee and ESG Deal Committee [S305]
- Portfolio monitoring and valuation process
- Finance, operations, compliance, technology [S333]
- Partner Solutions: one investor-facing team
- Pay culture: "rewarded to collaborate, rather than outperform peers" [S305]
- Sector knowledge (healthcare, maritime) feeding general deal teams [Inferred]

NEVER shared, or only with approval

- Material stakes in different layers of the same company, unless one is a non-blocking minority (under one third of the tranche) [S305]
- No loan-to-own in a company owned by a Hayfin fund that is a primary investor [S305]
- Cross trades: prior CCO and COO approval [S305]
- Fund-to-fund refinancings: third-party validation, e.g. the Advisory Board [S305]
- Competing bids: separate deal "trees" [S305]
- Exceptions go to the Investments Conflicts Committee: CEO, CRO, COO, CCO, GC [S305]

Figure 3.3 · The boundary between units. Source: Hayfin UK Stewardship Code disclosure, October 2025 [S305]. "Allocation Policy to ensure fair and balanced allocations", reviewed annually, is also stated there. No public document describes a wall between private credit and public high-yield teams [Gap].

SAY THIS IN THE INTERVIEW

"Those conflict rules are not compliance detail for PSG. They are part of the product. An investor in both DLF and Special Opportunities will ask in the DDQ how you stop one fund benefiting at the other's expense. Hayfin has a written answer: non-blocking minority stakes, CCO and COO sign-off on cross trades, and a Conflicts Committee."

2. How the teams work together, and where collaboration actually lives

Anatomy of one front-line team, and what it draws from the centre

Figure 3.4 · Anatomy of one front-line unit. Named functions and people from [S113][S305][S307][S277][S333]. The internal name and size of the portfolio management team are not public; "PMG" appears only in the 2027 intern role list [Gap].

Read Hayfin's own wording precisely. Four places stand out [Confirmed, from S305 and S333]:

- The ESG Deal Committee, which every private credit deal passes before final Investment Committee, "includes members of our investment, legal, ESG, and partner solutions teams" [S305]. PSG is inside the approval workflow, not only downstream of it.

- Quarterly reports: "Hayfin's Investor Relations and Investment teams produce the following quarterly reports for each fund and Separately Managed Account" [s305]. Joint production.
- Finance: the Fund Controller reviews NAVs "before it goes to investors" and supports "Investor Reporting with timely query resolution". The posting says the role "reaches across all of Hayfin's Private Credit strategies, so you'll see how a multi-strategy manager works" [s333].
- Pay: "Our investment professionals are rewarded to collaborate, rather than outperform peers" [s305]. Flynn: "Ours is a no superstar culture where we value the midfield general, who makes everyone else 10 percent better, over the superstar striker" [s281]. Tognolini rejects a multi-boutique or "pod" model: "We aren't one of them" [s117].

Where collaboration actually lives [Inferred from the Confirmed pieces]: (a) the shared origination network; (b) the Investment and ESG Deal Committees; (c) the legal and workout team; (d) the reporting chain from deal teams and Finance into PSG. Where it does not live: between funds holding different layers of one company (walled by rule) and between competing bid teams (deal trees).

3. What investors actually buy

Who they are

Hayfin's investors by type and by region (share of AUM, 31 March 2025)

By type

By region

Values read from rendered doughnut charts in [S305]; mapping of labels to values is high-confidence but inferred. "All of our investors are institutional" [S305]. Since then: DLF V drew over half its capital from EMEA, including 10% from the Middle East; Europeans committed over €6bn [S222].

Figure 3.5 · The investor's view: who Hayfin's investors are. Bar widths to scale (100% = 650 px). Source [S305]; DLF V update [S222].

Australia at 22.8% is striking for a European manager [Inferred link]: Australia's Future Fund was a founding backer [s307], and Hayfin hired a Melbourne-based ex-CIO in 2025 to lead its Australian clients [s272]. Named public investors include Pennsylvania PSERS (€200m to the first Special Opportunities fund in 2012; up to $200m to SOF II in 2016) [s306][s307], Nashville's employee pension ($60m to the Direct Lending Fund, with a euro hedge, November 2013) [s309], and Vermont ($50m to the Tactical Solutions Evergreen Fund, reported August 2026) [s322]. BCI stayed "a significant and strategic limited partner in certain key Hayfin fund strategies" after selling its stake [s315].

What they are buying

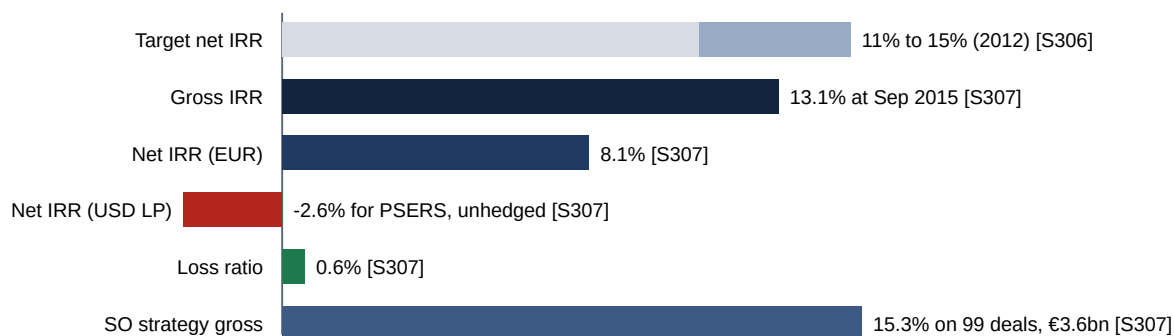

Feature	Evidence
Senior secured European loans, mostly paid in cash	Core product [s71]; software under 6% of DL [s227]; 40% sole-lender [s95]
A European premium	Hayfin says European credits carry a premium over comparable US credits, with lower leverage, tighter documents and smaller lender groups [s95] (firm claim)
Diversification for non-European investors	"adding European exposure is a genuine diversification of underlying risk" (Carlos Pla) [s277]
Locked-up capital, no retail	"fully locked-up institutional drawdown funds, with no retail capital" [s227]

Feature	Evidence
Workout capability	LPs' "number one theme" (Flynn) [S281]
A choice of wrapper	Unlevered and levered commingled funds, SMAs, evergreen vehicles, a rated note feeder [S222]
Governance	Advisory Boards twice a year; LPA consent thresholds; line-by-line quarterly reporting [S305]
Minimum ticket	$11,843,300 on Form ADV for most flagship commingled funds, about €10m [S303]

Why they accept the terms, and the counter-case with numbers

They accept a seven to ten year lock-up, no redemption rights ("Investors in the Funds are not entitled to have their interests in the respective Fund redeemed" [S301]), fees and carry, currency risk and reliance on the manager's own valuations. In return they get a floating-rate, senior, contractual income stream with covenants and a manager that can work out problems. Both sides of the evidence:

The only public fund-level record: Special Opportunities Credit Fund I (2012 vintage)

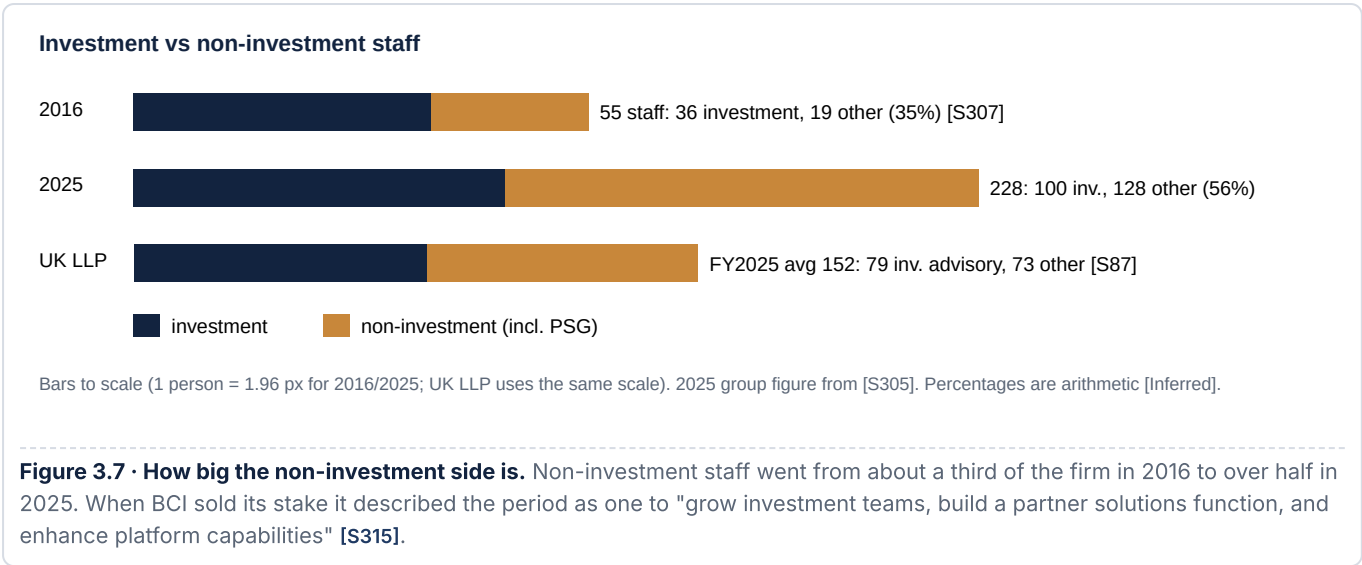

Scale: 20 px per point. Dated Sep 2015; early-life IRRs are depressed by fees. No recent net figures are public.

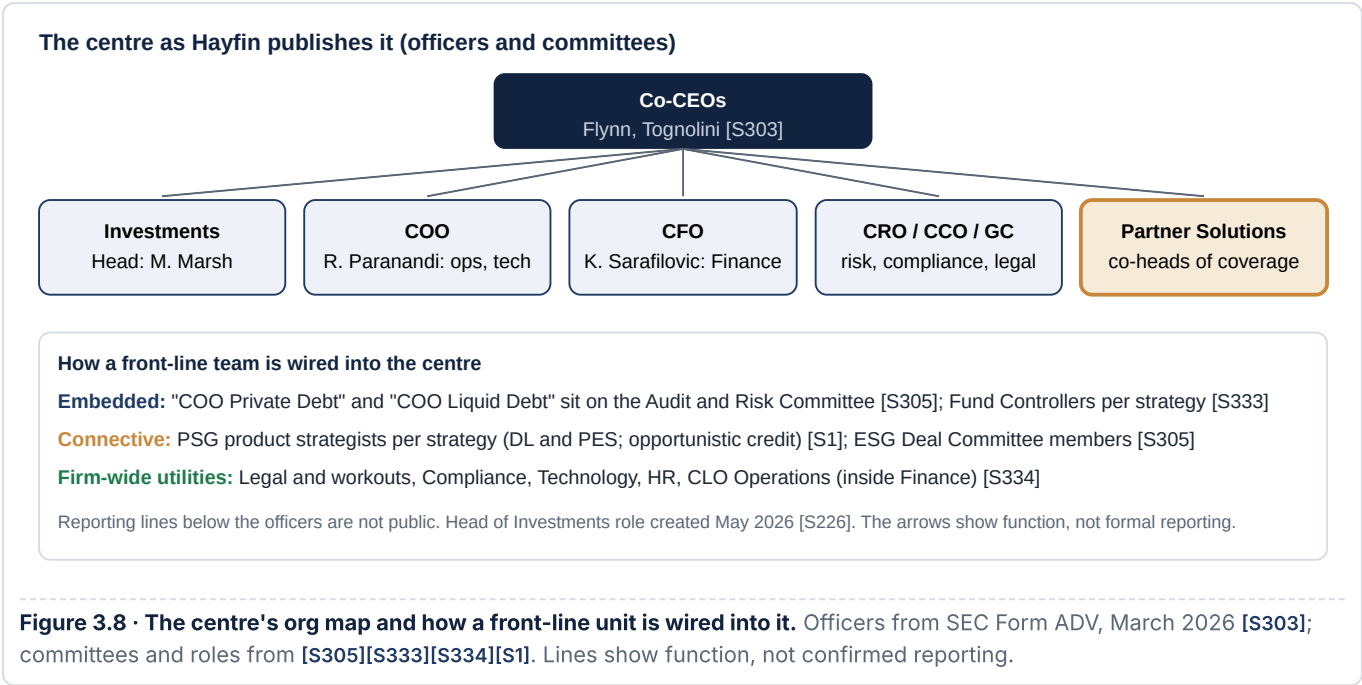

Figure 3.6 · The investor's view of the record, both sides. Source: PSERS board memos 2012 and 2016 [S306][S307]. The euro to dollar gap shows why currency hedging is a DDQ topic; Nashville hedged in 2013 [S309].

The case for (what investors say they buy)	The counter-case (numbers from both sides)
Record raise: DLF V over €15bn, 2.5x DLF IV [S71]	Size tests discipline: 228 staff and 100 investment professionals in 2025 [S305] against a €15bn+ fund
Low realised losses: "no realized losses as a result of an event of default" to September 2015 [S307]	That statement is eleven years old; no current loss rate is public. Broad direct lending index losses are estimated around 1.5% a year [S344]
Diversification for US and Asian LPs [S277]	Currency: 8.0% in euros became -2.6% in dollars for an unhedged LP [S307]
Closed-end structure avoided 2026's retail gating [S221]	PSERS booked a -$3.9m carried interest accrual on its Hayfin funds in 2024 [S308], suggesting weaker marks on older funds
Multi-strategy breadth and workout skill [S307]	Breadth creates conflicts; Hayfin's own rules show they occur [S305]

4. The non-investment side: size, organisation and wiring

How it is organised. The SEC Form ADV lists the officers: Co-CEOs Flynn and Tognolini, CFO Kevin Sarafilovic, COO Raj Paranandi, CRO Andrew McCullagh, General Counsel David Rushford, CCO Lara Dressler [s303]. The people page filter lists titles including Chief Technology Officer and Head of ESG [s329]. Named committees: Executive, Investment, ESG Deal, ESG Steering, ESG Governance, Investments Conflicts, Risk and Compliance, Audit and Risk, Valuation, Culture [s305][s333]. Fund administration is outsourced in the UK, Luxembourg and the US, with Vistra as third-party AIFM for some Luxembourg funds [s303][s333]. Confirmed

Role	City	Department	The sentence that reveals the wiring
Analyst, Product Strategy	London	Partner Solutions	"drafting RFP/DDQ responses for senior review"; keeping "the firm's FAQ current" (snippet, date unknown) [S20]
Fund Controller, Private Credit	London	Finance	Reviews NAVs "before it goes to investors"; "with DLF VI to follow" [S333]
CLO Operations Associate	London	Finance	Warehouses, payment dates and trustees [S334]
Private Credit Intern (6 months)	London	Direct Lending	Across Direct Lending and Special Opportunities [S266]

Hayfin's Workable board showed four openings at the time of research, including one Partner Solutions role [S267]. Point-in-time only.

YOUR OPINION GOES HERE

Two job lines matter most for you. "With DLF VI to follow" means the next fundraise is already in view, so PSG will be producing materials for DLF VI while reporting on DLF V. And "make sure they operate at their best" tells you the analyst and intern role is a force multiplier for coverage. Do you see that as support work, or as the place where the firm's credibility is actually built? Have an answer.

PART 4

How Hayfin stands out

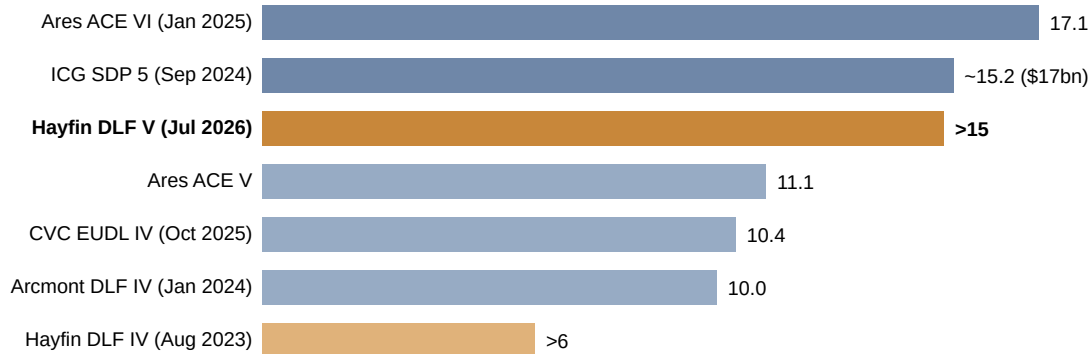

The competitive landscape, the design spectrum, what only Hayfin can claim, and where it does not lead

The peer table

Figures are as published by each firm or reported by trade press, at the dates shown. Measures differ: some fund sizes include leverage, mandates or related vehicles; some AUM figures are cumulative capital raised. Treat comparisons as indicative.

Largest European direct lending fundraises on record, by headline figure (€ bn)

Scale 24 px per €1bn. Not like-for-like: ACE VI is LP equity; SDP 5 incl. mandates and sidecars; DLF V incl. related vehicles.

Figure 4.1 · Where DLF V ranks. On headline numbers DLF V is one of the three largest European direct lending raises; With Intelligence named it the largest private credit fund to close in H1 2026 [S241]. Hayfin's step-up from DLF IV (over 2.5x) is the largest in this set [Inferred from figures].

The design spectrum: where Hayfin sits

Seven design choices, and where each firm sits (positions are the author's judgement from sourced facts)

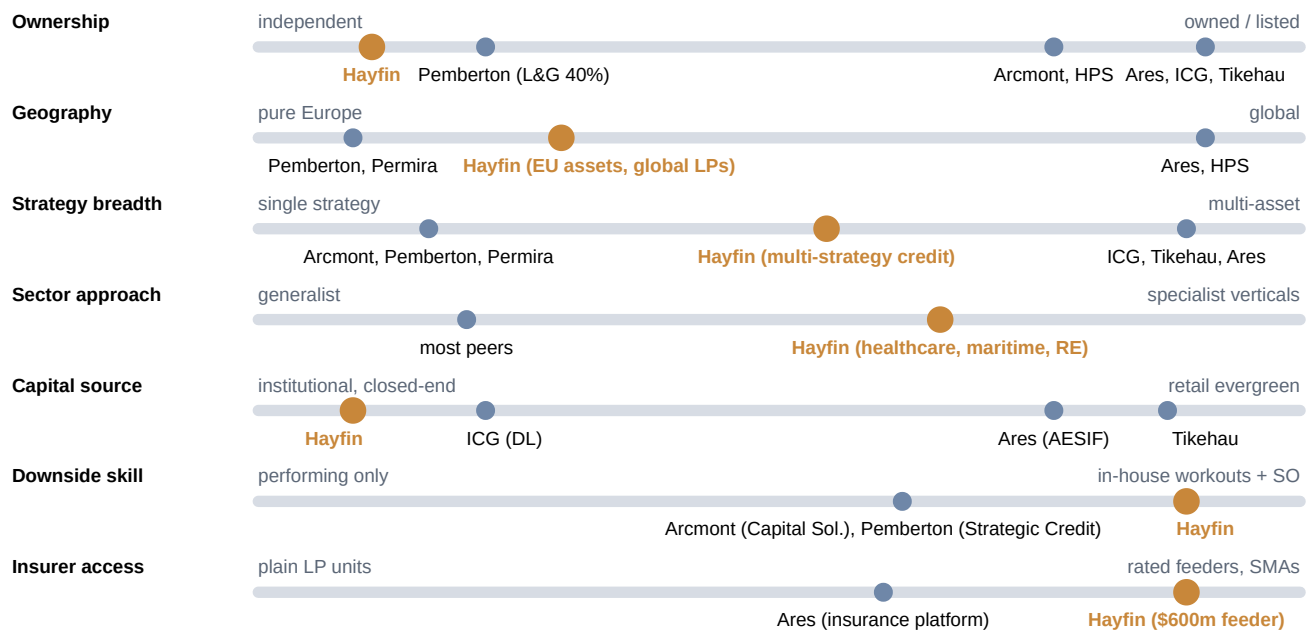

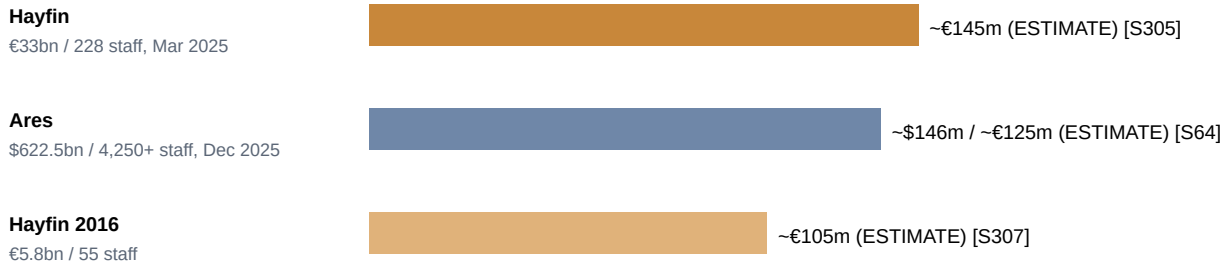

Figure 4.2 · The competitive spectrum. Positions are the author's judgement Inferred from sourced facts: ownership [S124] [S131][S140][S146]; geography [S121][S125][S126]; breadth [S127][S133][S141]; capital source [S136][S141][S134][S227]; downside [S149][S130][S138]; insurer access [S122][S136].

Size against staffing

AUM per employee: an estimate from the only two clean pairs found

Scale 2 px per €1m. EUR/USD ~1.17 is the author's assumption. Indicative only; peer headcounts are rarely public.

Figure 4.3 · Size against staffing. All three bars are estimates computed by the author from firm-reported AUM and headcount. The point is narrow: Hayfin runs about as much money per person as a global giant, while covering many more strategy types per €bn. Do not quote these numbers as facts.

What only Hayfin can claim (and the evidence)

#	Claim	Evidence	Why it matters (for an investor)
1	The largest step-up between flagship vintages among the peers reviewed	DLF V >€15bn vs DLF IV >€6bn [S71]; Ares +53% [S135]; Tikehau ~+60% [S141]	Re-ups plus new LPs at scale in a hard year: a vote of confidence from investors who did diligence on PIK and losses [S222]
2	A top-three European DL raise by an independent, management-owned firm	Ares and ICG listed; Arcmont Nuveen-owned [S135][S132][S131]; Hayfin management majority [S301]	Alignment: the people running the money own the business
3	Lender at "8%+ and 15%+" from one origination platform	PSERS 2016 memo [S307]; Tactical sits between DL and SO [S328]	More deal flow, better pricing, deployment across the cycle
4	Written cross-fund conflict rules more specific than most public disclosures	Non-blocking minority rule, Conflicts Committee, cross-trade sign-off [S305]	Answers the first DDQ question a multi-fund investor asks [Inferred on comparison]
5	An insurer-specific rated note feeder inside the flagship close	~$600m; "one of the first priced by a European direct lending manager" (Hayfin's claim) [S222][S237]	Capital-efficient access for insurers, 19.5% of AUM [S305]
6	Shipping lending and ownership at scale inside a credit platform	Maritime: 15 specialists, $4bn+ deployed, 100+ vessels [S227]	No peer of similar size in this set shows maritime Inferred
7	Shareholders who double as an Asian distribution bridge	Samsung Life shareholder [S75]; Seoul IR office 1 Oct 2026 [S223]; ~€1bn for Korean clients [S239]	A route into a large insurer and pension market Inferred

Where Hayfin does not lead (so you never overclaim)

- Not the largest European DL fund. Ares ACE VI (€17.1bn) is bigger and ICG SDP 5 (~€15.2bn) is comparable [S135][S132].
- Not the largest manager. Ares $671bn, ICG $126bn, Tikehau €53.5bn, against Hayfin's ~€40bn [S136] [S133][S141][S224].
- Not in the PEI Private Credit 200 top 10 (capital raised 2021-25): Ares is first, ICG sixth [S144]. DLF V falls in the next ranking window Inferred.
- Not top of the European deal league tables in H1 2026: Ares (31 deals), Arcmont (23), Apollo (20) led Debtwire's ranking [S186].

- No PDI Lender of the Year Europe award found for 2024 or 2025; Pemberton won for 2025 [s139]. Hayfin did win Mergermarket's Private Credit Lender of the Year in September 2026 [s224].
- No wealth or retail product, the fastest-growing capital pool; Ares raised $1.0bn into its European evergreen fund in a single quarter [s136]. A deliberate choice, but a gap.
- Mid-sized CLO platform, similar to Permira's [s143][s225], and the US CLO arm is under review [s225].
- "Conservative closed-end" is not unique. ICG's CEO: "we have no open-ended or so-called semi-liquid structures in direct lending" [s134].

DON'T SAY THIS

"Hayfin is the biggest" or "Hayfin has the best returns". Neither is supported. Say "one of the three largest European direct lending raises on record" and "the largest step-up between vintages among its peers".

PART 5

Private credit from zero

What it is, who borrows, who invests, how big it is, what is changing, and three views of the next five years

What private credit is

A company that wants to borrow has three broad options. It can borrow from a bank. It can sell bonds or a syndicated loan to many investors through a bank, which are then traded. Or it can borrow directly from a private credit fund, which negotiates the loan one to one and usually holds it until it is repaid. Private credit means the third option [Inferred, standard definition].

The capital structure of a typical private-equity-owned company, and who funds each layer

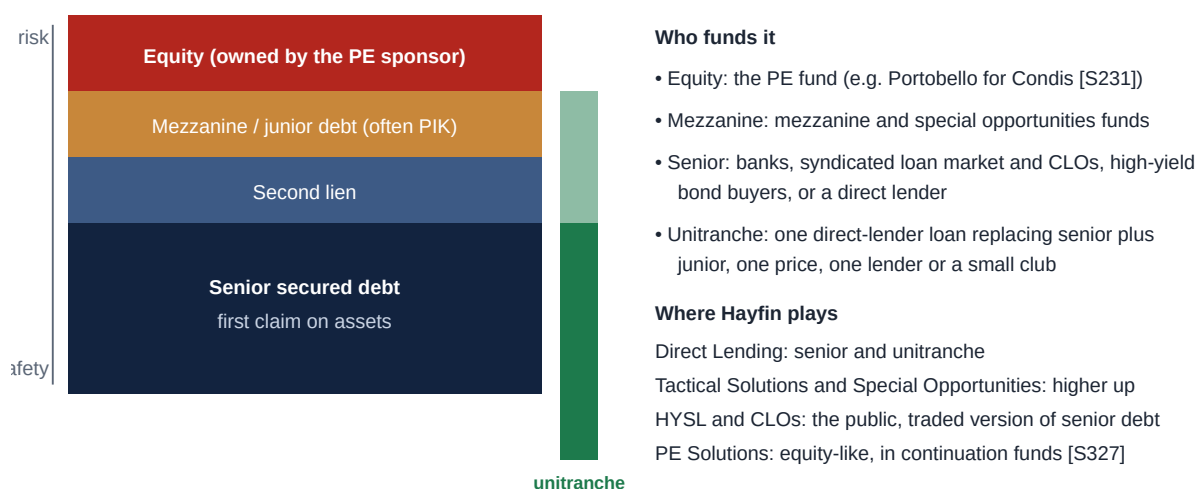

Figure 5.1 · The capital structure and where each lender sits. Illustrative proportions, not data. Unitranche is defined in [S155]; Hayfin strategy positions from [S327][S328].

KEY TERMS

Direct lending: a fund lends directly to a mid-sized company, usually PE-owned, often to pay for a buyout; floating rate, senior secured, 5 to 7 years. Senior secured: first claim on the company's assets. Unitranche: one loan blending senior and junior debt. Mezzanine: junior debt between senior and equity. Special situations / opportunities: flexible capital for complex or stressed cases. Distressed: buying debt of companies near default at a discount. Asset-based finance (ABF): loans secured on pools of assets, not company cash flow. NAV lending: loans to a PE fund secured on its portfolio. CLO: a vehicle that buys syndicated loans and funds itself with rated slices of debt. High yield: traded bonds rated below investment grade. Floating rate: interest that moves with a base rate such as Euribor. Covenant: a promise by the borrower, such as keeping leverage below a level. PIK (payment in kind): interest added to the loan instead of paid in cash.

Who borrows, who invests, and how it differs from neighbours

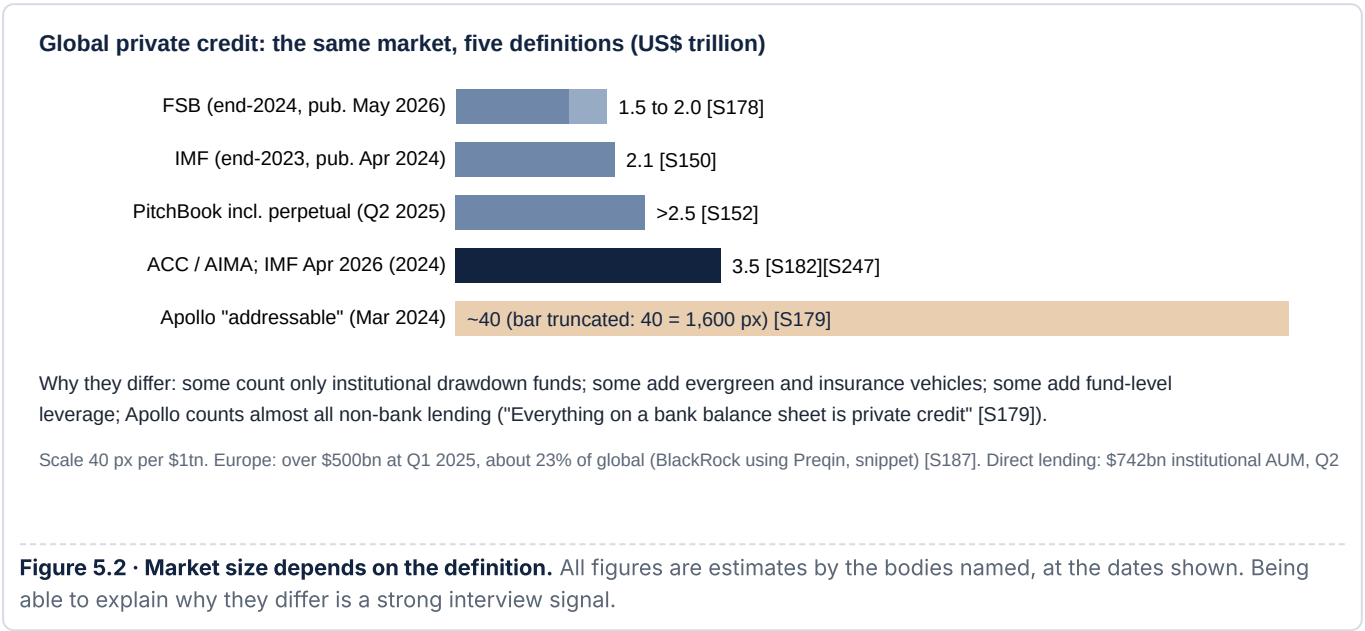

Borrowers. Mostly PE-owned mid-market companies. The IMF said private credit borrowers "are often smaller and more indebted" than bond or syndicated loan issuers [S150]. The FSB said in May 2026 that borrowers "typically have lower credit quality and higher leverage", concentrated in technology, healthcare and services [S178]. Confirmed

Investors. Pension funds, insurers, sovereign wealth funds, endowments, family offices, funds of funds and, increasingly, wealthy individuals through wealth platforms. The Alternative Credit Council's 2025 survey found institutions supplied 76% of commitments and retail about 24% [S182]. In the euro area, insurers hold about €211bn of private credit exposure, pension funds about €52bn, banks €62.5bn (ECB, May 2026) [S177]. [Confirmed for ECB]

Compared with	The key difference
Banks	Banks fund loans with deposits and must hold regulatory capital; private credit funds use investors' money locked up for years, so there is less mismatch between short-term funding and long-term loans. AIFMD II now bans EU loan-origination funds whose strategy is "originate-to-distribute" [S163]. [Confirmed for AIFMD II; rest Inferred]
Private equity	PE buys equity for capital gain. Private credit lends for contractual interest with seniority and covenants. PE firms are private credit's main customers Inferred .
Hedge funds	Usually trade liquid securities with frequent redemption; private credit is illiquid, closed-end, hold to maturity. They overlap in distressed and special situations Inferred .
Traditional asset managers	Long-only bond managers buy public bonds. Private credit managers originate, structure, monitor and work out loans, which needs deal and restructuring teams Inferred .

Banks and funds are increasingly linked, not just rivals. The FSB counts about $220bn of bank credit lines to private credit funds; commercial estimates run $270bn to $500bn [S178]. In May 2026 Citi and HPS launched a €15bn European programme in which Citi sources deals and HPS provides capital [S255].

How big it is, and why estimates differ

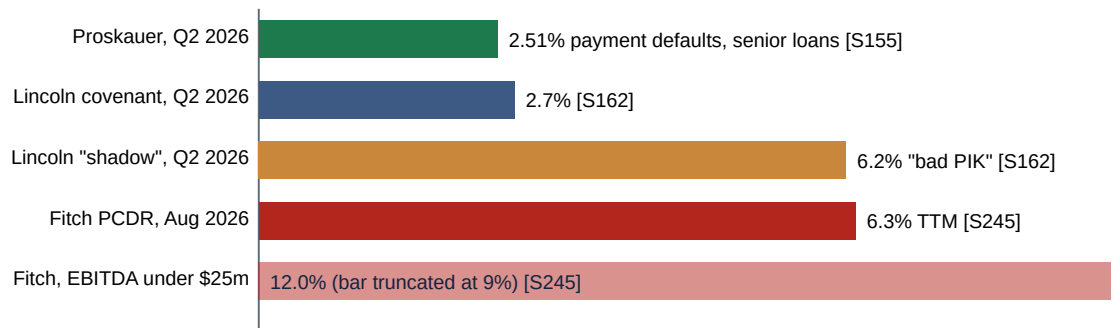

SAY THIS IN THE INTERVIEW

"It depends on the definition. The IMF said about $2.1 trillion at end-2023; the industry body says $3.5 trillion including more vehicles; Apollo argues the addressable market is $40 trillion because it counts most bank lending. Hayfin plays in the classic slice: sponsor-backed European mid-market loans and special situations."

Defaults: three measures that tell three stories

US private credit "default rates", mid-2026 (%)

Fitch counts PIK switches, deferrals and distressed extensions as defaults: 47% of its events were PIK or deferrals, only 4% bankruptcies [S245].

Scale 50 px per 1%. The Fitch August figure is from a newswire relay of Fitch (single source). No comparable European series was found [Gap].

Figure 5.3 · Three measures of default. The cash default rate in senior direct lending is low (2-3%); stress shows up as PIK, amend-and-extend and covenant resets. That is why LPs now ask for PIK and amendment data, and why Hayfin wrote "A Tale of Three PIKs" [S229].

Returns. PitchBook: rolling one-year private debt IRRs "fell to 3.9%" through H1 2025, the weakest since 2020 [S152]. By Q2 2026 "headline returns have compressed into the mid-single digits", and "the metric most relevant to LPs is not absolute return, but the excess spread that managers can generate over public fixed-income products" [S151]. Confirmed

The forces reshaping the sector now

Industry shift map, 2025-2026: tailwinds (green) and headwinds (red) for a European institutional credit manager

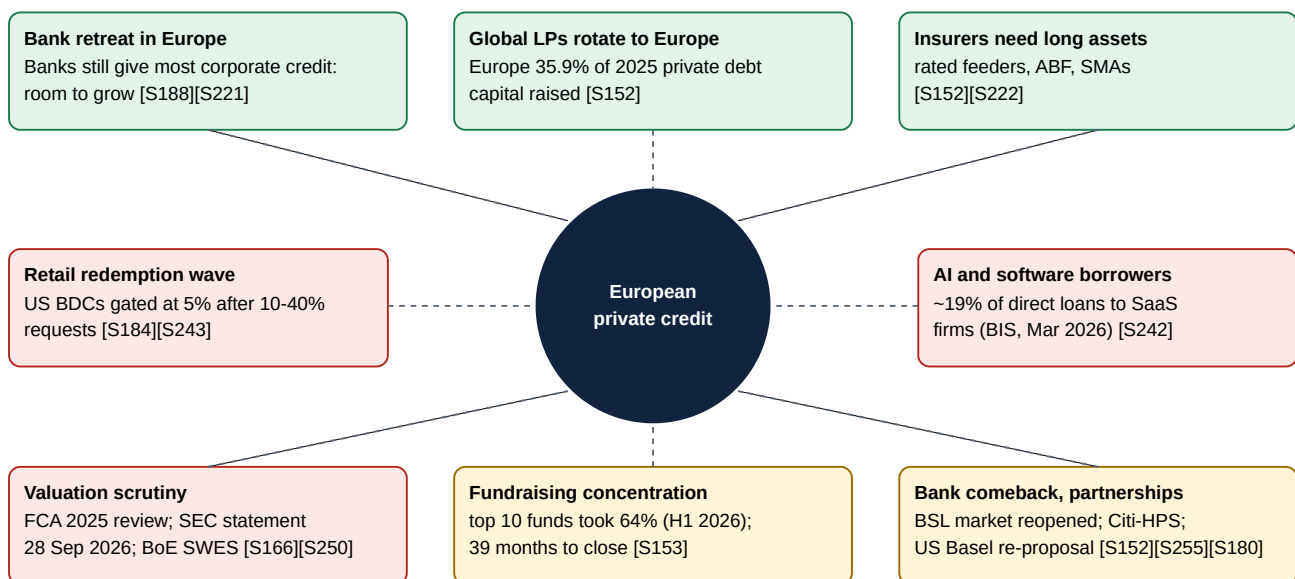

Figure 5.4 · The industry shift map. Green: tailwinds; red: headwinds; amber: double-edged. Sources as marked. The colouring is the author's judgement for a European, institutional, closed-end manager such as Hayfin Inferred; for a US retail-focused manager several colours flip.

- The 2026 retail redemption wave. In Q1 2026 investors asked to redeem 21.9% of Blue Owl Credit Income Corp and 40.7% of Blue Owl Technology Income Corp; both capped payouts at 5%. Apollo Debt Solutions saw 11.2%, Ares Strategic Income about 11.6%, HPS Corporate Lending 9.3%, Blackstone's BCRED 7.9% (it raised its cap to 7%) [S184]. In Q2 about 10% of BCRED asked to leave and 5% was paid

[s243] (Bloomberg headline, not read in full). Mohamed El-Erian asked whether it was a "canary-in-the-coalmine moment, similar to August 2007?" [s184]. Reported

- Fundraising: more money, fewer funds, longer waits. Preqin data via Paul Weiss: $132.5bn raised in H1 2026 from only 80 funds, the lowest count in five years; top 10 funds took 64%; average time to close 39 months, up from 26 in 2024 [s153]. PitchBook: in 2025, 93% of private debt capital went to managers raising fund four or later; "Private debt fundraising has fully entered its era of manager concentration" [s151][s152]. [Reported / Confirmed]
- Europe in favour. Europe took 35.9% of global private debt capital in 2025, helped by US investors diversifying after the April 2025 tariffs [s152]. European direct lending hit a half-year record of €63.16bn in H1 2026 (Debtwire) [s186]. LPs in the 2026 Intralinks survey prefer UK and Europe (54%) over North America (50%) [s189].
- AI. Private credit loans to software firms rose from about $8bn in 2015 to over $500bn by end-2025, about 19% of direct loans; software stocks fell almost 30% between October 2025 and February 2026 [s242]. Hayfin says software is under 6% of its DL book [s227].
- Valuations. The FCA's March 2025 review of 36 firms found valuation conflicts only partly identified and praised "value bridge" reporting [s166]. The SEC issued a staff statement on private credit valuations on 28 September 2026 [s250]. The Bank of England's private markets stress scenario reports early 2027 [s175].
- Banks compete and partner. The US Fed, FDIC and OCC re-proposed Basel III capital rules on 19 March 2026, estimating up to $441bn of extra lending capacity [s180]. Final status not confirmed [Gap].

Three competing views of the next three to five years

VIEW 1 · STRUCTURAL BULL

Who: Marc Rowan (Apollo), Jon Gray (Blackstone). Claim: private credit is a $40tn opportunity; "The vast, vast majority of private credit is investment grade" [s179]; Gray cites "tremendous structural tailwinds" [s199]. Logic: banks keep shrinking risk, insurers need long assets, retail wants yield.

VIEW 2 · CYCLICAL BEAR

Who: Jamie Dimon ("when you see one cockroach, there are probably more", 14 Oct 2025) [s157]; El-Erian [s184]; Fitch's record default series [s245]; IMF and FSB warnings [s150] [s178]. Logic: weaker borrowers, defaults hidden as PIK, model-based marks, and evergreen funds promising liquidity on illiquid loans. 2026 gating is the evidence.

VIEW 3 · WATCHED, NOT SYSTEMIC

Who: ECB (May 2026): "unlikely that private credit in isolation could be a source of systemic financial instability at present" [s177]; Cambridge Associates on First Brands and Tricolor: "idiosyncratic, driven by fraud" [s158]; PitchBook: performance will "depend more on manager selectivity than on macro tailwinds" [s152]. Logic: losses will be manager-specific; good underwriters and workout teams win.

The LP middle ground. Coller Capital's Summer 2026 barometer: only 29% of LPs plan to grow private credit target allocations, down from 42% six months earlier, but 87% will maintain or grow exposure; 53% see "isolated pockets of elevated risk", 18% a systemic problem [s183]. Reported

A defensible line for a PSG candidate: "I lean to the third view. Bank exposure is small and losses look manager-specific. But Dimon's point about underwriting dispersion is right, which is exactly why investors now ask about PIK, loss rates and workout capability. That favours managers with a workout team and transparent reporting." Then be ready for "So is Hayfin one of those?" Answer with evidence from Part 3, not adjectives.

PART 6

Investor relations in private markets

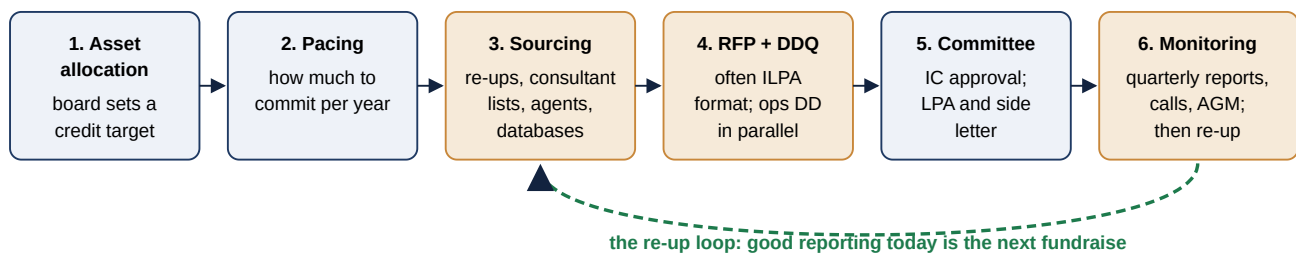

How investors pick managers, the fundraising market, the supplier map, what LPs value, and the regulation that shapes the job

A short history of the IR function

No dedicated source on the history of private markets IR was found, so this paragraph is the author's synthesis Inferred. In the 1990s and 2000s, founders and partners raised money themselves, with placement agents doing much of the legwork. As funds multiplied and investors professionalised (consultants, operational due diligence teams, ILPA standards from 2009), managers built dedicated IR teams covering fundraising, reporting and servicing. SMAs, co-investment and wealth channels widened the job into product design and client servicing. Hayfin's rename from "Business Development" to "Partner Solutions" between 2021 and 2023 [S12][S11] fits that arc.

How an investor chooses, and keeps, a manager

The allocation process at a typical pension fund, and what PSG supplies at each step

What PSG supplies (amber steps)

Step 3: consultant database updates (eVestment covers 16,231 GP profiles, Q1 2026 [S55]), pitch book, case studies, conference meetings.

Step 4: RFP and DDQ answers. "For most institutional LPs, a consultant's recommendation is a prerequisite" (vendor source, low weight) [S202].

Step 6: quarterly reports, Advisory Boards, ad hoc data. PitchBook reads 2026 closes as "LPs re-upping with proven managers" [S151].

Figure 6.1 · The allocation process. Steps are typical, not universal [Inferred; structure partly from S202]. Steps 3, 4 and 6 are where the JD's duties sit. A vendor source puts the process at six to eighteen months [S202].

The fundraising market in numbers

Measure	Value	Source
Global credit fundraising, H1 2026 (Preqin)	$132.5bn, from only 80 funds; top 10 took 64%	[S153]
Average time to final close (Preqin)	39 months H1 2026; 29 in 2025; 26 in 2024	[S153]
Private debt raised, H1 2026 (PitchBook)	$158.3bn across 88 funds; 2026 on track for second-best year	[S151]
H1 2026 final closes (With Intelligence)	$190bn, up 53%; funds over $5bn took 59%	[S241]
Capital to managers on fund four or later, 2025	93%	[S152]
First-time managers, 2025	$3.7bn across 18 funds, a record low count	[S152]
Average fund step-up, 2025	38.2%; 80% of funds larger than predecessors	[S152]
Dry powder, end-2025	$547bn, down more than $120bn year on year	[S151]

Preqin, PitchBook and With Intelligence use different definitions; the direction (more money, fewer funds, longer timelines, bigger winners) is consistent across all three Inferred.

Placement agents and the supplier map

Placement agents introduce managers to investors, shape the pitch and run the process, often for 1% to 3% of capital raised (vendor estimate, low weight) [S193]. Big names include Park Hill (PJT), Evercore Private Capital Advisory, Campbell Lutyens, Lazard Private Capital Advisory, Eaton Partners and Monument Group [S193]. Consolidation: on 30 April 2026 Lazard agreed to buy Campbell Lutyens for $575m plus up to $85m contingent [S192]. [Confirmed for terms] Hayfin's UK LLP booked £1.35m of placement fees in 2025 [S23] (read from a scanned image), so it uses agents in some channels. Credit Suisse was exclusive placement agent for SOF II in 2016, paid by Hayfin [S307].

Category	Examples	Why PSG cares
Fund administrators	Citco, SS&C, Alter Domus, Apex, IQ-EQ Inferred ; Hayfin uses administrators in the UK, Luxembourg, US [S303]	Source of capital account statements and the investor portal for CEO letters [S305]
Data rooms	SS&C Intralinks [S189], Datasite Inferred	Where DDQ answers and documents live during a raise
CRM	Salesforce, DealCloud, Backstop, Dynamo Inferred	The Chicago posting asks for CRM "hygiene" [S332]
DDQ and RFP automation, AI	Sightglass (bought by Juniper Square, 14 April 2026) [S190]; Ontra DDQ (May 2026) [S191]; Loopio, Responsive, Dasseti Inferred	The JD's "improve efficiency using AI tools" line
Data and databases	Preqin, PitchBook, eVestment, Burgiss/MSCI [Inferred; S55]	Consultants screen managers here first

What LPs value today

What LPs say drives GP selection (SS&C Intralinks 2026 LP Survey, 280+ LPs, % citing)

Also: 77% call a GP's ESG credentials "very important" in due diligence; 25% want better digital interfaces and 23% better reporting analytics; 86% already use GenAI to monitor investments [S189].

Figure 6.2 · What LPs value. Scale 6 px per percentage point. Source: SS&C Intralinks with Reuters Events, 2026 LP Survey [S189]. A vendor survey; respondents could choose several criteria.

What Hayfin's own LPs asked about in 2026: "LP scrutiny of downside protection even deeper than in previous cycles, particularly around use of PIK, technology exposure and loss rates" [S222]. And at the New York Investor Day: "portfolio transparency, views on AI disruption across our own portfolios, and the durability of European private credit" [S228]. [Confirmed, Hayfin's own account]

The regulation that shapes the job

This is the highest-leverage technical area for a PSG candidate. Get the instrument names and dates exactly right.

Regulation timeline for private markets investor relations (EU, UK, US, industry standards)

■ EU ■ UK ■ US ■ Industry standard ■ Future / under consultation

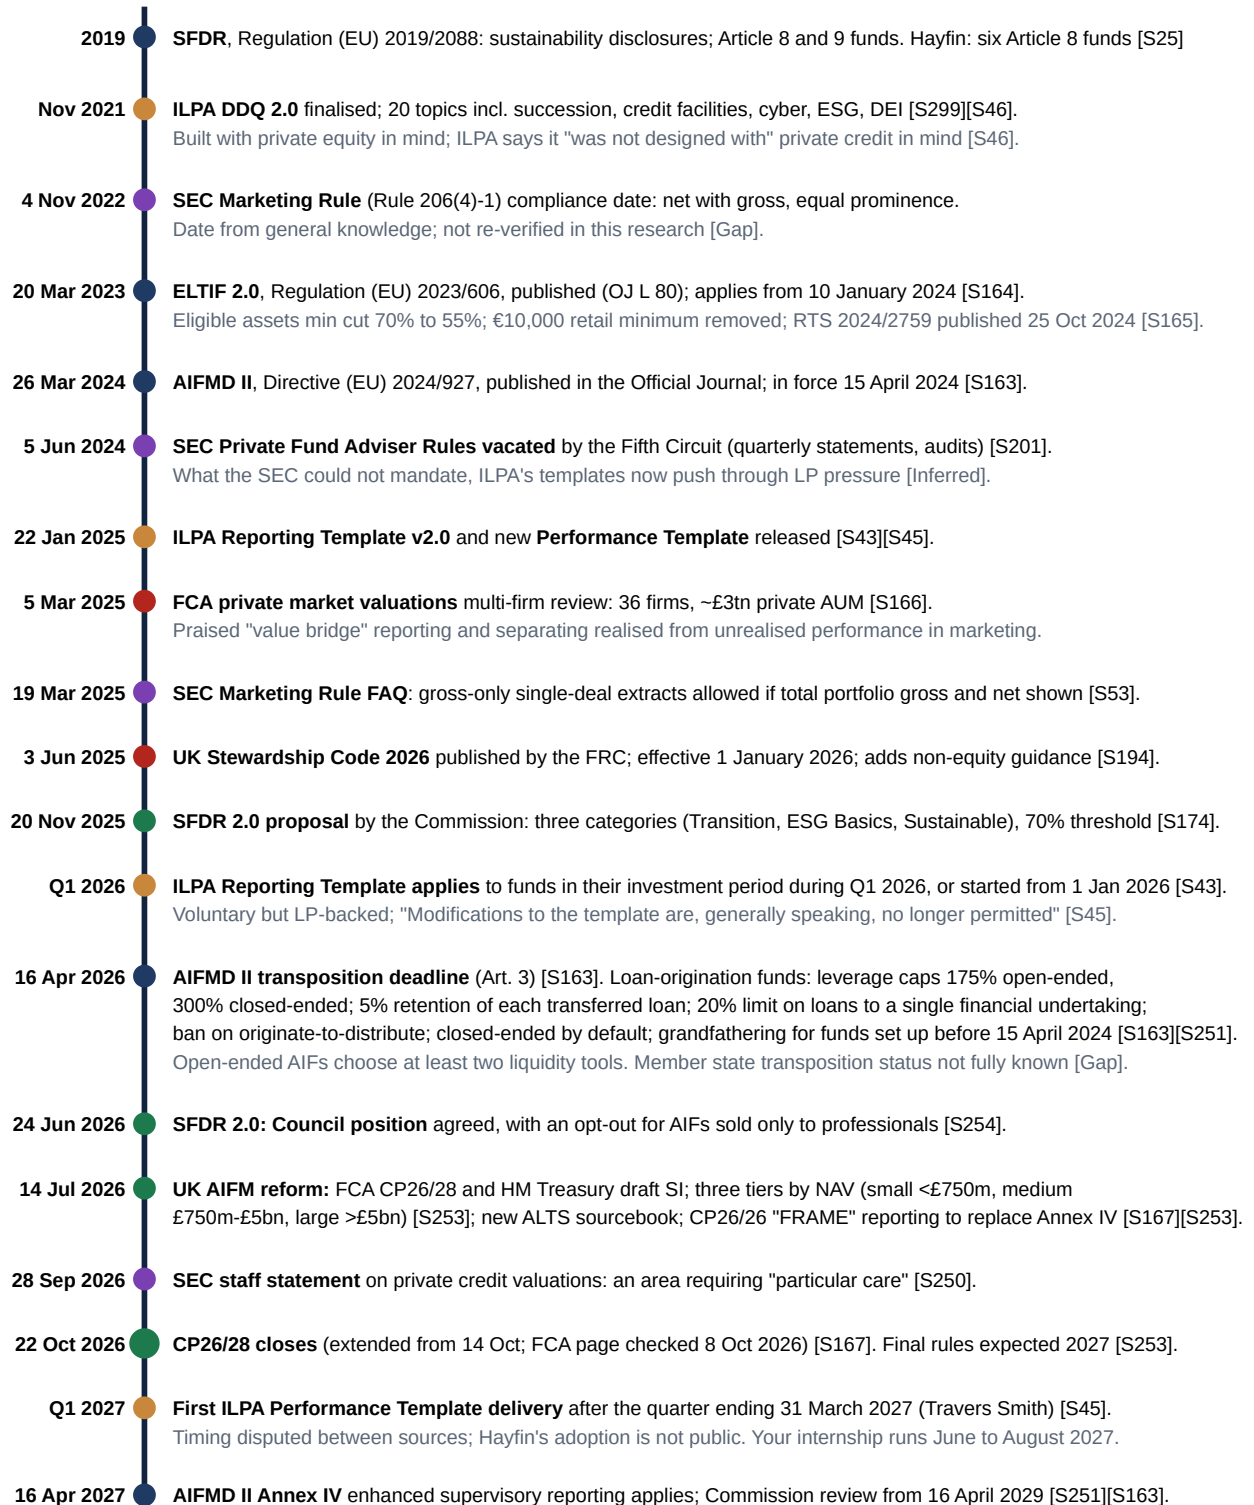

Figure 6.3 · The regulation timeline. Dates from EUR-Lex [S163][S164], the FCA [S166][S167], ILPA [S43] and law firm briefings [S45][S53][S174][S251][S253][S254]. The CP26/28 closing date was checked directly on the FCA page on 8 October 2026: 22 October 2026 for the CP and the prudential discussion chapter.

Why each rule matters to the PSG seat

Rule	What it changes in your work
AIFMD II (EU)	DDQs on EU funds now ask about leverage limits, liquidity tools, risk retention and delegation. Closed-ended drawdown funds such as DLF V fit the default model; evergreen structures need liquidity tool disclosures [Inferred from S163, S251]. Hayfin has a Luxembourg office and uses a Luxembourg AIFM for some funds [S303].
UK AIFM reform (CP26/28)	At about €40bn AUM Hayfin would sit in the proposed large tier Inferred . The UK is lightening and simplifying while the EU tightens loan-origination rules; a UK manager with EU funds runs both regimes.
FCA COBS 4 and anti-greenwashing	Every pitch page and case study is a communication that must be fair, clear and not misleading [S49]; sustainability claims must match the product [S52]. Hayfin trained PSG on this in 2024 [S25].
SEC Marketing Rule	US-facing material: net next to gross; single-deal case studies need the whole-portfolio context [S53]. Hayfin's PES update uses this language [S330].
ILPA templates	Standard capital account, fee reconciliation and performance layouts; new items such as subscription line costs shown separately [S258]. Likely live work in summer 2027.
SFDR and SFDR 2.0	Even with a professional-AIF opt-out, LPs are likely to keep asking for SFDR-style data through "bespoke diligence, side letters, and parallel disclosure packs" (Proskauer, paraphrase) [S254].
ELTIF 2.0, UK LTAF	The wrappers for selling private credit to wealthier individuals in Europe and the UK. Hayfin has none today [S227]; know them for the "would you launch one?" question.

SAY THIS IN THE INTERVIEW

"AIFMD II had to be transposed by 16 April 2026, and it sets rules for loan-originating funds: 300% leverage cap for closed-ended funds, 5% risk retention, no originate-to-distribute. Closed-ended drawdown funds like DLF V fit that model well. In the UK the FCA is going the other way on burden, with CP26/28 proposing a tiered regime; the consultation closes on 22 October."

DON'T SAY THIS

"The UK has to implement AIFMD II." It does not: the UK left the EU, so AIFMD II binds EU managers and EU funds, while the UK runs its own reform. Hayfin is affected by both because it has a UK manager and EU fund vehicles Inferred .

PART 7

What is happening right now

Twelve stories from April to October 2026, each with why it matters to Hayfin, to PSG, and what you could say Date discipline: every story carries its date. Anything older than six months (before 8 April 2026) is marked CONTEXT. Paywalled articles were not read beyond their headline and are marked so in the source table.

1 · Hayfin closes Direct Lending Fund V above €15bn

2 Jul 2026

Headline and outlet: "Hayfin announces record close of Direct Lending Fund V in excess of €15bn", Hayfin press release [S221]; Alternative Credit Investor same day [S236]; follow-up by the PSG co-heads, 22 Sep 2026 [S222].

In plain English: Hayfin raised over €15bn from large investors to lend directly to mid-sized companies. That is more than double the previous fund (over €6bn, August 2023). Over 50% was already invested across 35+ companies at close [S221]. About $600m came through a rated note feeder for insurers [S237]. A 9fin headline put the target at €10bn [S238] (body not read).

Why it matters to Hayfin: it doubles the flagship and shows investors trusted the firm in a rough year. Why it matters to PSG: it is PSG's output. The September piece says over half the capital came from EMEA including 10% from the Middle East; consultant involvement was "greater than in any prior Hayfin fundraise"; and scrutiny focused on "PIK, technology exposure and loss rates" [S222].

Say or ask: "DLF V drew more capital from outside Europe and more through consultants than any earlier fund. How has that changed what PSG produces, for example consultant data templates or ILPA-format reporting?"

2 · Hayfin opens a Seoul investor relations office

1 Oct 2026

Outlet: Hayfin release [S223]; Korea Herald [S239]. In plain English: not a lending team. A sales and client-service office for Korean pension funds and insurers, at Three IFC, Yeouido, led by Sijin (Chris) Choi, ex-UBS Asset Management. Hayfin manages nearly €1bn for Korean investors and has since 2016 [S239].

Why it matters: Samsung Life became a shareholder in 2025 [S75]; Korea also matters to the Maritime strategy (over $1bn invested in Korean-built vessels or shipyards) [S239]. For PSG: a PSG office in all but name. Risa Lipsky told the Korea Herald: "The tone, the willingness or wanting to meet and discuss Hayfin's platform has definitely picked up" [S277].

Ask: "With coverage in Seoul, Tokyo, Melbourne and the US, how does London keep DDQ answers and reporting consistent across time zones and languages?"

3 · European CLO expansion; US CLO business under review

18 May 2026

Outlet: Hayfin release [S225]; no independent coverage found. In plain English: a CLO buys a pool of loans and funds itself by selling bonds in slices of different risk. Hayfin raised equity for future European CLOs (€5.8bn across 14 deals) and hired Greensledge to "explore options" for its €1.4bn US CLO business. No outcome reported by 8 Oct 2026 [Gap].

Why it matters: a clear signal of "renewed strategic focus on its core European investing businesses" [S225]. For PSG: CLO investors are bond buyers with trustees and rating agencies; a review needs careful, consistent communication.

Opinion you could offer: "Hayfin looks to be raising global capital for European assets rather than building US lending."

4 · Michael Marsh joins as Head of Investments

7 May 2026

Outlet: Hayfin release [S226]; Alternative Credit Investor [S280]. A new role with "day-to-day leadership of Hayfin's investing businesses". Marsh spent almost two decades at Goldman Sachs, latterly Head of Capital Solutions EMEA, partner from 2014 [S226].

For PSG: investors ask about key people and succession in every DDQ (ILPA DDQ 2.0 has a succession section [S299]). A new investment leader is a standard DDQ and LP-letter update. Ask: "When a senior investment hire arrives mid-cycle, how does PSG communicate it to LPs and update key-person answers?"

5 · Deal flow and an award

May to Sep 2026

CloserStill Media (8 May) and Hyve (3 Jun, fully underwritten for Hellman & Friedman), both B2B events and repeat borrowers [S220][S233]; Condis, €305m sole-lender unitranche in Spain, where Hayfin has invested over €2.5bn [S231]; Serwent, Nordic sole lender [S232]; Mergermarket "Private Credit Lender of the Year" at the European PE Awards, 30 Sep, with a stated target deal size of €100m to €400m [S224]. Hayfin also claims a Debtwire fund award that could not be independently confirmed [S224].

For PSG: case-study material. Note the award release carries a disclaimer that awards are not indicative of performance [S224]; typical compliance language an intern must keep in. Ask: "Hyve and CloserStill are both repeat borrowers in one sector. How does PSG present sector concentration when the firm has real conviction in a niche?"

6 · The US semi-liquid fund redemption wave

Q1 to Q3 2026

Outlets: Advisor.ca compilation, 14 Apr 2026 [S184]; Bloomberg via Bloomberg Law, 4 Jun 2026 (headline only) [S243]; PitchBook News, 30 Sep 2026 [S244]. In plain English: non-traded BDCs are US lending funds sold to wealthy individuals that normally let up to 5% of the fund leave each quarter. In 2026 far more asked to leave, so funds paid only part ("gated"). Goldman Sachs Private Credit Corp's Q3 requests fell to 2%; PitchBook says requests "have begun to fall" but remain above 5% at many funds [S244].

Why it matters to Hayfin: it turned the stress into a selling point: strains in US semi-liquid funds "accelerated LP demand for conservative fund structures" [S221]; its private credit uses "fully locked-up institutional drawdown funds, with no retail capital" [S227]. Note Hayfin also offers "institutional evergreen vehicles" [S221]: know the difference between institutional evergreen and retail semi-liquid.

Opinion you could offer: "The gating showed the product worked as designed but the explanation did not. Liquidity terms should be explained so clearly that no investor is surprised. That is an IR job, not just a legal one."

7 · AI and software loans (theme of the year)

CONTEXT: BIS, 16 Mar 2026

Outlet: BIS Quarterly Review, Box B [S242]. Loans to software firms grew from about $8bn in 2015 to over $500bn by end-2025, about 19% of direct loans; software stocks fell almost 30% from October 2025 to February 2026 [S242]. Hayfin: software under 6% of DL, under 5% in the latest vintage; software is 20-25% of US private credit activity [S227]. Investor Day themes included "views on AI disruption across our own portfolios" [S228].

Ask: "Fitch's August data shows software defaults at only 0.6% [S245]. Is AI a credit risk today, or a valuation and refinancing risk for later? How does PSG explain that nuance?"

8 · Fitch's US private credit default rate hits 6.3%

14 Sep 2026

Outlet: Benzinga relay of Fitch [S245]; April record of 6% in a Bloomberg headline [S234]. 47% of default events were interest deferrals or PIK substitutions, 41% distressed maturity extensions, only 4% bankruptcies. Borrowers under $25m EBITDA defaulted at 12.0% [S245]. [Reported, single relay]

Why it matters: Hayfin's "A Tale of Three PIKs" (28 Jul 2026) separates good, bad and "fake good" PIK: "A PIK feature's origin tells you how it started; it says nothing about whether the position stays covered" [S229]. Ask: "Does Hayfin distinguish structured PIK from amendment PIK in quarterly reports, as the Three PIKs piece suggests investors should?"

9 · Valuations under the microscope

24 Jun and 29 Sep 2026

Outlets: Alternative Credit Investor [S249][S250]. The SEC chief accountant and the Director of Investment Management issued a joint staff statement on 28 Sep 2026 calling private credit an area requiring "particular care"; private credit in US registered funds rose from $170bn (Dec 2020) to $270bn (Dec 2025) [S250]. MSCI data (May 2026) showed over 10% of private credit fund loans written down by half or more [S249]. The Bank of England's private markets stress scenario reports early 2027 [S175]. Note: ACI dated the FCA valuation review to March 2026; the FCA page shows 5 March 2025 [S166].

For PSG: valuation policy is a core DDQ section and quarterly reports carry the marks. Ask: "Are LPs asking for more third-party valuation support, and has it changed Hayfin's quarterly reporting?"

10 · Bank of England and IMF warnings14 Apr and 7 Jul 2026

IMF April 2026 GFSR (via Reuters): private credit about $3.5tn; "signs of more borrower defaults could cascade into broader concerns about corporate credit overall", but likely "contained systemic impact" [S247]. BoE July 2026 FSR: vulnerabilities "including private credit, remain" and some "have become more pronounced" [S248]. Backdrop: a 2026 Middle East conflict involving Iran and a "fragile ceasefire reached in April" (Hayfin's description) [S227].

For PSG: pension funds and insurers read these reports and bring the questions to managers; good IR pre-empts them in quarterly letters Inferred.

11 · Citi and HPS launch a €15bn European programme18 May 2026

Outlet: Alternative Credit Investor [S255]. Citi sources deals, HPS (BlackRock) provides capital, over an initial five years, starting in Europe and the UK. CONTEXT: Apollo and BNP Paribas were reported "nearing" a European tie-up in February 2026 [S256].

Opinion: "Bank partnerships are a threat at the large end, but they prove banks are stepping back from holding loans, which grows the market Hayfin's local teams compete in."

12 · Fundraising concentrates in fewer, bigger managers12 Aug and 15 Sep 2026

With Intelligence: H1 2026 private credit final closes $190bn, up 53%; funds over $5bn took 59%; Europe $44bn, 23% share [S241]. ACI citing PitchBook: deal volumes 29% below 2025 [S240]. Hayfin's Marc Chowrimootoo cited "the stability of our platform and the resulting ability to be patient investors"; Federated Hermes: "There's so much money chasing for so few deals" [S240].

Ask: "With deal volumes down and fund sizes up, which metrics best show LPs that DLF V is not deploying too fast: pacing, leverage, spreads or loss rates?" Hayfin's own line: "Scale should be an outcome of repeatability, rather than an objective in itself" [S222].

The 60-second "what have you been reading?" answer

SAY THIS IN THE INTERVIEW

"The story I find most interesting is how the US retail redemption wave helped Hayfin's fundraising rather than hurt it. Non-traded BDCs like BCRED had to cap withdrawals at 5% when around 10% of investors wanted out. Hayfin closed DLF V in July at over €15bn, more than double the last fund, with only locked-up institutional money. What struck me in your September piece was that the strategy stayed the same but the wrappers multiplied: levered and unlevered funds, SMAs, evergreen vehicles and a rated feeder for insurers. That is a Partner Solutions story as much as an investment one. And the Seoul office last week says the firm is still investing in investor coverage."

PART 8

Forming your own view

Eight debates an interviewer could open, each with both sides, the evidence, and a position you can defend

Interviewers do not want your opinion to match theirs. They want to see you hold a view, show the evidence on both sides, and change your mind for a good reason. Use this method for any debate:

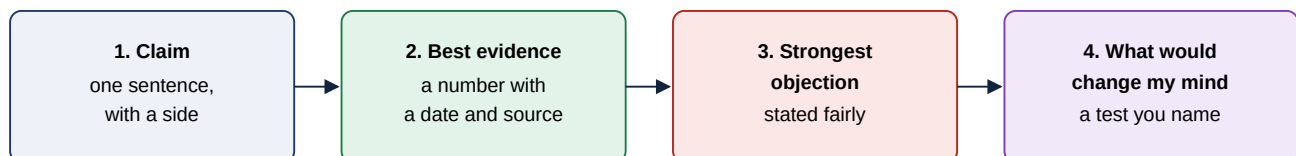

Figure 8.1 · A four-step way to hold an opinion. The author's method Inferred. Step 4 is what separates a view from a slogan.

Eight debates, both sides

Debate	For	Against	A position you can defend
1. Is private credit a bubble?	Fitch default rate 6.3% (Aug 2026) [S245]; 2026 BDC gating [S184]; Dimon's "cockroach" [S157]; marks are model-based [S150]	Cash defaults in senior loans ~2.5% [S155]; ECB: "unlikely... a source of systemic financial instability at present" [S177]; 47% of Fitch defaults are PIK or deferrals, only 4% bankruptcies [S245]	"Not a bubble in the system; a dispersion story. Losses will be manager-specific, so workout skill and honest reporting decide winners. I would change my mind if bank exposures grew fast or cash defaults rose above about 5%."
2. Should Hayfin launch a wealth product (ELTIF or LTAF)?	Fastest-growing pool: evergreen private credit ~$400bn by end-2025 [S152]; Ares raised $1.0bn into its EU evergreen fund in one quarter [S136]; ELTIF 2.0 made access easier [S164]	Redemption risk on illiquid loans [S184]; brand built on "no retail capital" [S227]; distributors, daily data, Consumer Duty costs [S203]; ICG says LPs "do not want their deployment cycle to be governed by the ebbs and flows of wealth capital" [S134]	"Not now. The 2026 gating made 'locked-up and institutional' a selling point. If Hayfin ever did it, I would start with a closed-ended or semi-liquid feeder with strict gates, sold through private banks, not mass retail."
3. Is a €15bn fund too big?	Scale lets Hayfin underwrite whole deals (Hyve [S233]); €7.1bn deployed in 12 months [S71]; over 50% deployed at close [S71]	Deal volumes down 29% [S240]; "so much money chasing for so few deals" [S240]; 100 investment professionals in 2025 [S305]	"It depends on pacing and discipline, which LPs can track: deployment speed, leverage, spreads and loss rates. Hayfin's own test is that scale should follow repeatability [S222]. I would watch whether leverage creeps up in DLF V versus DLF IV."
4. Multi-strategy or specialist?	"8%+ and 15%+ lender" deal flow [S307]; shared workout team; Europe's shallow markets force breadth [S324]	Conflicts between funds [S305]; complexity; harder to explain; ICG says most clients use one strategy (reported [S134])	"In Europe, multi-strategy is right because no single niche is deep enough. The price is conflicts, which Hayfin manages with written rules. For PSG that is a cross-sell opportunity and a disclosure duty."

Debate	For	Against	A position you can defend
5. Will AI replace IR analysts?	A DDQ can take 40-60 hours [S190]; new AI DDQ tools launched in 2026 [S190][S191]; 86% of LPs use GenAI [S189]	Errors are costly and regulated (COBS 4 [S49]); confidentiality; relationships and judgement are human; consultants check consistency	"AI will take the first draft, not the sign-off. The analyst's job moves from writing answers to curating the approved library and checking every fact. That makes accuracy more valuable, not less."
6. Are consultants good for managers?	One consultant rating can open many pensions; DLF V had the most consultant involvement ever [S222]	Fee pressure, standardised questions, slower processes; consultant "prerequisite" makes them gatekeepers [S202]	"Good for a scaled manager with a clean process. Hayfin has hired ex-consultants into PSG [S1], which tells me it has chosen to work with them rather than around them."
7. Is there really a European premium?	Hayfin: lower leverage, tighter documents, smaller lender groups in Europe [S95]; banks still dominate European lending [S188]	US managers entering Europe [S186]; bank partnerships (Citi-HPS) [S255]; spreads compress as capital floods in [S240]	"There is a premium today, mainly from fragmentation, but it will narrow as US capital arrives. The durable advantage is local origination and workout skill, not the premium itself."
8. Independent or owned by a big group?	Management owns the majority [S301]; alignment; no parent's agenda; Tognolini links ownership to long-term leaders [S117]	Owned peers get distribution and balance sheet (Arcmont via Nuveen/TIAA [S131]); three ownership changes in eight years [S315][S74]	"Hayfin has a hybrid: management control plus strategic minority holders who are also allocators. I would want to know how that affects distribution in Korea and the Gulf."

PART 9

The interview

What the process probably looks like, 48 likely questions with scaffolds, and the questions only a researcher could ask

The process, with confidence levels

SOURCE UNCERTAIN · THIN EVIDENCE

Glassdoor and Wall Street Oasis blocked automated access, so everything on Hayfin's past process comes from search-engine extracts of a handful of anonymous reviews [S260][S261][S263]. Treat this section as direction, not fact. Ask SEO London for the format once you are shortlisted; SEO usually knows it.

What	Evidence	Confidence
SEO screen and shortlist	SEO manages the first round, screens CV and answers, sends a shortlist; firm picks interviewees (SEO listing). Shortlist news w/c 2 Nov 2026. Hayfin calls SEO's AIP "the main talent recruiter" for its programme [S16]	Confirmed
Summer intern, 2024	Two online interview rounds, then about one hour of case study and group exercise with 4 students; the case assessed a dental business as a private credit opportunity [S260]. Likely an investing-team track	Reported (snippet)
Summer intern, 2025	Two stages, both online: a general chat, then a "virtual assessment centre" with several interviewers per call; about 3 weeks overall [S260]	Reported (snippet)
Investor Relations role, Aug 2025 (level unclear)	Two interviews, then an in-office case: Excel for fund performance plus presenting a fund. Round one covered commercial awareness, recent deals and news; motivation questions; "walk me through an LBO". Advice: be "very self aware about how LPs & GPs work as well as fund performance metrics" [S261]	Reported (snippet); the most relevant data point
HireVue or psychometric tests	No source mentions them for Hayfin. SEO trains candidates in both [S269]	Low
Timing	The 2026 PSG intern posting came down on 17 Nov 2025 [S265], so interviews likely mid to late November 2026	Inferred

Rounds 1-2 and timing are inferred from snippets [S260][S261] and the 2026 posting [S265]. SEO steps from the SEO listing.

BEFORE 21 OCTOBER: THE APPLICATION QUESTIONS

Your written answers go to Hayfin if you are shortlisted. Use this pack's Part 12 (why Hayfin) and Part 1 (the role) to answer them. Name the CV file exactly as SEO asks: First name.LastName.Firm.27. Check eligibility: graduating 2027 or 2028, with at least 8-12 weeks of prior IB, consulting or alternatives experience.

The question bank: 48 questions with scaffolds

Scaffolds, not scripts. Each card gives what is really being tested, a structure, facts to weave in and the trap. Practise aloud; never memorise word for word.

A. Motivation

1. Why investor relations rather than an investing seat?

Tested: Genuine interest in the client side; retention risk. Structure: What IR is to you (explaining, evidencing, serving) → a moment you enjoyed that kind of work → why it matters at a credit manager specifically.

Facts to weave in: PSG sits on the ESG Deal Committee [S305]; DLF V was raised through five wrappers [S222]; Hayfin hired ex-consultants and allocators into PSG [S1]. Trap: Calling IR a stepping stone to deals; not knowing the daily work (DDQs, RFPs, reporting).

2. Why private credit?

Tested: Understanding of why the asset class exists. Structure: Bank retreat → companies need lenders → investors want contractual floating-rate income → private credit fills the gap; one risk you take seriously.

Facts to weave in: Flynn's founding thesis on bank capital rules [S105]; Europe 35.9% of 2025 private debt capital [S152]. Trap: A generic 'fast-growing' answer; claiming it is low risk.

3. Why Hayfin?

Tested: Firm-specific research expressed as mechanism. Structure: Use the 30-second answer in Part 12: one platform with several doors → why that matters to an LP → why PSG is where that is explained.

Facts to weave in: 8%+ and 15%+ lender [S307]; DLF V >€15bn [S71]; conflict rules [S305]. Trap: Adjectives ('leading', 'prestigious'); size alone; anything transplantable to Ares or ICG.

4. Walk me through your CV.

Tested: Concise story; link from past work to IR skills. Structure: 90 seconds: who you are → two experiences, each with one output and one skill (accuracy, client materials, data) → why this role now.

Facts to weave in: JD: 'proactive', 'research... summarise... present', Excel and PowerPoint. Trap: Over two minutes; describing what the team did, not what you did.

5. What did you do in your last internship that is relevant here?

Tested: Transferable output. Structure: Situation → the thing you produced (deck, model, data pack) → how you checked it → what happened.

Facts to weave in: Map to JD duties: pitch materials, data, proofreading. Trap: No concrete output; no error you caught.

6. Where do you see yourself in five years?

Tested: Retention and realism. Structure: Building expertise in investor work → a product or coverage track → specific skill you want (e.g. structuring vehicles for insurers).

Facts to weave in: Two PSG tracks: product strategy and coverage [S1]; Coriani's path from intern to MD [S288]. Trap: 'Running my own fund'; 'moving to the deal team'.

B. Firm7. What do you know about Hayfin?

Tested: Accuracy and currency of facts. Structure: Founded 2009 → strategies → size and DLF V → ownership → one thing that interests you.

Facts to weave in: ~€40bn AUM Q2 2026 [S224]; MBO completed Feb 2025 [S73]; Mubadala, AXA IM Prime, Samsung Life [S74][S75]. Trap: Saying €30bn or ten offices (stale).

8. What has Hayfin announced recently?

Tested: News flow; round one in a 2025 IR process covered recent deals and news [S261]. Structure: Pick three: one fund, one office or hire, one deal; give a 'so what' for each.

Facts to weave in: DLF V [S71]; Seoul office [S223]; Condis €305m [S231]; Marsh hire [S226]. Trap: Listing headlines without implication.

9. What does the Partner Solutions team do?

Tested: Whether you read the JD and beyond. Structure: Raise → diligence → service → content; who it serves; where you would sit.

Facts to weave in: Coverage co-heads, product strategy, regions [S1]; quarterly report contents [S305]. Trap: Describing it as sales only; forgetting reporting and SMAs.

10. Which strategy would you pitch to a Korean insurer, and in what wrapper?

Tested: Link between investor type and product. Structure: Investor's need (long-dated, capital-efficient, rated) → strategy (senior DL) → wrapper (rated note feeder or SMA) → one risk to disclose (currency).

Facts to weave in: $600m rated feeder [S237]; ~€1bn for Korean clients [S239]; Samsung Life shareholder [S75]. Trap: Ignoring regulatory capital and currency.

11. What did you think of our recent insight pieces?

Tested: Depth of preparation. Structure: Name one, summarise in two sentences, add one question it raised for you.

Facts to weave in: 'What a €15bn Fundraise Tells Us' [S222]; 'A Tale of Three PIKs' [S229]; 'The Complexity Premium' [S262]. Trap: Claiming to have read without being able to summarise.

12. What makes Hayfin's culture different?

Tested: Values fit, using Hayfin's own words. Structure: One quote → one example from your life that matches it.

Facts to weave in: 'rewarded to collaborate, rather than outperform peers' [S305]; 'no superstar culture... midfield general' [S281]; five values in the JD pack. Trap: Generic 'collaborative and entrepreneurial'.

13. Who are our competitors and how are we different?

Tested: Competitive awareness (a named 2026 intern task [S265]). Structure: Name three peers → one axis where Hayfin differs from each → where Hayfin does not lead.

Facts to weave in: Ares ACE VI €17.1bn [S135]; ICG SDP 5 [S132]; Arcmont (Nuveen) [S131]; independence and breadth. Trap: Claiming Hayfin is the biggest or has the best returns.

C. Industry and credit technicals14. What is direct lending, and how is it different from syndicated loans and high-yield bonds?

Tested: Product basics. Structure: Who lends → how terms are set → whether it trades → rate type → protections.

Facts to weave in: Floating, senior secured, bilateral or small club; 40% of Hayfin DL sole-lender [S95]. Trap: Mixing fixed and floating; forgetting illiquidity.

15. Why would an investor choose private credit over high yield?

Tested: Trade-offs. Structure: Extra spread for illiquidity and complexity → floating rate → covenants and control → but: illiquid, model marks, lock-up.

Facts to weave in: PitchBook: the key metric is 'excess spread' over public fixed income [S151]. Trap: Calling it lower risk outright.

16. What makes direct lending attractive now, and what are the risks?

Tested: Balance. Structure: Two tailwinds, two risks, one view.

Facts to weave in: Bank retreat [S221]; Europe in favour [S152]; PIK creep [S245]; deal volumes down 29% [S240]. Trap: One-sided bull case.

17. Explain PIK. When is it good or bad?

Tested: Nuance on the 2026 hot topic. Structure: Definition → planned PIK at entry vs PIK forced by stress → how an LP should see it.

Facts to weave in: 'Three PIKs': good, bad, fake good [S229]; Lincoln 'shadow default' 6.2% [S162]. Trap: 'PIK is always a red flag.'

18. What is unitranche?

Tested: Structure knowledge. Structure: One loan replacing senior plus junior → one price, one lender group → speed and certainty for the sponsor.

Facts to weave in: Condis €305m sole-lender unitranche [S231]. Trap: Confusing it with mezzanine.

19. Walk me through an LBO from the lender's side.

Tested: Credit lens (asked in a 2025 IR process [S261]). Structure: Sponsor buys company with equity plus debt → lender sizes debt on EBITDA and cash flow → covenants → repaid from cash flow or refinancing.

Facts to weave in: Leverage = debt / EBITDA; Portfolio Breakdown reports LTM EBITDA, EV, leverage [S305]. Trap: Answering only from the equity side.

20. How do rate moves affect a floating-rate lender?

Tested: Rate sensitivity both ways. Structure: Higher rates → more income → but weaker interest coverage for borrowers → more PIK and amendments; cuts do the reverse.

Facts to weave in: PitchBook expects 'cooler returns' as rates fall [S152]. Trap: Forgetting borrower stress.

21. What is a covenant, and what is covenant-lite?

Tested: Lender protections. Structure: A promise (e.g. leverage below X) → early warning → seat at the table before default; cov-lite removes maintenance tests.

Facts to weave in: Hayfin: Europe has 'tighter documentation' than the US [S95]. Trap: Not linking covenants to workout capability.

22. Why do private credit default rates differ so much?

Tested: Data literacy. Structure: Definitions: payment default vs PIK switches vs covenant breaches → numbers → what LPs now ask for.

Facts to weave in: Proskauer 2.51% [S155]; Fitch 6.3% [S245]; Lincoln 6.2% shadow [S162]. Trap: Quoting one number as 'the' default rate.

D. Investor relations specifics23. What is a DDQ and what goes in it?

Tested: Core intern task. Structure: Purpose → standard templates → main sections → how a team answers efficiently.

Facts to weave in: ILPA DDQ 2.0: 20 topics incl. succession, credit facilities, valuation, ESG, DEI, cyber [S299]; AIMA credit modules [S48]. Trap: Vague answer; not mentioning consistency and sign-off.

24. How is an RFP different from a DDQ?

Tested: Process understanding. Structure: RFP = competitive search for a mandate with fixed questions and deadline; DDQ = diligence on a chosen manager; both reuse the library.

Facts to weave in: eVestment and consultant databases [S55]. Trap: Treating them as the same.

25. Gross vs net IRR: what is the difference and why does it matter?

Tested: Fees and honesty in marketing. Structure: Gross before fees and carry → net after → subscription lines lift IRR → rules require net alongside gross.

Facts to weave in: SEC Marketing Rule FAQ, 19 Mar 2025 [s53]; SOCF I 13.1% gross vs 8.1% net [s307]. Trap: Forgetting fund leverage and subscription lines.

26. Explain IRR, MOIC, DPI and TVPI.

Tested: Fund metrics fluency. Structure: Define each in one line → which is realised vs unrealised → which LPs watch in a slow-exit market (DPI).

Facts to weave in: ILPA Performance Template shows IRR and TVPI with and without subscription lines [s45]. Trap: Mixing realised and unrealised.

27. How do LPs choose managers?

Tested: Allocator thinking. Structure: Strategy fit → team and track record → process and controls → alignment and terms → operations → consultant view.

Facts to weave in: Intralinks: strategy 51%, sector knowledge 30%, co-invest 22%, fees 14% [s189]. Trap: 'Best returns' only.

28. Who are Hayfin's investors and how do their needs differ?

Tested: Client segmentation. Structure: Pensions (liabilities, pacing) → insurers (capital, ratings) → SWFs (scale, co-invest) → consultants (process).

Facts to weave in: Pension 51.1%, insurance 19.5%, SWF 12.1%; Australia 22.8% [s305]. Trap: Forgetting insurers and SWFs.

29. What is an SMA and why would an investor want one?

Tested: JD vocabulary. Structure: Single-investor vehicle → custom terms, control, fees, reporting → needs size.

Facts to weave in: JD's 'Special Memorandum Accounts' means separately managed accounts [s25]. Trap: Not knowing the term, or repeating the JD's error.

30. What role do investment consultants play?

Tested: Gatekeeper awareness. Structure: Advise many pension funds → rate managers → RFPs and databases → one rating can unlock many commitments.

Facts to weave in: DLF V consultant involvement highest ever [s222]; Bringardner ex-BlackRock consultant relations [s4]. Trap: Ignoring them.

31. What goes into a quarterly LP report?

Tested: Reporting basics. Structure: Portfolio summary and track record → company-level data → letter → capital account → audited accounts annually.

Facts to weave in: Hayfin's list: Summary of Investments, Portfolio Breakdown, CEO Letter, audited financials within 90 days [s305]. Trap: Forgetting fees and expenses, watchlist, ESG.

32. How would you use AI tools to make the team more efficient?

Tested: JD skill, with judgement. Structure: One use case → guardrails (approved sources, no confidential data in public tools, human check) → how you would measure the gain.

Facts to weave in: Chicago posting: AI 'used with careful attention to accuracy' [s19]; DDQ 40-60 hours [s190]. Trap: AI drafting client documents unchecked.

E. Market awareness33. Tell me about a recent private credit headline and what it means for LPs.

Tested: Commercial awareness with implication. Structure: Fact → why it happened → what it means for an investor → link to Hayfin.

Facts to weave in: Redemption wave [s184][s243]; Fitch 6.3% [s245]; SEC valuation statement [s250]. Trap: No 'so what'.

34. Is private credit a bubble?

Tested: Balance and composure. Structure: Use the Part 8 debate: claim, evidence, objection, what would change your mind.

Facts to weave in: ECB [s177] vs Dimon [s157]; Collier barometer [s183]. Trap: Either extreme.

35. Why are US and Asian investors buying European direct lending?

Tested: Link to PSG's own thesis. Structure: Diversification → fragmentation premium → bank retreat → closed-end structures after 2026 gating.

Facts to weave in: Over half of DLF V from EMEA; growth from US and APAC [S222]; Pla on diversification [S277]. Trap: Not mentioning diversification or currency.

36. How are insurers changing private credit?

Tested: Wrapper and capital awareness. Structure: Long liabilities → need for yield with capital efficiency → rated feeders, SMAs, ABF.

Facts to weave in: $600m rated note feeder [S237]; Solvency II reporting in Finance [S333]. Trap: No idea of capital treatment.

37. What is happening in fundraising across private markets?

Tested: Market structure. Structure: More money, fewer funds, longer closes, concentration in experienced managers.

Facts to weave in: Preqin: 80 funds, top 10 took 64%, 39 months [S153]; PitchBook 93% to fund 4+ [S152]. Trap: Unsourced numbers.

F. Behavioural and competency38. Tell me about a time you produced work that needed very high attention to detail.

Tested: JD: 'see things others don't see'. Structure: STAR, with the specific error you caught and the check that caught it.

Facts to weave in: Proofreading quarterly reports [S305]. Trap: No concrete error.

39. Tell me about juggling several deadlines.

Tested: Prioritisation. Structure: The deadlines → how you ranked them (client impact, hard dates, dependencies) → what you told people → result.

Facts to weave in: Quarter-end reporting plus live DDQs. Trap: No logic for the order.

40. Tell me about a setback and how you persisted.

Tested: Persistence, which Flynn names [S281]. Structure: Setback → what you changed → second attempt → what you still do differently.

Facts to weave in: 'persistence is an undervalued but incredibly important trait' [S281]. Trap: A trivial example.

41. Tell me about making a team better rather than shining alone.

Tested: 'Midfield general' [S281]. Structure: A team result → your enabling role (organising, checking, unblocking) → credit to others.

Facts to weave in: 'rewarded to collaborate, rather than outperform peers' [S305]. Trap: A hero story.

42. Tell me about explaining something complex to a non-expert.

Tested: Client communication; 'gravitas'. Structure: The concept → your analogy or picture → how you checked understanding.

Facts to weave in: Explaining PIK or gross vs net to a trustee board. Trap: Jargon.

43. Tell me about a mistake you made.

Tested: Honesty; Hayfin values say 'We do not hide our mistakes'. Structure: Own it in one sentence → fix → what you changed so it cannot recur.

Facts to weave in: Value 'Excellence' in the JD pack. Trap: A fake weakness.

G. Case and written exercises44. Here is fund performance data in Excel: calculate returns and comment.

Tested: Excel speed, accuracy, commentary (reported 2025 IR case [S261]). Structure: Check data → compute IRR (XIRR), MOIC, DPI, TVPI → one chart → three bullet 'so whats' → caveats.

Facts to weave in: Gross vs net; subscription line effect; currency. Trap: Formatting errors; no conclusion.

45. Pitch this fund to a UK pension fund in five minutes.

Tested: Structure, investor-first framing. Structure: Their need → the strategy → why this manager (evidence) → risks and how managed → terms and next step.

Facts to weave in: Pension 51% of Hayfin AUM [S305]; downside, PIK, loss-rate questions [S222]. Trap: Listing features without linking to the pension's liabilities.

46. Draft a DDQ answer: describe your valuation policy.

Tested: Precision and tone. Structure: Who values, how often, independent input, committee, escalation; mark what you would confirm with Finance and Compliance.

Facts to weave in: Valuation Committee; Finance reviews NAV before investors [S333]; FCA review good practice [S166]. Trap: Overclaiming; inventing facts.

47. Write a one-page case study from this deal summary.

Tested: JD task with compliance instincts. Structure: Situation → why Hayfin won → structure and protections → outcome → selection basis and disclaimers.

Facts to weave in: COBS 4.2 [S49]; SEC FAQ [S53]; anti-greenwashing [S52]. Trap: Disclosing confidential terms; no selection basis.

48. Group exercise: assess this borrower as a credit opportunity.

Tested: Teamwork and credit basics (2024 dental case [S260]). Structure: Agree a structure and timekeeper → business quality → cash flow and leverage → downside and recovery → decision.

Facts to weave in: Leverage, interest cover, covenants, sponsor support. Trap: Dominating; ignoring downside.

Ten questions only a researcher could ask

Pick two or three that fit the interviewer. Each one shows a piece of research and invites them to talk about their work.

#	Question	What it shows you read
1	"DLF V had more consultant involvement than any earlier Hayfin fund. How has that changed what PSG produces day to day, for example database updates or standard data requests?"	The PSG co-heads' September 2026 piece [S222]
2	"LPs scrutinised PIK, technology exposure and loss rates more than ever. Which of those is hardest to answer well in a DDQ, and why?"	Same piece [S222]; Fitch default data [S245]
3	"Does the rated note feeder create a separate reporting stream, for example to the rating agency or for insurers' Solvency II needs?"	Feeder [S237]; Fund Controller posting [S333]
4	"The 'Three PIKs' piece separates good, bad and fake-good PIK. Is that framework used in quarterly reporting, or mainly as thought leadership?"	[S229]
5	"Are you adopting the ILPA Performance Template for DLF V, with the first delivery after Q1 2027? Would interns help with it?"	ILPA timing [S43][S45]
6	"How does work split between Product Strategy in London and coverage in the regions, and where would an intern sit?"	Team map [S1][S20]
7	"A Finance posting mentions DLF VI to follow. How does PSG keep reporting quality steady on DLF V while preparing the next raise?"	[S333]
8	"How does PSG explain cross-fund conflicts to an LP that is in both Direct Lending and Special Opportunities?"	Conflict rules [S305]
9	"After what happened to US semi-liquid funds, is 'institutional only' now part of the brand, or could a wealth or ELTIF product make sense later?"	[S227][S221][S164]

#	Question	What it shows you read
10	"With Seoul, Tokyo, Melbourne and the US all covered, how do you keep one consistent answer library across languages, and is that where AI tools help?"	[S223][S1][S19]

DON'T ASK

Anything you could read on the website; anything about pay or hours in a first round; "Why did revenue fall?" or "Why did the head of PSG leave?"; anything that implies you have seen non-public information.

PART 10

Interviewer briefing

Who might interview you, from public professional information only, and how to adapt to each type

SOURCE UNCERTAIN · INTERVIEWERS NOT YET NAMED

Interviewers are not known as of 8 October 2026. The profiles below are the senior people most likely to own or sit on PSG in London, plus the HR lead, built only from Hayfin's own website bios and press releases. Junior London PSG staff (analysts to VPs), who most often run first rounds, cannot be identified from public sources. Nothing personal is included. When you learn the real names, check each against Hayfin's site before relying on this page.

Profiles (public, professional)

Person	Role, office, joined	Career path and education (as published by Hayfin)	Practitioner or not; likely angle
Tim Atkinson	MD, Partner Solutions, London; joined 2025 [S287]	Leads product strategy for Special Opportunities, Tactical Solutions, Healthcare and Maritime. Head of Investor Partnerships at Blantyre Capital (four years); over a decade at Meketa Investment Group, a consultant, in Boston then London, overseeing private credit research [S287][S272]. BSc Business Administration, Northeastern. Co-author of "The Complexity Premium" (15 Sep 2026) [S262]	IR practitioner who thinks like an allocator. Expect "how would an investor evaluate this strategy?"
Camilla Coriani	MD, Head of MENA and Southern Europe, Partner Solutions, London; joined 2015 [S288]	10AK Capital (sales and structuring); FiveSixty, Milan (IR); internship at Intesa Sanpaolo IBD. BSc International Relations and Law, Università Cattolica; MSc Management, Buckingham. Oversaw Dubai office regional efforts from 2024 [S275]	Coverage practitioner; longest-tenured London PSG MD found. Expect client empathy, languages, Middle East interest
Matthew Supranowicz	MD, Partner Solutions, London; moved from HY and syndicated loans in 2024 [S1]	CFA; earlier at QIC (Australia) [S1]	Coverage with investment background; may test liquid credit and CLO basics
Brennan Schol	Director, Partner Solutions, Madrid [S1]	CFA; product strategy for Direct Lending and PE Solutions; ESG Deal Committee member; author of "A Tale of Three PIKs" (28 Jul 2026) [S1] [S264]	Product practitioner; PIK and DL product depth
Risa Lipsky	MD, Global Co-Head, Client Coverage, New York; joined 2021 [S286]	About five years at Atalaya Capital (BD and IR, clients and consultants); earlier Golub Capital. BS Marketing and Management, NYU. Co-author of the €15bn piece [S222]	Senior; unlikely for a London intern first round
Steve Bringardner	MD, Global Co-Head, Client Coverage, Chicago; joined 2023 [S285]	Over 12 years at BlackRock, latterly MD, Global Consultant Relations; AllianceBernstein; Wells Fargo Financial. BSc Finance, Miami University; CFA. Co-author of the €15bn piece [S222]	Senior; consultant-channel thinker

Person	Role, office, joined	Career path and education (as published by Hayfin)	Practitioner or not; likely angle
Maura English	MD, Head of Product Strategy, New York; joined 2021 [S284]	Over ten years at Avenue Capital (fundraising project management, client engagement); Guggenheim Securities. BA Saint Joseph's; MA NYU. Wrote up the 2026 New York Investor Day [S95]	Owns the content engine the intern supports
David Slack	MD, Human Resources, London; joined 2018 [S295]	Coller Capital HR; ADIA HR business partner to private equity. BSc Medical Microbiology, Newcastle [S295]	Not a practitioner; motivation, values, consistency. Early-careers ownership is inferred
Tim Flynn	Co-founder, Co-CEO, London [S282]	See Part 2. 2024 podcast on hiring: persistence, being "athletic", low ego, "midfield general" [S281]	Very unlikely to interview; his words are house language

Former or unconfirmed names not to cite as current: Alex Wolfman (former Global Head of Partner Solutions) [S296]; Sarah Breiner, Chris Parisi, Marco Sedlmayr, Jack Richardson (status unknown) [S12][S11][S9].

Reading and adapting to the interviewer, live

Within the first two questions you can usually tell which type you are facing. The question style is the tell.

Type	The tell	What they care about	How to pitch
PSG coverage practitioner	Asks about investors, relationships, a recent LP conversation topic	Client empathy, accuracy, clear writing, curiosity about allocators	Lead with the investor's objective, then the product. Use LP vocabulary: pacing, re-up, wrapper, consultant, DDQ
Ex-consultant or allocator in PSG	"How would you evaluate a manager?"	Whether you can think like the buyer	Frame as "an LP would ask...". No marketing superlatives. Show both sides
Investment professional	Asks about leverage, covenants, a deal	Credit fundamentals, commercial sense	Crisp on leverage, coverage, downside, recovery. Use one Hayfin deal. Say "I'm not certain, but my reasoning is..." rather than bluff
HR or early careers	Values, motivation, teamwork stories	Consistency with your application; fit with values	Map stories to Hayfin's five values. Be warm and specific; match what you wrote in the SEO form
Senior leader	Broad, fast questions; "what do you think of..."	Judgement, a view, composure	Short answers, one view with evidence, one smart question

GUIDANCE, NOT MANIPULATION

The aim is to answer the question they are really asking, at the level they work at. Never mirror opinions you do not hold, flatter, or pretend to know someone. If you have read an interviewer's article, say so naturally once ("I read your piece on the complexity premium..."), then move on.

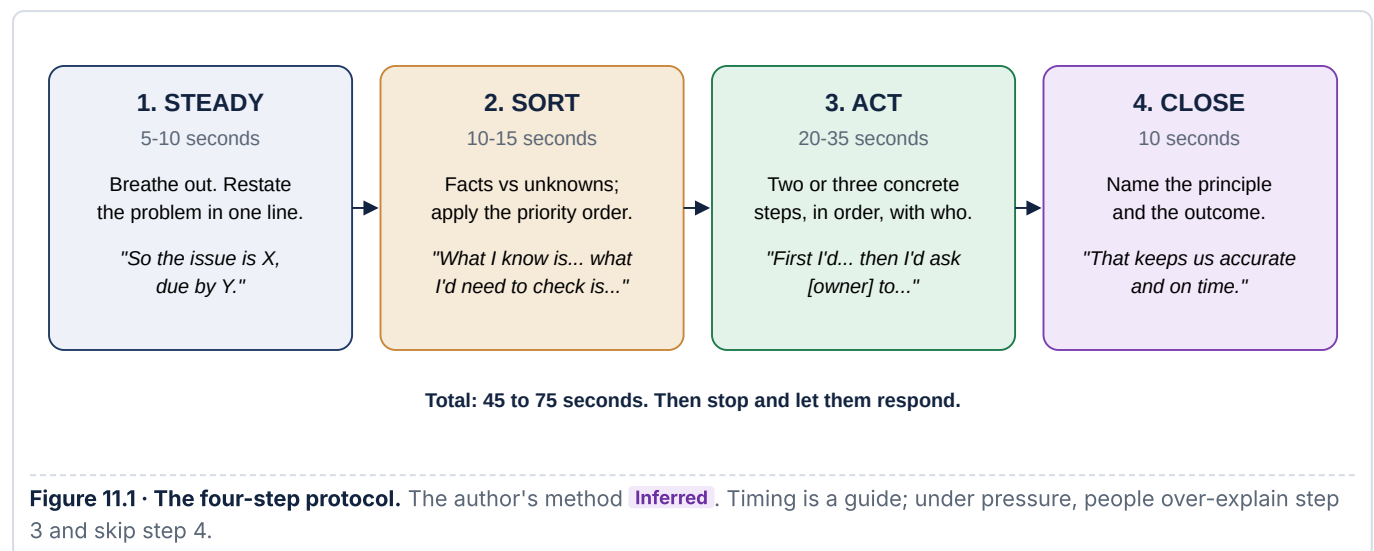

PART 11

The scenario playbook

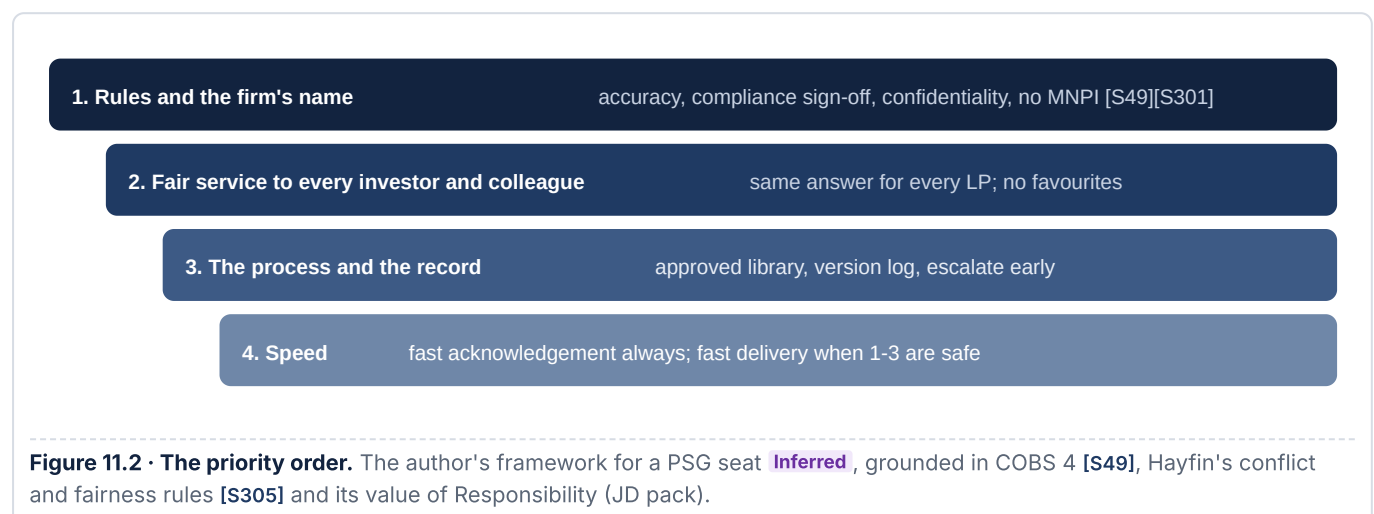

A frame-holding method, the priority order, eight ways interviewers break a frame, 42 scenario cards, the composure set, and the CV grill

No insider intelligence was supplied for this pack, so it does not assume Hayfin's interviewers try to break your frame. The 2025 IR case reported an Excel task and a fund presentation [S261], and assessment centres often add pressure questions. The method below works for a friendly interviewer and a hostile one.

The four-step answer protocol: steady, sort, act, close

The priority order when good things collide

THE ONE SENTENCE THAT HOLDS EVERY FRAME

"I'll always be fast, but never at the cost of accuracy, fairness between investors, or a compliance sign-off."

Eight ways interviewers break a frame, and the counter to each

Staying calm physically

- Breathe out longer than in (count four in, six out) before you answer a hard question. It slows the heart rate.
- Feet flat, hands still, camera at eye level on video. Look at the lens when you make your main point.
- Water within reach. Sipping buys three seconds without looking evasive.
- Write the four words STEADY · SORT · ACT · CLOSE on a sticky note by the screen.
- Say "Good question" only if it is; otherwise "Let me think about that for a second" is stronger.

The scenario ladder: every JD bullet, three rungs

14 JD bullets × 3 difficulty rungs = 42 scenario cards

	EASY	MEDIUM	HARD
R1 Pitch, DDQ, presentations	Stale number	Unsourced DDQ answer	Two decks, two stories
R2 Ad hoc requests	Friday 4pm request	Another LP's terms	Request that smells of MNPI
R3 Case studies	Only winners	Gross only	Unevidenced ESG claim
R4 LP reporting	Total = 101.3%	Late deal commentary	Error found after sending
S1 Research and present	Open brief	Conflicting sources	Senior disagrees
S2 IR career, fundraising	Why not investing?	Explain a fundraise	"What's the hard cap?"
S3 AI, Excel, PowerPoint	An AI idea	AI got it wrong	Live Excel case
S4 English	Rewrite for a trustee	Angry consultant	Explain a loss
A1 Markets, private capital	Why it matters	Why a pension commits	"It will blow up"
A2 Organisation	Three asks by 5pm	Quarter-end crunch	Two MDs, one intern
A3 Attention to detail	Misspelt borrower	Loose ends	Detail vs deadline
A4 Problem-solving	Improve DDQs	Pitch an idea	Idea rejected
A5 Gravitas	Five-minute pitch	"What's the catch?"	Silence
A6 Languages	Language link	"Only English?"	Cultural mistake risk

The 42 scenario cards

R1 · Pitch materials, DDQ responses, investor presentations

Stale number	Easy	DDQ answer you cannot source	Medium	Two decks, two stories	Hard
	Setup: You notice the pitch book shows last quarter's AUM, and the coverage MD is sending it this afternoon. Trap: Fixing it silently, or saying nothing to avoid looking pushy. Say: "I've spotted the AUM on page 3 is Q1's; the Q2 figure is X from the investor report. Shall I update it and flag the change in the version log before it goes?" Why it works: Accuracy and consistency across documents is the product; one wrong number in a deck an LP compares with a DDQ costs trust [S20][S59]. Twist: "There's no time, just send it." Hold: "Understood. It's a two-minute fix; can I make it and send you the updated PDF in five minutes?"		Setup: A DDQ asks for DLF V's loss rate since inception. The library answer is from 2023 and you cannot find a newer approved figure. Trap: Inventing or extrapolating a number to finish on time. Say: "I've drafted everything except Q42 on loss rates. The approved figure is from 2023. Who should confirm the current number: Portfolio Management or Finance?" Why it works: Hayfin says its "track record and our loss rate are used by our investors to assess our success" [S305]; an unapproved figure is a regulatory and reputational risk [S49]. Twist: "Just use the old one with today's date." Hold: "I'd rather mark it 'as of 2023, update to follow' than put a wrong date on it. That keeps us accurate and still meets the deadline."		Setup: Preparing an investor presentation, you find the software exposure figure differs between the pitch book (under 6%) and a draft case study (8%). Trap: Picking the better number. Say: "These two figures disagree. They may use different bases, for example the whole DL book versus one fund. Before either goes out, can we confirm the definition and source with the deal team?" Why it works: Hayfin publishes "less than 6%" for the DL book and under 5% for the latest vintage [S227]; definitions matter as much as numbers. Twist: "The investor won't notice." Hold: "They might compare it with the DDQ, and the consultant certainly will. It's quicker to fix now than to explain later."

R2 · Ad hoc client requests

Urgent request on a Friday	Easy	Request that needs another investor's data	Medium	A request that looks like it wants inside information	Hard
Setup: An Australian SMA client asks at 4pm Friday for UK exposure by sector, needed Monday. Trap: Promising a time you cannot meet, or waiting until Monday to acknowledge. Say: "I'll acknowledge today, confirm exactly what they need (which date, which measure), build it from the portfolio file, and get a senior check on Monday morning." Why it works: Fast acknowledgement plus checked output is how IR is judged [S20]; Australia is 22.8% of AUM [S305]. Twist: "Can you just send it tonight unchecked?" Hold: "I can have it ready tonight and reviewed first thing Monday, before their deadline."		Setup: A pension asks how its terms compare with other LPs in the fund. Trap: Sharing or hinting at another investor's terms. Say: "I can't share other investors' terms. I'll ask the coverage MD how we usually answer this, for example by pointing to the MFN process in their side letter." Why it works: Investor confidentiality is a wall around PSG (Figure 1.5) Inferred; fair treatment of every LP comes before speed. Twist: "They're our biggest client." Hold: "That's exactly why we should answer it the same way we would for anyone."		Setup: A hedge fund that is also an LP asks for the latest numbers on a named borrower whose bonds trade publicly. Trap: Sending borrower data because they are an LP. Say: "Borrower information may be confidential or non-public, and this investor may trade the bonds. I'd pass this straight to Compliance before replying." Why it works: MNPI rules apply [S301]; Hayfin runs public high-yield as well as private credit [S305]. Twist: "It's in the quarterly report anyway." Hold: "Then Compliance will clear it quickly. I'd still rather they decide."

R3 · Case studies

Only winners	Easy	Gross only	Medium	An ESG claim you cannot evidence	Hard
Setup: You are asked to pick three case studies for a pitch. The best returns are all realised deals in one sector. Trap: Choosing the three best performers. Say: "I'd propose a selection basis first, for example size, recency and a mix of sectors and outcomes, and note it in the footnote." Why it works: Cherry-picking misleads; COBS 4.2 fair, clear and not misleading [S49]; SEC rules require context for extracted performance [S53]. Twist: "Marketing wants the best ones." Hold: "We can still lead with strong deals; the basis just protects us if a consultant asks."		Setup: A draft case study shows only gross IRR because net is not available at deal level. Trap: Leaving it as is because everyone does it. Say: "For US-facing material, gross for one deal needs the whole portfolio's gross and net shown with at least equal prominence. Should I add the fund-level figures and the standard disclaimer?" Why it works: SEC Marketing Rule FAQ, 19 March 2025 [S53]; Hayfin's PES update already uses Rule 206(4)-1 language [S330]. Twist: "This one is only for Europe." Hold: "Then COBS 4.6 best practice still asks for the effect of fees. Compliance can tell us which version applies."		Setup: A case study calls a borrower 'net zero aligned'; the ESG team has no data to support it. Trap: Keeping the phrase because it reads well. Say: "I'd change it to what we can evidence, or remove it, and check with the ESG team. The anti-greenwashing rule needs the claim to match the facts." Why it works: FCA ESG 4.3.1R [S52]; Hayfin trained PSG on it in 2024 [S25]. Twist: "The sponsor said so." Hold: "Then we can quote the sponsor's statement with attribution, if Compliance is happy."

R4 · Quarterly LP reporting and proofreading

A total that does not add	Easy	Late data from a deal team	Medium	An error found after sending	Hard
Setup: Proofreading the Portfolio Breakdown, the sector percentages sum to 101.3%. Trap: Assuming it is rounding and moving on. Say: "Probably rounding, but 1.3 points is more than rounding usually explains. I'll check the source data and either fix it or add a rounding note." Why it works: Reports carry a "line-by-line track record" [S305]; consultants check totals. Twist: "It's always been like that." Hold: "Then it's worth one check; if it's rounding, a footnote fixes it for good."		Setup: Quarter-end. One deal team has not sent its company commentary and the report is due tomorrow. Trap: Writing commentary yourself from old notes. Say: "I'll chase with a specific ask and deadline, offer a draft from last quarter's text for them to edit, and tell my manager the risk now, not tomorrow." Why it works: IR and investment teams produce the reports jointly [S305]; escalate early, not late. Twist: "Just write something." Hold: "I can draft it, but it has to be approved by the deal team before it goes out."		Setup: After the quarterly report goes out you find a borrower's leverage was misstated. Trap: Hoping nobody notices. Say: "I'd tell my manager straight away with the correct figure and the source, so we can decide how to correct it with investors." Why it works: Hayfin's values: "We do not hide our mistakes" (JD pack); correction is part of trust. Twist: "It's immaterial." Hold: "That may be right; I'd still like the person who decides materiality to see it."

S1 · Research across topics, summarise, present

Open research brief	Easy	Conflicting sources	Medium	Presenting to someone senior who disagrees	Hard
Setup: A coverage MD asks: 'What are Korean insurers allocating to private credit?' Trap: Delivering a 20-page dump. Say: "I'll come back with one page: the headline answer, three facts with sources, what it means for us, and what I could not find." Why it works: PSG values short, sourced notes [S19]; Seoul office context [S223]. Twist: "Can you also add Japan?" Hold: "Yes; I'll do Korea first by tomorrow and Japan by Thursday unless you'd rather swap."		Setup: Two reputable sources give different market sizes for European private credit. Trap: Picking one silently. Say: "I'd show both, explain the definitions behind each, and say which I'd use and why." Why it works: Definitions drive size (Figure 5.2) [S150][S182]. Twist: "Just give me one number." Hold: "Then I'd use X because it matches how we define our market, with a footnote."		Setup: You present your findings and a senior person says your conclusion is wrong. Trap: Collapsing, or arguing. Say: "That's useful. Which part do you see differently? If it's the data, I'll recheck it; if it's the interpretation, here's my reasoning, and I'd like to understand yours." Why it works: Frame-holding: separate facts from judgement (Part 11 method). Twist: "You clearly haven't understood the market." Hold: steady voice, "That may be right. What would you look at first?"

S2 · Career in IR; discuss fundraising knowledgeably

Why not investing?	Easy	Explain fundraising	Medium	Knowledge trap	Hard
Setup: "Wouldn't you rather be on the deal team?" Trap: Admitting IR is plan B. Say: "I like the investing side, which is why I want to explain it well. What draws me to PSG is turning deal evidence into something an investor can underwrite." Why it works: PSG sits inside the deal approval workflow [S305]. Twist: "Most interns say that." Hold: give your one concrete example of enjoying explanation work.		Setup: "How does a fundraise actually work?" Trap: Vague talk about 'networking'. Say: "Pre-marketing, then a first close, then subsequent closes to a final close; LPs go through consultant screens, RFPs, DDQs, IC and legal; the manager offers different wrappers for different investors." Why it works: Allocation process (Figure 6.1); DLF V wrappers [S222]. Twist: "What's a first close for?" Hold: "It lets the fund start investing and creates momentum; later investors often pay the same fees."		Setup: "What's the hard cap on DLF V?" Trap: Guessing. Say: "I haven't seen a hard cap published. The release says in excess of €15bn including related vehicles, and 9fin reported a €10bn target." Why it works: [S71][S238]; honesty beats a guess. Twist: "Surely you know that." Hold: "I'd rather not guess a number you'd then repeat to an investor."

S3 · AI tools; Excel and PowerPoint

AI idea	Easy	AI got it wrong	Medium	Excel under pressure	Hard
Setup: "How would you use AI here?" Trap: Grand claims about automation. Say: "A first-draft DDQ answer drawn only from the approved library, with every fact checked by a person and no confidential data in public tools." Why it works: Chicago posting: AI used "with careful attention to accuracy" [S19]. Twist: "Isn't that slower?" Hold: "The draft saves time; the check protects us. The net is still faster."		Setup: An AI tool drafts an answer that cites a fund size that does not exist. Trap: Trusting the tool because it sounds right. Say: "I'd discard the number, find the source figure, and note the failure so the team knows where the tool is weak." Why it works: Accuracy rules (COBS 4.2) [S49]. Twist: "Everyone uses it." Hold: "I'll keep using it; I just won't ship anything I haven't checked."		Setup: Live case: compute IRR and TVPI from a cash flow table in 20 minutes. Trap: Formatting before checking signs and dates. Say: "I'd set up dates and signed cash flows first, use XIRR, then MOIC, DPI and TVPI, sanity-check against a rough estimate, and only then chart." Why it works: Reported 2025 IR case [S261]. Twist: "Your IRR looks high." Hold: "Let me check whether a subscription line or a sign error is driving it."

S4 · Fluent English, written and spoken

Rewrite for an LP Easy	Email tone Medium	Explain a loss Hard
Setup: Rewrite a jargon-heavy paragraph for a pension trustee. Trap: Adding more jargon to sound expert. Say: "Short sentences, one idea each, define PIK in plain words, and end with what it means for them." Why it works: Writing standard of this pack; LP audience [S305]. Twist: "Too simple?" Hold: "Trustees decide; clarity helps them decide."	Setup: A consultant emails angrily about a late data template. Trap: Being defensive. Say: "Acknowledge, apologise for the delay without excuses, give a firm time, and deliver early." Why it works: Consultants matter more than ever [S222]. Twist: "It wasn't our fault." Hold: "Possibly; the fix is the same either way."	Setup: Explain to an LP in two minutes why a loan was restructured. Trap: Hiding behind jargon. Say: "What happened, what we did, where the investor stands now, and what we learned." Why it works: Workout capability is what LPs buy [S281]. Twist: "So you lost money?" Hold: "On this loan, the recovery is X so far; across the portfolio, here's the context."

A1 · Passion for markets and private capital

Why does private capital matter? Easy	How do investors allocate? Medium	Contrarian push Hard
Setup: "What role does private credit play in the economy?" Trap: A purely financial answer. Say: "It lends to mid-sized companies banks now find costly to hold, which funds growth and jobs; Hayfin says over €59bn invested across 600+ companies since 2009." Why it works: [S79]; bank retreat [S105]. Twist: "Isn't it just shadow banking?" Hold: "It is non-bank lending, with locked-up money rather than deposits; the risk is opacity, which is why reporting matters."	Setup: "Why would a pension commit to a seven-year illiquid fund?" Trap: Saying 'for returns'. Say: "Its liabilities are long, it can accept illiquidity, and it gets floating-rate contractual income with covenants, above public credit." Why it works: Pension 51% of Hayfin AUM [S305]; excess spread [S151]. Twist: "And if rates fall?" Hold: "Income falls too, but so does borrower stress."	Setup: "I think private credit will blow up within two years. Convince me otherwise." Trap: Either caving or fighting. Say: "I wouldn't fully disagree: defaults are rising on broad measures. But cash defaults in senior loans are about 2.5%, and the ECB sees it as not systemic. The risk is dispersion, so manager choice matters." Why it works: [S245][S155][S177]. Twist: "So you admit it's risky." Hold: "Yes. Credit is always about pricing risk, not avoiding it."

A2 · Organisation, priorities, deadlines

Three asks, one afternoon Easy	Quarter-end crunch Medium	Two senior people, one intern Hard
Setup: Three people ask you for work due by 5pm. Trap: Doing them in order received. Say: "I'd list them with deadlines and client impact, tell each person when they'll get it, and ask my manager to rank if two truly clash." Why it works: Priority order (Figure 11.2). Twist: "Mine is most urgent." Hold: "Then let's confirm with [manager] so the others know."	Setup: Reporting deadline and a live DDQ in the same week. Trap: Quietly working all night and missing one. Say: "Flag the clash early, propose a plan, and protect the external deadline that cannot move." Why it works: Audited accounts within 90 days; DDQ deadlines are external [S305]. Twist: "Can't you do both?" Hold: "Yes, if X can review the DDQ on Thursday rather than Wednesday."	Setup: Two MDs both say their request is top priority. Trap: Choosing the more senior person. Say: Use the composure decision tree (Figure 11.5). Why it works: Fair service to every internal client. Twist: "Just do mine." Hold: "Happy to; can I let [the other MD] know so they aren't left waiting?"

A3 · Attention to detail; complete all tasks

Typo in a borrower name	Easy	Loose ends at internship end	Medium	Detail versus deadline	Hard
Setup: A borrower name is misspelt in a report going out tomorrow. Trap: Thinking it's too small to mention. Say: "Fix, log, and check the same name elsewhere in the pack." Why it works: "see things others don't see" (JD). Twist: "Nobody reads that page." Hold: "The borrower's sponsor might."		Setup: Your last week; two tasks are 80% done. Trap: Leaving them undocumented. Say: "A handover note: status, files, sources, next steps, and who now owns each." Why it works: "able to complete all tasks" (JD). Twist: "Don't worry about it." Hold: "It'll take me 20 minutes and saves someone two hours."		Setup: Perfecting a deck will miss the deadline by an hour. Trap: Missing the deadline for cosmetic polish. Say: "Send an accurate version on time; list the cosmetic fixes for the next version." Why it works: Priority: accuracy over polish, deadline over cosmetics. Twist: "It has to be perfect." Hold: "Numbers will be perfect; fonts can follow."

A4 · Explore the problem, innovate, present

Improve a process	Easy	Case-study library	Medium	Idea rejected	Hard
Setup: "What would you change about how we answer DDQs?" Trap: Criticising without knowing the process. Say: "I'd first learn how the library works, then propose tagging answers by date and owner so stale ones flag themselves." Why it works: DDQ burden [S190]. Twist: "We tried that." Hold: "What stopped it? That's what I'd want to fix."		Setup: Pitch an idea in two minutes. Trap: Vague 'use AI more'. Say: "A case-study library linked to source data and pre-approved disclaimers, so every case study and DDQ answer pulls from one checked record." Why it works: Part 12 close; Marketing Rule disclaimers [S330]. Twist: "Who maintains it?" Hold: "Product Strategy owns it; deal teams confirm facts quarterly."		Setup: Your idea is rejected in a team meeting. Trap: Sulking or pushing harder. Say: "Thank them, ask what would make it worth trying, and offer a small test." Why it works: Hayfin values: healthy debate, humbleness (JD pack). Twist: "It's a waste of time." Hold: "Understood. Could I try it on one DDQ to see?"

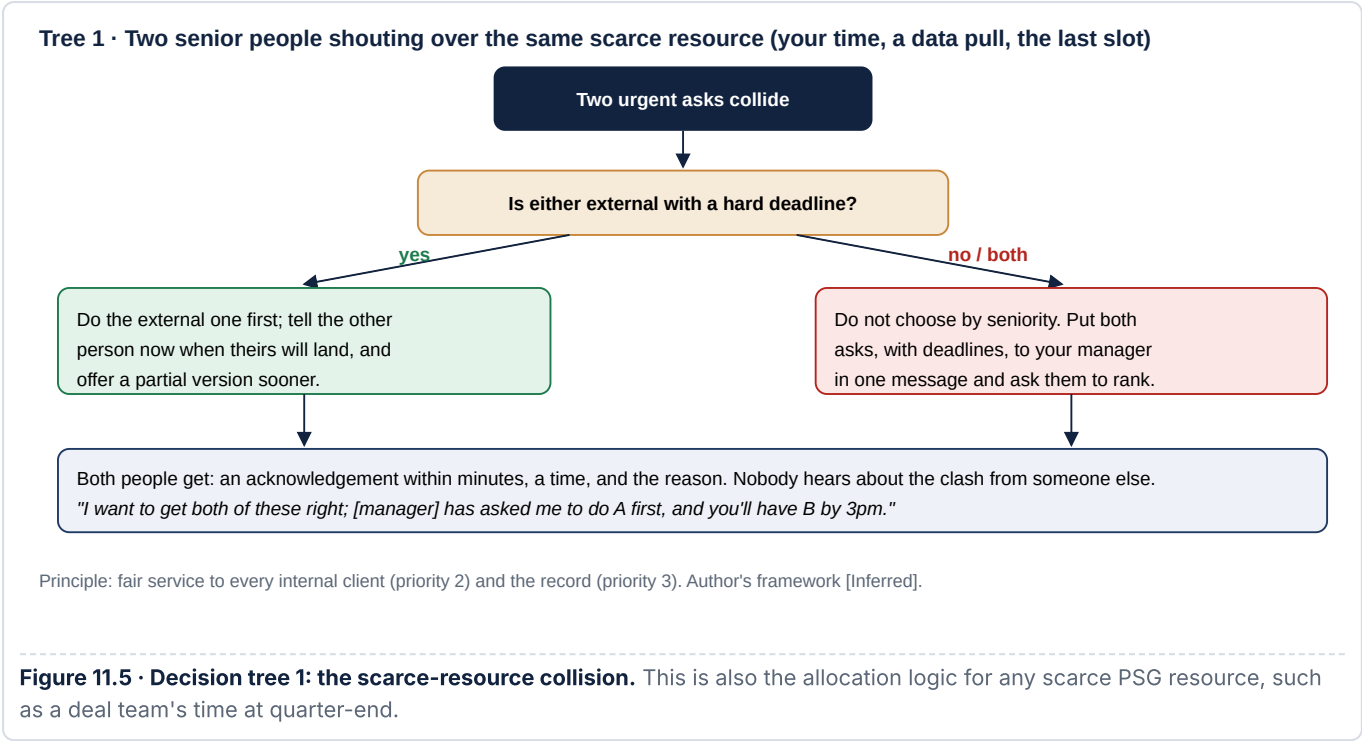

A5 · Articulate; presenting with gravitas

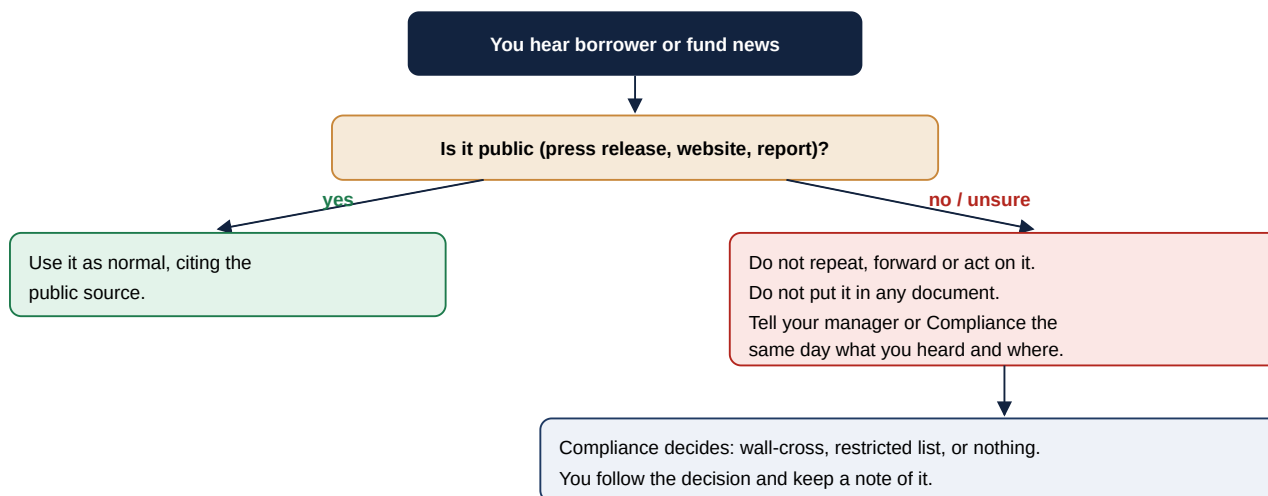

Five-minute fund pitch	Easy	Interrupted mid-pitch	Medium	Silence after your answer	Hard
Setup: Pitch DLF V to a UK pension. Trap: Starting with Hayfin's history. Say: "Start with their need, then the strategy, the evidence, the risks, and the next step." Why it works: Part 9 case scaffold. Twist: "Why not just tell me returns?" Hold: "Net returns depend on the vintage; here's what drives them."		Setup: An interviewer cuts in: 'Skip that, what's the catch?' Trap: Losing the thread. Say: "The main risks are illiquidity, PIK creep in stressed borrowers, and currency for non-euro investors. Here's how each is managed." Why it works: Frame method: answer, then return. Twist: "That's it?" Hold: "Those are the three I'd put first; happy to go deeper on any."		Setup: You finish; the interviewer says nothing for five seconds. Trap: Filling the silence by undermining your answer. Say: Wait two seconds, then: "Would it help if I went deeper on any part of that?" Why it works: Counter to the 'silence' tactic (Figure 11.3). Twist: Still silence. Hold: smile, wait; they will move on.

A6 · Other languages (desirable)

Language link	Easy	No extra language	Medium	Cultural mistake risk	Hard
Setup: "You speak Korean; how would that help?" Trap: Overclaiming business fluency. Say: "Reading local press and LP disclosures, and helping the Seoul team with materials, while professional translation handles anything formal." Why it works: Seoul office 1 Oct 2026 [S223]. Twist: "Could you translate a DDQ?" Hold: "A first draft, yes; a formal one should be checked by a professional."		Setup: "You only speak English?" Trap: Apologising. Say: "Yes; I'd bring curiosity about each market's investors, and I'm happy to learn the vocabulary of the region I support." Why it works: Desirable, not mandatory (JD). Twist: "Others do speak three." Hold: "Then I'll compete on accuracy and research."		Setup: A Middle East LP visit; you draft the agenda. Trap: Ignoring local norms and calendars. Say: "Ask the regional MD for norms, check dates against local holidays, and keep materials simple." Why it works: Coriani covers MENA [S288]; 10% of DLF V from the Middle East [S222]. Twist: "We're in a rush." Hold: "A two-minute check now avoids a bad first impression."

The composure set: five hard scenarios with decision trees

Tree 2 · You hear something in a meeting that might be confidential or inside information

Grounded in Hayfin's MNPI and pre-clearance rules [S301] and deal "tree" barriers [S305]. Author's framework [Inferred].

The other three composure scenarios (draw these from memory)

C3 · A senior person asks you to skip a control

Hard

Setup: "Send the case study now; Compliance can see it afterwards." Tree: Is it external? → yes → it needs sign-off first (COBS 4.2 [S49]). Can sign-off be fast? → ask Compliance for a 15-minute review, tell the senior person the time. → If they insist, escalate politely to your manager. Never send. Say: "I want to get this out today; I've asked Compliance for a quick look and will send it the moment it's cleared." Twist: "I'll take responsibility." Hold: "Thank you; I still need their sign-off before it leaves, and I'll chase it now."

C4 · A mistake you made

Hard

Setup: You sent an LP a table with last quarter's figures. Tree: Has it left the building? → yes → tell your manager within the hour with the right figures and the source → they decide how to correct with the client → you log what went wrong and add a check. Say: "I made an error, here is the correct data, and here is the check I've added so it doesn't recur." Why: Hayfin's value: "We do not hide our mistakes and recognise them as a natural part of our personal and collective growth" (JD pack). Twist: "Why should we trust you now?" Hold: "Because you heard it from me first, with the fix."

C5 · Acting on incomplete information against a deadline

Hard

Setup: A consultant's RFP is due at 5pm; two answers need data you cannot get in time. Tree: Can the data be obtained before 5pm? → no → can the deadline move? → ask the consultant early (by noon) → if not, submit on time with those answers marked "as of [date], update to follow" and a named follow-up date. Never estimate silently. Say: "We'd rather give you an accurate answer on Tuesday than a guess today; everything else is complete." Twist: "Other managers answered in full." Hold: "Then you'll be able to compare like with like on Tuesday."

The CV grill: three levels deep

A CV grill takes one line of your CV and goes three levels down: what you did, how exactly, and why it mattered or what you would do differently. Most candidates hold level one and lose level three. Your CV was not supplied, so the attacks below are generic; run the drill on every bullet.

#	Attack	Frame-holding answer pattern
1	"What exactly did you do, not the team?"	"I owned X: I built the table, checked it against Y, and presented it to Z." Use "I" for your work and "we" for the team's.

#	Attack	Frame-holding answer pattern
2	"That number on your CV: how did you calculate it?"	Give the formula and the source in one breath. If it was a team estimate, say so.
3	"Sounds like admin. What was the analysis?"	Name the decision your work fed and one judgement you made.
4	"What went wrong?"	One real problem, your fix, what you would do differently (Hayfin values mistakes as learning, JD pack).
5	"Why did you leave / not get a return offer?"	Neutral facts, no blame, forward-looking: what you now want and why PSG fits.
6	"How is that relevant to investor relations?"	Map it to a JD duty: pitch materials, data accuracy, client requests, presenting.
7	"You list Excel. Build me X now."	Talk while you build: set-up, check, result. Say where you would double-check.
8	"Your interest in private credit looks recent."	"It is recent and deliberate; here is what I read and what I concluded" (cite Part 5 and Part 7).

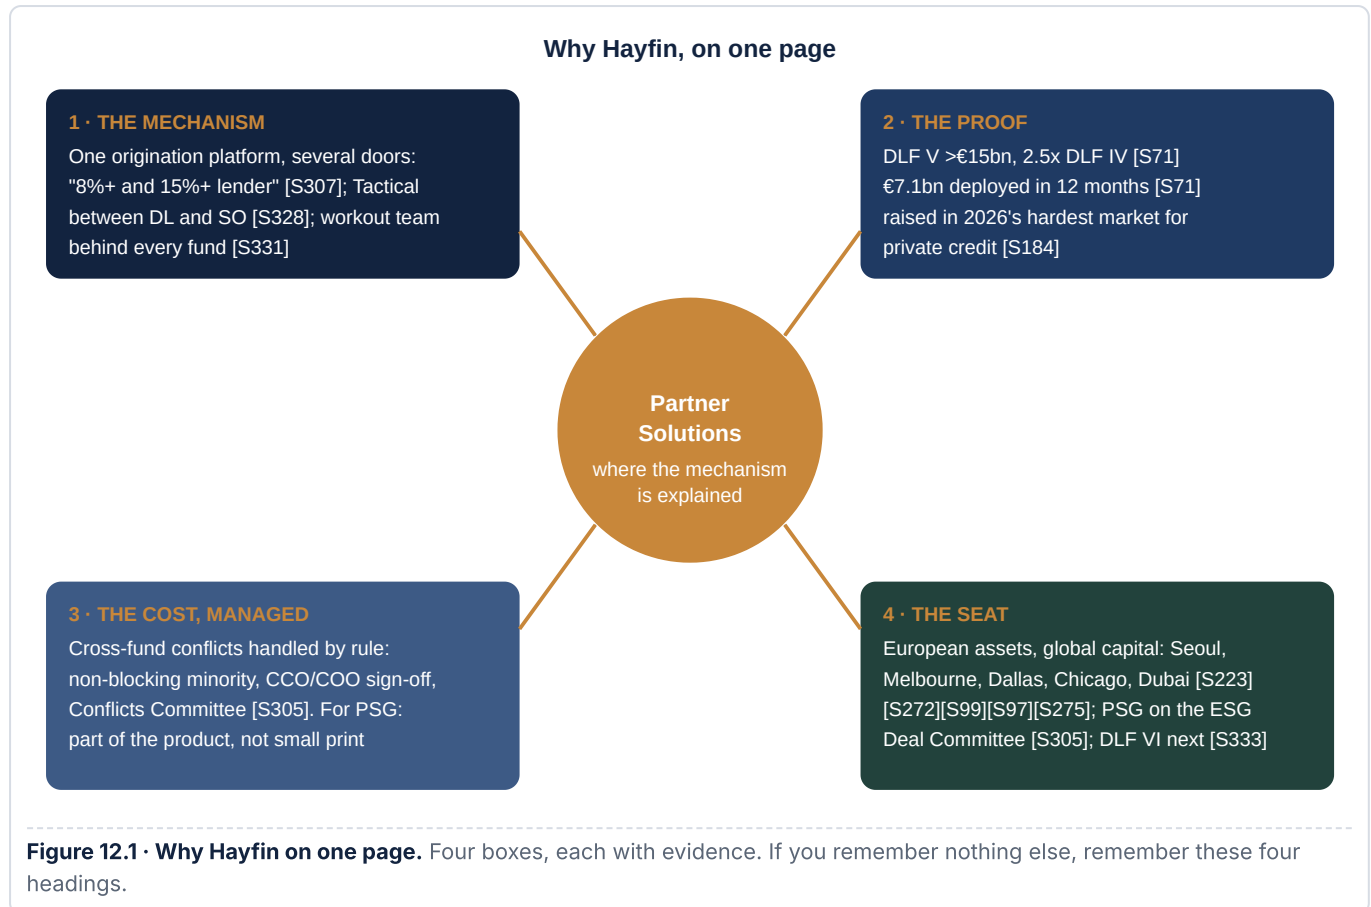

THE FOUR-LINE DRILL FOR EVERY CV BULLET

1. Context in one line (where, when, for whom). 2. My action in one line, with a verb you can defend. 3. Result with one number and its source. 4. Lesson that links to PSG (accuracy, client, data, presenting). Write all four for each bullet, then answer three "why?" questions on each aloud.

PART 12

"Why Hayfin?"

Built from mechanism: thirty seconds, two minutes, a close, the comparison table, and the honest counter-case

Thirty seconds

SAY THIS IN THE INTERVIEW

"Hayfin is one platform with several doors. The same local teams can offer a company a senior loan from Direct Lending, gap capital from Tactical Solutions or a rescue from Special Opportunities, and the workout team stands behind all of them. That is why LPs, half of them pension funds, gave DLF V over €15 billion, two and a half times the last fund, in a hard year for private credit. Partner Solutions is where that mechanism is explained, evidenced and reported every quarter. That is the work I want to learn."

Two minutes

SAY THIS IN THE INTERVIEW

"I looked at Hayfin from the investor's side, because that is the PSG seat.

First, the mechanism. Hayfin started in 2009 as a lender using its backers' balance sheet, then moved to managing funds. A 2016 Pennsylvania pension memo made a point I found striking: because the market sees Hayfin as both an 8% and a 15% lender, it sees more companies and gets better terms. One relationship, several products, and a legal and workout team that has worked in each European creditor regime. Tim Flynn's explanation is that Europe is too shallow for a narrow mandate.

Second, the cost, and how Hayfin handles it. If two Hayfin funds can sit in the same company, someone has to protect each fund's investors. The Stewardship report sets rules: one fund must be a non-blocking minority, cross trades need CCO and COO sign-off, and exceptions go to a Conflicts Committee. Those are exactly the questions in an LP's DDQ, so for PSG they are part of the product.

Third, the investors. About half of AUM is pension money, a fifth insurance, an eighth sovereign wealth. Each group needs a different wrapper, which is why DLF V was raised through unlevered and levered funds, SMAs, evergreen vehicles and a rated note feeder for insurers. And LPs pressed hardest on PIK, tech exposure and loss rates.

Fourth, the seat. The firm is concentrating its investing on Europe and globalising its investor base: Seoul last week, Melbourne and Dallas last year. A Finance job post already mentions DLF VI. So PSG is one of the firm's growth engines, and I would join it while it is still being built. That is why Hayfin, and why Partner Solutions."

Evidence: balance-sheet origin [S307]; 8%/15% [S307]; legal team [S307]; Flynn [S324]; conflict rules [S305]; investor mix [S305]; wrappers and LP scrutiny [S222]; offices [S223][S272][S99]; DLF VI [S333].

The close: one specific thing you want to work on

YOUR OPINION GOES HERE · PICK ONE CLOSE

Option A (product strategy interviewer): "One thing I'd like to work on is a case-study library that links each case study and DDQ answer to its source: the deal memo, the portfolio monitoring figure and the Finance-reviewed NAV, with the marketing disclaimers built in. Your PES update already shows the standard, with gross and net defined and hypothetical performance labelled under Rule 206(4)-1. If every answer pulled from one checked record, PSG would answer faster with fewer errors. I'd happily build and test a first version with AI tools, as the JD suggests." [S330][S333]

Option B (coverage interviewer): "I'd like to build a one-page investor briefing template: commitment history, consultant, currency, and the conflict and workout questions they asked last time. The Chicago analyst role describes briefing notes for coverage; I'd like to see how London does it." [S19]

Option C (if ILPA comes up): "I'd like to help with the first ILPA Performance Template deliveries for funds launched from 2026, which fall due around the time of the internship." [S45]

What most candidates will say, and what you can say

Most candidates	This candidate
"Hayfin is a leading European private credit manager with €40bn of AUM."	"About half of AUM is Direct Lending; HY and loans is the second-largest line at €9.2bn; Healthcare and Maritime are under €1bn each. The specialist teams are about capability, not size." [S305]
"I'm interested in private credit's growth."	"DLF V raised over €15bn, 2.5x DLF IV, partly because LPs wanted closed-end structures after the strains in US semi-liquid funds." [S71][S221]

Most candidates	This candidate
"Hayfin does direct lending and special opportunities."	"The 2016 PSERS memo says Direct Lending makes Special Opportunities better: the market sees Hayfin as both an 8% and a 15% lender." [S307]
"I like the collaborative culture."	"Hayfin says investment staff are 'rewarded to collaborate, rather than outperform peers'; Flynn calls it a 'no superstar culture'." [S305][S281]
"IR is about client relationships."	"PSG sits on the ESG Deal Committee before IC, and IR and investment teams co-produce quarterly reports with line-by-line expected gross IRRs." [S305]
"I'm good at Excel and PowerPoint."	"I can explain why a euro fund's 8% net IRR became minus 2.6% for a dollar LP, and why hedging is a DDQ question." [S307][S309]
"Hayfin has strong investors."	"51% pensions, 19.5% insurers, 12.1% SWFs; 22.8% from Australia, which links to a founding backer and a 2025 Melbourne hire; Seoul opened this month." [S305][S307][S272][S223]
"Hayfin is independent."	"Management holds the majority of common equity with Arctos funding; Mubadala, AXA IM Prime and Samsung Life are minority holders, and several are also allocators." [S301][S74][S75]

Transplant test. Try replacing "Hayfin" with "Ares" or "ICG" in the right-hand column. The sentences stop being true. That is the test of a mechanism-based answer.

The honest counter-case

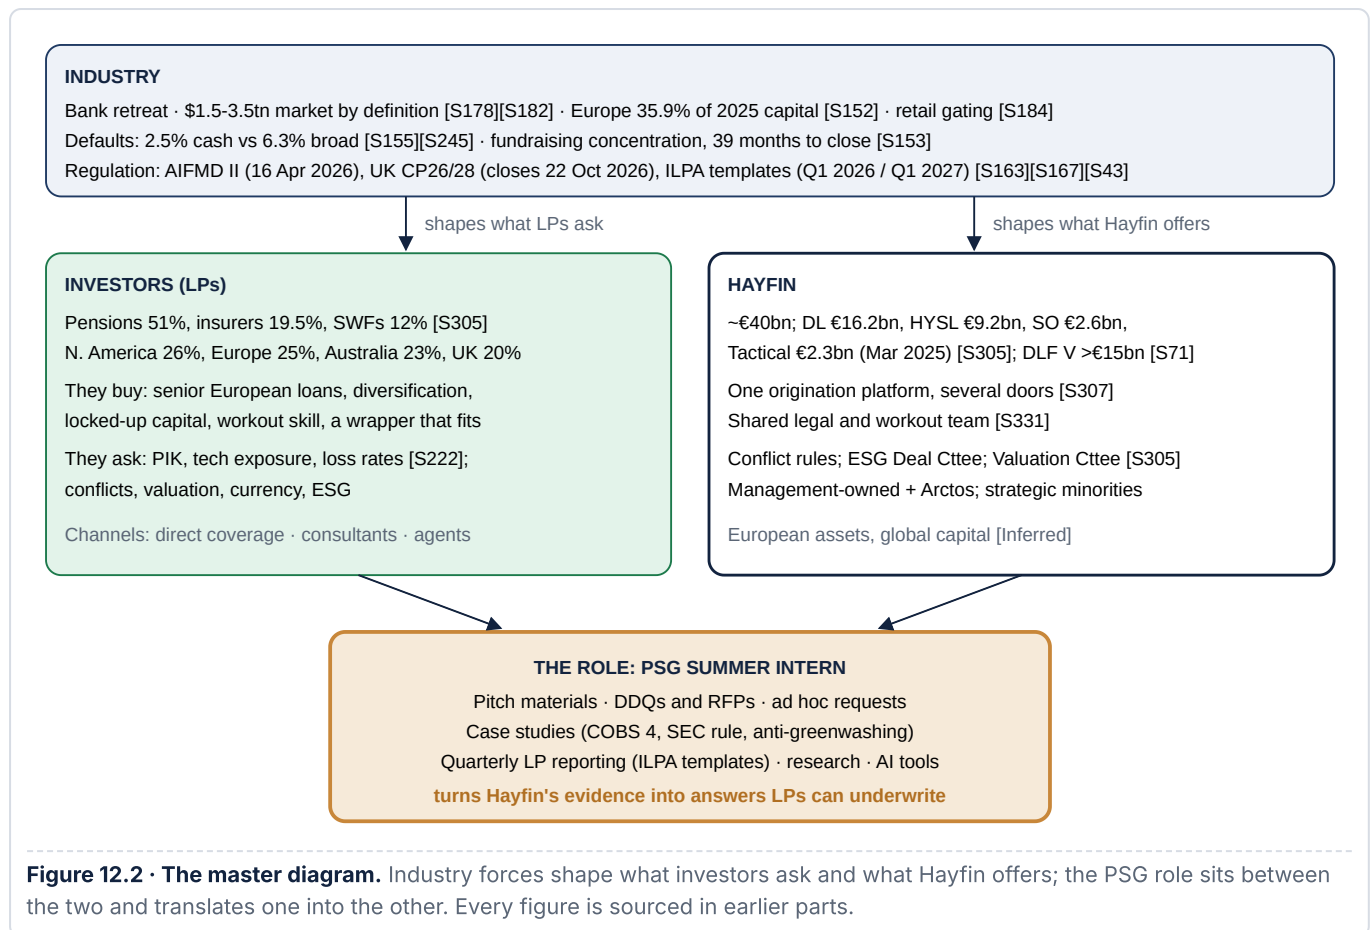

Know these so that a hard question does not surprise you. Raise them only as questions, never as accusations.

1. The only public fund-level net return is old: the first Special Opportunities fund showed 8.1% net in 2015 against an 11-15% target [S306][S307].
2. Currency risk is real for non-euro investors: 8.0% in euros became -2.6% in dollars for one unhedged LP [S307].
3. PSERS booked a -$3.9m carried interest accrual on its Hayfin funds in 2024 [S308].
4. Direct Lending dominance means a European default cycle would hit the flagship hardest [S305][S71].
5. Fast growth tests whether underwriting and workout capacity kept pace: 228 staff and 100 investment professionals in 2025 [S305].
6. No current loss rate is published; broad direct lending index losses are estimated around 1.5% a year [S344].
7. Three ownership changes since 2017, and some senior names have left the website [S315][S74][S296].
8. Multi-strategy creates conflicts; Hayfin's detailed rules show they occur [S305].
9. Much larger global platforms compete in European direct lending [S186][S135].

TURN THE COUNTER-CASE INTO A QUESTION

"How has the workout team scaled alongside DLF V?" · "How does PSG explain cross-fund conflicts to an LP in both DLF and Special Opportunities?" · "Do US investors in DLF V mostly hedge the euro, and does PSG help them think about it?"

The master diagram: firm, industry and role connected

PART 13

Cheat sheet

One page. Read it the morning of the interview. Also supplied as Cheat_Sheet.pdf

PROTOCOL (45-75 S)

STEADY restate the problem · SORT facts vs unknowns, priority order · ACT two or three steps with owners · CLOSE principle and outcome.

PRIORITY ORDER

1 Rules and the firm's name · 2 Fair service to every investor and colleague · 3 Process and record · 4 Speed.
"I'll always be fast, but never at the cost of accuracy, fairness between investors, or a compliance sign-off."

NEVER

Guess a number · send anything external without Compliance · share one LP's terms with another · repeat possible inside information · say "€30bn" or "ten offices" · call Hayfin a retail manager · name Wolfman as head of PSG · badmouth a rival or past employer · call IR a stepping stone.

COUNTERS TO FRAME BREAKS

Interrupt → answer, then finish · Contradiction → "number or conclusion?" · Silence → wait, offer depth · Escalation → same rules, add the MD · Authority → fast compliant path · False choice → sequence it · Knowledge trap → know / don't / how I'd check · Badmouth → respect, mechanism.

NUMBERS IF ASKED

~€40bn AUM, Q2 2026 · DLF V >€15bn (2 Jul 2026), DLF IV >€6bn (Aug 2023) · ~$600m rated note feeder · €7.1bn DL deployed in 12 months · Pensions 51%, insurers 19.5%, SWFs 12% · Australia 22.8% · DL €16.2bn, HYSL €9.2bn (Mar 2025) · software <6% of DL · 228 staff, 100 investment (2025) · founded 2009 · MBO completed Feb 2025 · Seoul 1 Oct 2026 · Proskauer 2.51% vs Fitch 6.3% · AIFMD II 16 Apr 2026 · CP26/28 closes 22 Oct 2026 · ILPA templates Q1 2026, first Performance delivery after Q1 2027.

WHY HAYFIN, 30 SECONDS

One platform with several doors: senior loan, gap capital or rescue from the same local teams, with a workout team behind all of them ("8%+ and 15%+ lender"). LPs, half pensions, gave DLF V over €15bn, 2.5x the last fund, in a hard year. PSG is where that mechanism is explained, evidenced and reported. That's what I want to learn.

LINES TO HAVE READY

- "PSG sits on the ESG Deal Committee before IC." • "Staff are 'rewarded to collaborate, rather than outperform peers'."
- "Conflict rules are part of the product for PSG." • "European assets, global capital." • "Scale should be an outcome of repeatability" (PSG's own line).
- "AI takes the first draft; a person signs off." • "Default rates depend on the definition."

RECENT NEWS (PICK THREE)

DLF V close and the PSG debrief (22 Sep) · Seoul office (1 Oct) · Marsh as Head of Investments (7 May) · European CLO raise, US CLO review (18 May) · Condis €305m (9 Sep) · Mergermarket award (30 Sep) · US BDC gating · Fitch 6.3% · SEC valuation statement (28 Sep).

PEOPLE (PUBLIC)

ONE QUESTION TO ASK

"DLF V had more consultant involvement than any earlier Hayfin fund. How has that changed what PSG produces day to day?"

Backup: "Does the Three PIKs framework show up in quarterly reporting?"

PART 14

Glossary

86 terms in plain English

Term	Plain-English meaning
Advisory Board (LPAC)	A group of selected investors in a fund that reviews conflicts, expenses and performance; at Hayfin it meets twice a year [S305].
AIF / AIFM	Alternative investment fund / its manager. The EU and UK regulate managers of funds like Hayfin's.
AIFMD II	Directive (EU) 2024/927 amending the EU fund managers directive; transposition by 16 April 2026; adds loan-origination fund rules [S163].
AIMA DDQ	A due diligence questionnaire from the Alternative Investment Management Association, with modules for private credit [S48].
Allocation policy	The firm's rules for sharing deals fairly between its funds [S305].
Amend-and-extend	Changing a loan's terms and pushing out its maturity, often to avoid a default.
Annex IV	The EU's regulatory reporting template for fund managers; enhanced from 16 April 2027 [S251].
Asset-based finance (ABF)	Loans secured on pools of assets such as receivables or equipment rather than a company's cash flow.
AUM	Assets under management: how much money a manager looks after.
BDC (non-traded)	A US business development company, a lending fund often sold to wealthy individuals with limited quarterly redemptions.
Basis point (bp)	One hundredth of one percent; 75bps = 0.75%.
Capital account statement	A report of one investor's contributions, distributions, fees and value in a fund.
Capital call (drawdown)	The fund asking investors to send part of their committed money when a loan is made.
Carried interest (carry)	The manager's share of profits above a hurdle.
Catch-up	A clause letting the manager receive a larger share of profits after the hurdle until it reaches its agreed split.
CLO	Collateralised loan obligation: a vehicle that buys syndicated loans and funds itself by selling rated slices of debt and equity.
Club deal	A loan provided by a small group of lenders rather than one.
COBS 4	The FCA rules on communications and financial promotions, including "fair, clear and not misleading" [S49].
Co-investment	An investor investing directly alongside a fund in a specific deal, usually at lower fees.
Commitment	The amount an investor promises to a fund, drawn over time.
Consultant (investment)	A firm advising pension funds on which managers to hire; often a gatekeeper.
Continuation fund	A new vehicle that buys one or more assets from an older fund so they can be held longer.
Covenant	A borrower's promise in a loan, such as keeping leverage below a level.
Covenant-lite	A loan without regular financial tests, giving lenders less early warning.
DDQ	Due diligence questionnaire: a standard list of questions investors send before investing.
Direct lending	A fund lending directly to a company, usually PE-owned, rather than through a bank.
Distressed debt	Debt of a company in or near default, often bought at a discount.
DPI	Distributions to paid-in capital: cash returned divided by cash called.
Dry powder	Committed capital not yet invested.

Term	Plain-English meaning
EBITDA (LTM)	Earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation, over the last twelve months.
ELTIF 2.0	The revised EU long-term investment fund rules (Regulation (EU) 2023/606), applying from 10 January 2024 [S164].
Evergreen fund	A fund with no fixed end date that takes new money and allows limited redemptions.
eVestment	A database where managers submit data that consultants and investors search [S55].
Feeder fund	A vehicle through which investors invest into a main fund, often to suit tax or regulation.
Financial promotion	Any communication inviting someone to invest; regulated in the UK.
First close / final close	The first date a fund accepts commitments and starts investing / the date it stops taking new money.
Floating rate	Interest that moves with a base rate such as Euribor or SONIA.
Fund of funds	A fund that invests in other funds.
GP / LP	General partner (the manager) / limited partner (the investor).
Gross vs net return	Before vs after fees, carry and expenses.
Hard cap	The maximum size a fund may raise.
High yield	Traded bonds rated below investment grade.
Hurdle (preferred return)	The minimum return investors receive before the manager earns carry.
ILPA	Institutional Limited Partners Association, which sets investor-backed templates and principles.
ILPA Reporting / Performance Template	Standard formats for fees and capital accounts / performance, released 22 January 2025 [S43].
Information barrier	Rules that stop confidential information passing between teams; at Hayfin, deal "trees" [S305].
Investment period / harvest	The years a fund makes new loans / the years it collects repayments; 3-4 years each at Hayfin [S305].
IRR	Internal rate of return: the annual return that makes a fund's cash flows net to zero.
Key person clause	A fund term triggered if named senior people leave.
Leverage (company)	Debt divided by EBITDA.
Leverage (fund)	Borrowing by the fund itself to increase returns; DLF V had levered and unlevered versions [S222].
Loan-origination fund	Under AIFMD II, a fund whose main strategy is making loans; subject to leverage caps and retention [S163].
Loss rate	Money lost on loans as a share of capital lent, usually annualised.
LPA	Limited partnership agreement: the fund's legal contract with investors.
LTAF	The UK's Long-Term Asset Fund, an authorised open-ended fund for illiquid assets.
Management fee	An annual fee on committed or invested capital; around 1% is the European direct lending norm [S104].
Marketing Rule (SEC)	US Rule 206(4)-1 governing adviser marketing, including gross and net performance [S53].
Mezzanine	Junior debt between senior loans and equity.
MFN clause	"Most favoured nation": an investor's right to terms as good as those given to similar investors.
MNPI	Material non-public information; trading on it is illegal.
MOIC	Multiple on invested capital: total value divided by money invested.
NAV	Net asset value: what a fund's assets are worth minus its liabilities.
NAV lending	Loans to a PE fund secured on the value of its portfolio.

PART 16

Gaps and open questions

What could not be established, and the final self-check

What could not be established

Area	Gap
Interview process	The 2027 format, rounds and dates are not public. Process evidence rests on a few anonymous Glassdoor and WSO snippets that could not be read in full [S260][S261][S263]. No HireVue evidence either way.
Interviewers	Not yet named. Junior London PSG staff cannot be identified from public sources. The early-careers owner is not named (David Slack is the senior HR MD).
PSG leadership	No single Head of PSG is listed. Alex Wolfman's departure is inferred, not announced. Status of Breiner, Parisi, Sedlmayr and Richardson unknown.
PSG headcount	Estimate only (about 32, range 28 to 40). Reporting lines between product strategy and coverage not public.
Fund terms	Hayfin's management fee, hurdle and carry are not public; industry norms used instead [S104].
Performance	No recent fund-level net IRR, TVPI or loss rate is public. Newest public figure is from September 2015 [S307].
Fund sizes	DLF V split between commingled, levered, SMA and evergreen vehicles not disclosed; hard cap not found. SOF IV status unconfirmed. Several specialist fund sizes unconfirmed.
Ownership	Exact stakes of management, Arctos, Mubadala, AXA IM Prime and Samsung Life not disclosed; only SEC ownership bands [S83]. MBO valuation currency inconsistent. Samsung Life 3.96% from a low-confidence source.
Group financials	Only the UK LLP accounts were obtained; group revenue and margins not available.
FCA register	The register page would not load, so the UK disciplinary section and approved persons could not be checked directly.
Information walls	No public document describes a wall between private credit and public high-yield teams; inferred.
Portfolio Management Group	Internal structure, size and name not confirmed from a primary source.
US CLO review	Outcome not reported as of 8 October 2026.
ILPA adoption	Whether Hayfin uses the 2025 templates is not public.
Rankings	Hayfin's exact PEI Private Credit 200 rank, Preqin ranks and Deloitte lender rankings not accessible.
Regulation	SFDR 2.0 Parliament status after September 2026; which EU states missed the AIFMD II deadline; final status of the US Basel re-proposal; SEC Marketing Rule compliance date not re-verified.
Candidate inputs	The input form's candidate, interview and insider fields were blank, so the CV grill is generic and the pack assumes a beginner.

Open questions to resolve after shortlisting

1. Ask SEO London for the interview format, length and interviewer names.
2. Check each interviewer's Hayfin bio; re-read anything they wrote.

3. Re-check Hayfin's news page for anything after 8 October 2026 (US CLO outcome, DLF VI, new hires).
4. Check whether the FCA has published feedback on CP26/28 after 22 October 2026.
5. Fill in your CV drill (Part 11) and rewrite the 2-minute "why Hayfin" in your own words.

Final self-check

Check	Status	Note
Every figure has a source and date; estimates labelled on the chart	Met	Each figure caption names sources and dates. Estimates (PSG headcount, AUM per employee, illustrative cycle) are labelled "estimate" or "illustrative" in the figure or caption.
A total beginner could read Parts 1, 2 and 5 without another source	Met	Key-term boxes open each of these parts; the glossary has 86 terms.
"Why Hayfin" is mechanism, not adjectives, and fails the transplant test for rivals	Met	Built on the 8%/15% lender memo, conflict rules, investor mix and wrappers (Part 12).
Regulatory section is current and dated correctly	Met, with flags	EUR-Lex texts for AIFMD II and ELTIF 2.0; the CP26/28 deadline was checked on the FCA page on 8 Oct 2026 (22 Oct). Disputed or unverified dates are flagged.
Team section goes beyond the JD, with method shown and thin evidence admitted	Met	Org chart with confidence colours, three headcount methods, peer benchmark (Part 1).
Every JD bullet has three scenarios; the composure set has decision trees	Met	14 bullets × 3 = 42 cards; five composure scenarios, two drawn trees, three written trees.
People sections contain only public professional information, with identity uncertainty flagged	Met	All profiles from Hayfin bios or releases; former or unconfirmed names flagged amber.
