PART 1

Finance from zero

Everything you need before the products make sense. Ten minutes, no jargon.

Lazard Asset Management (LAM) looks after other people's money and tries to grow it. Pension funds, insurers, wealthy families and ordinary savers hand LAM money. LAM's experts invest it, and LAM charges a small yearly fee. That's the whole business.

$290bn

money LAM looks after (31 Aug 2026) [B1]

~0.45%

average yearly fee (computed from Lazard results) [B2]

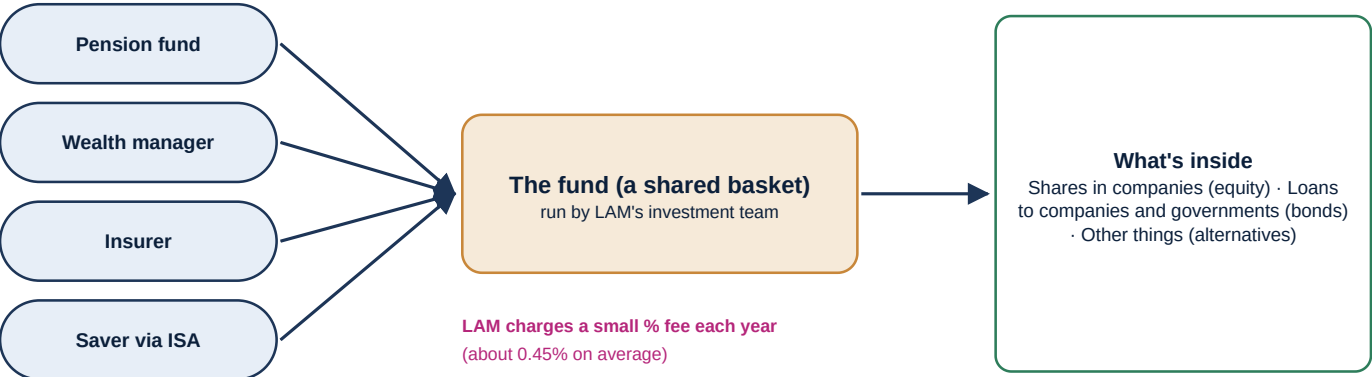

75%

of it is in company shares [B3]

1953 year LAM started in London [B4]

What a fund is: many people's money, one expert team, one basket

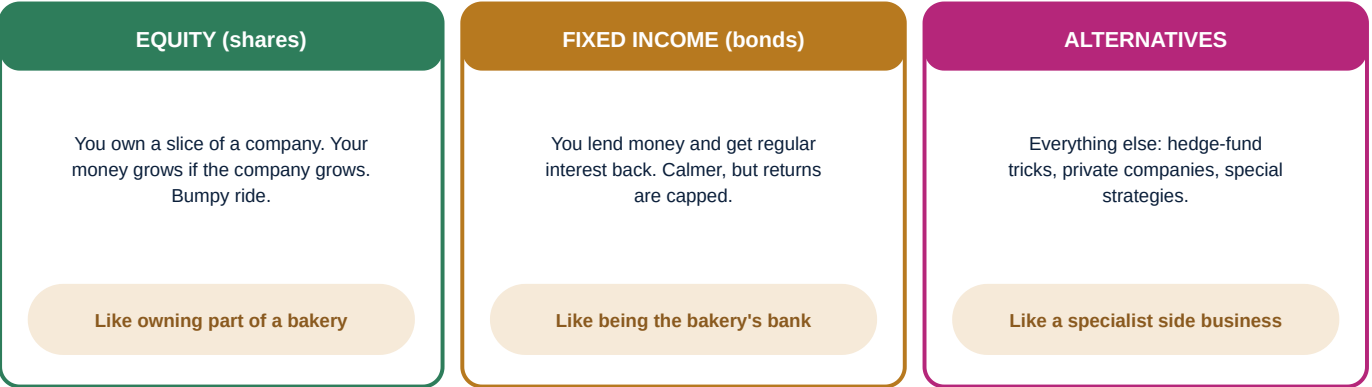

What a fund is

Source: Author's diagram Inferred . Fee is an average computed from Lazard FY2025 results ($1,107m fees ÷ $246.9bn average assets) [B2].

KEY TERM · AUM (ASSETS UNDER MANAGEMENT)

The total money a firm looks after. LAM's AUM is about $290bn. If someone says 'AUM fell', clients took money out or markets dropped.

The three big ingredients

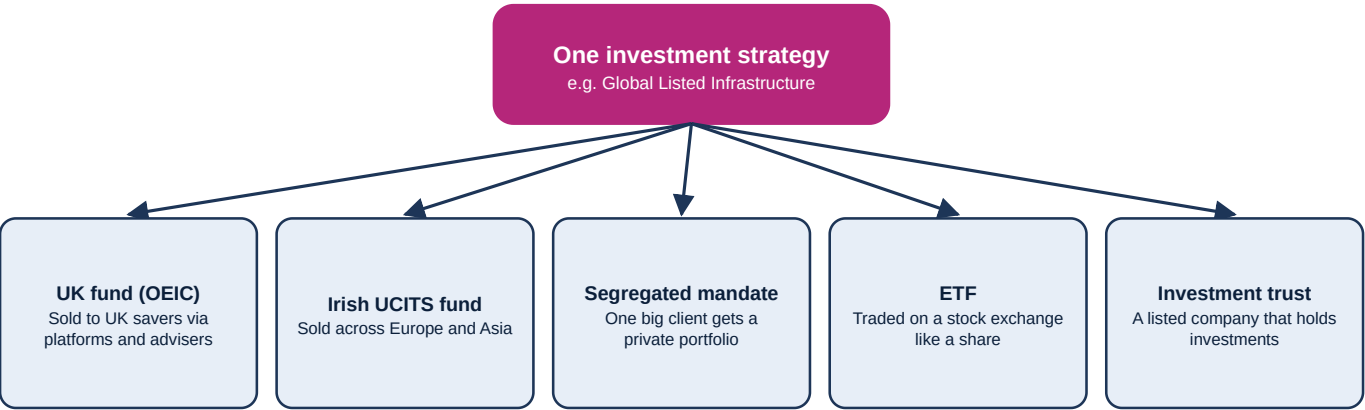

The three ingredients

Source: Author's diagram Inferred . LAM's mix at 30 Jun 2026: equity $214bn, fixed income $35bn, multi-asset $24bn, alternatives $11bn [B3].

KEY TERM · MULTI-ASSET

A fund that mixes the ingredients for you: some shares, some bonds, some alternatives.

Same recipe, different packaging: the 'wrapper'

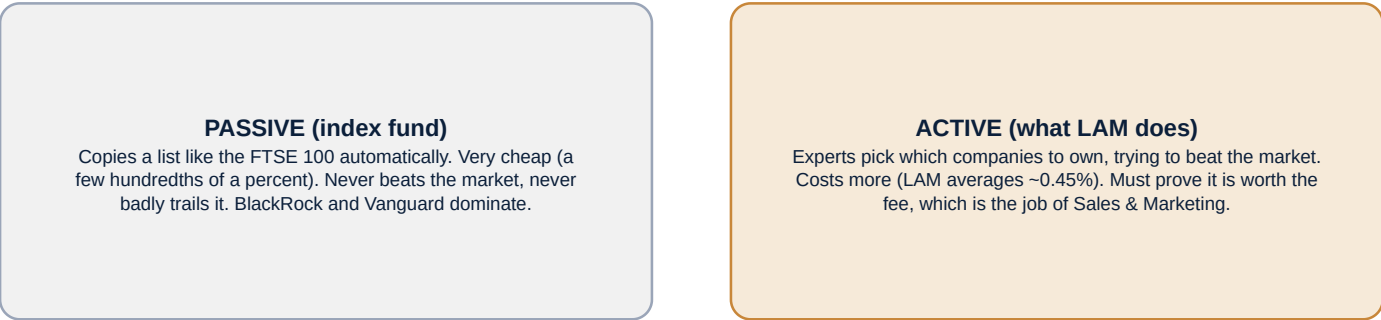

The wrapper

Source: Author's diagram Inferred . LAM uses all five wrappers [B5].

PICTURE IT

Think of the strategy as a recipe and the wrapper as the packaging. The same infrastructure recipe is sold as a UK fund, an Irish fund, a US ETF and an Australian ETF. A big part of Sales & Marketing is choosing the right packaging for each customer.

Active vs passive: the industry's biggest argument

Active vs passive

Source: Author's diagram Inferred . Index funds were 35% of UK-managed assets in 2024 (Investment Association) [B6].

So LAM earns more when (1) markets rise, or (2) Sales & Marketing brings in more client money and keeps it.

How LAM makes money

Source: Illustrative £100m at LAM's computed average fee [B2].

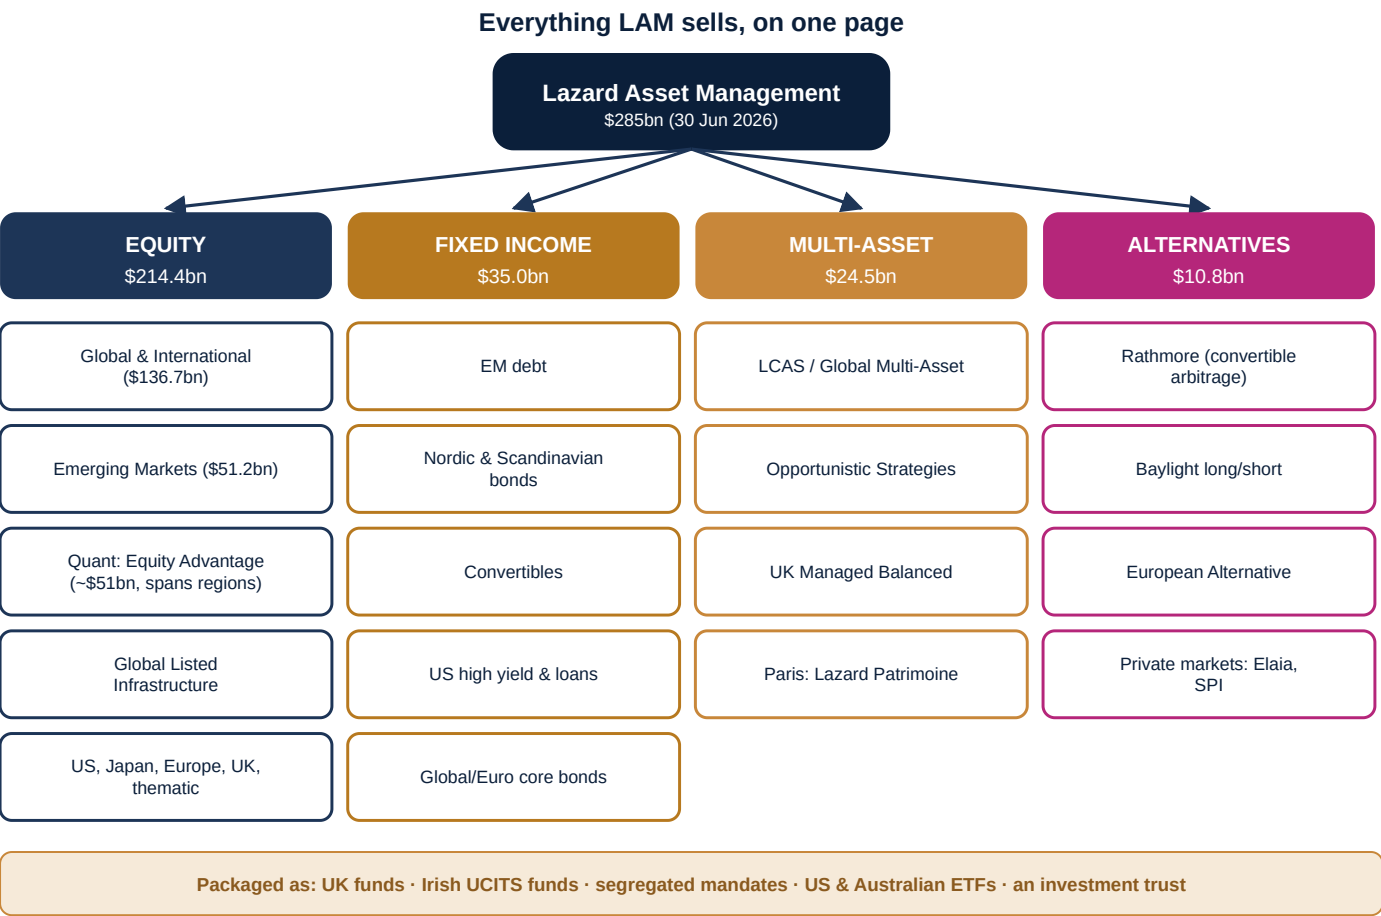

Six words you'll hear constantly

Word	Plain English
Basis point (bp)	One hundredth of a percent. 45 bps = 0.45%.
Benchmark	The scoreboard a fund is compared with, such as the MSCI Emerging Markets index.
Net flows	Money clients put in minus money they took out. The Sales & Marketing scorecard.
Track record	How the fund has performed over the years.
Emerging markets (EM)	Faster-growing countries such as India, Brazil, Taiwan and Korea.
Institutional vs wholesale	Selling to big organisations (pension funds) vs selling through middlemen (wealth managers, platforms).

The whole shop: every product family

A map of everything Lazard Asset Management sells, how big each shelf is, and which ones are growing.

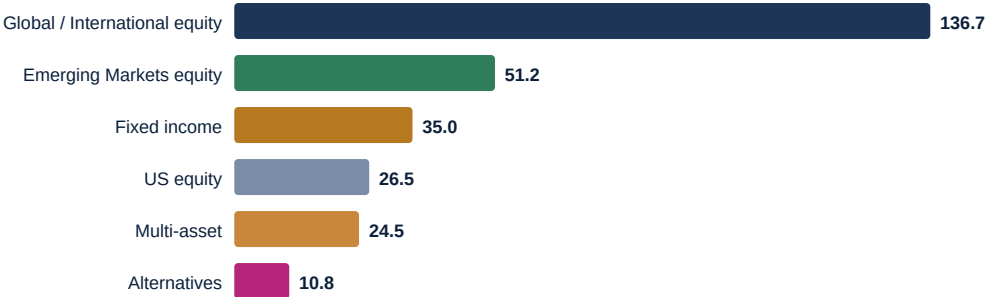

The product map

PICTURE IT

Picture LAM as a department store with four floors. The biggest floor sells company shares from around the world. The second sells bonds. The third sells ready-mixed baskets. The top floor is a small specialist boutique of unusual strategies. Each item comes in several kinds of packaging for different customers.

The four strengths Lazard's CEO names himself

"This includes quantitatively driven strategies, emerging markets, global and international equities, and listed infrastructure—segments where imperfect information and technology-enabled insights provide opportunities for excess return."

Peter Orszag, Lazard CEO, 2025 Annual Letter, 7 Apr 2026 [O20]

- Quant
- Emerging markets
- Global & international
- Listed infrastructure

These four are where the next pages spend the most time. When you hear "where information is imperfect", read it as: markets where careful research can still find things other people miss, so paying an active manager makes more sense.

PART 3A

The equity shelves, one by one

The four headline strategies first, then the rest. For each: what it is, who buys it, the numbers, the exact words LAM uses to sell it, and what its leaders say.

KEY TERM · EQUITY STRATEGY VS FUND

A strategy is the recipe for picking shares. A fund is one package of that recipe. 'Strategy AUM' counts all packages together; 'fund AUM' counts just one. Don't mix them.

KEY TERM · FINANCIAL PRODUCTIVITY

LAM's house phrase. How well a company turns money into profit (returns on equity and capital). LAM wants companies that are 'financially productive' AND cheap. You'll see 'financially productive firms at attractive valuations' on almost every LAM equity page [EU6].

"We do not build solutions to simply check style boxes... There is no 'house view' dictating a uniform approach"

LAM UK Equities page [EU5]

3A.1 Emerging Markets

Emerging Markets Equity (and its family)

'A New Chapter in Emerging Markets' (UK featured page)

WHAT IT IS	Shares in companies from developing economies such as Taiwan, Korea, India, Brazil and Mexico. The flagship buys 'financially productive firms at attractive valuations'.
WHO BUYS IT	UK wealth managers and platforms (UK fund), European investors (Irish funds), pension funds (separate accounts), US investors (mutual funds and the EMKT ETF).
KEY FACTS	- EM platform: $56bn, 60+ investment professionals, 33 countries (30 Jun 2026) [EU2] - Flagship strategy $23.3bn, since 1994; EM Equity Advantage (quant) $12.5bn [EU6] - UK Lazard Emerging Markets Fund: £1.9bn at 30 Sep 2026 [EU7] - On Fidelity's Select 50; a Fidelity 2026 fund pick [EF1] - Portfolio on ~12x earnings vs ~18x for the index [EP1]
KEYWORDS	A New Chapter in Emerging Markets Diverse, not uniform Divergence Is Opportunity Financially productive firms at attractive valuations Quality value

"We see the current environment as one of the most favorable setups for emerging markets equities in over a decade. Despite robust performance in 2025, we believe the asset class is only at the start of a long phase of renewed relevance and recovery."

James Donald, Head of Emerging Markets, UK featured page (data 30 Jun 2026) [EU2]

"Emerging markets are at a pivotal moment... Economic growth is accelerating, demographics are shifting, and valuations are compelling."

Rohit Chopra, PM, EMKT ETF launch, 27 Oct 2025 [EL3]

"country and regional allocations are a residual of the stock selection process, rather than the other way around."

EM Equity strategy description [EU6]

STANDS OUT	Breadth (value, growth, core, small-cap, quant versions) plus a record of falling less in bad months. It beat the index over 3, 5 and 10 years.
WATCH OUT	Big bets on Asian chip makers (TSMC and SK hynix ~11%); the latest one-year return is roughly level with the index. LAM says 'since 1990' but the flagship dates from 1994.

What 'down-capture 70%' means, in one picture

When the EM market falls 10%...
the flagship fund has historically fallen about 7% (70% down-capture, 3 years)

When the EM market rises 10%... it has historically risen about 9.7% (97% up-capture). Lose less, keep most of the upside.

3A.2 Global Listed Infrastructure

Global Listed Infrastructure (GLI)

'Not All Infrastructure Is Created Equal' · 'Investing in the Building Blocks of the Global Economy'

WHAT IT IS

WHO BUYS IT

KEY FACTS

KEYWORDS

Shares in companies that own monopoly-like essential assets (power and water networks, toll roads, airports, railways) whose prices are often regulated and inflation-linked.

Pension funds and insurers wanting inflation-linked, steady income; wealth managers wanting a defensive sleeve.

- Strategy: $22.4bn (30 Jun 2026) [EU6]; UK-available fund £2.0bn (30 Sep 2026) [EU7]
- Aims for inflation + 5% a year over rolling five years [EU6]
- 9.31% a year since 2006 vs 7.24% for its index, with 56% downside capture [EP3]

Valuation Discipline

Diversification · Low Volatility · Inflation-Resilience · Steady Income

Pioneers in listed infrastructure

"In our view, not all infrastructure is created equal. Our unique approach focusses on a "preferred" subset providing an asset class that can deliver clear benefits: diversification, lower volatility and inflation protection."

Warryn Robertson, PM, Australian ETF launch, Jun 2024 [EL1]

"data centers have garnered significant attention due to soaring valuations and a compelling investment narrative... But we believe these assets lack the key characteristics of core infrastructure"

GLI team, 12 Nov 2025 [EU12]

"At Lazard, we believe infrastructure is at the epicenter of the modern economy"

Rob Forsyth, Global Head of ETFs, 6 Oct 2025 [EL2]

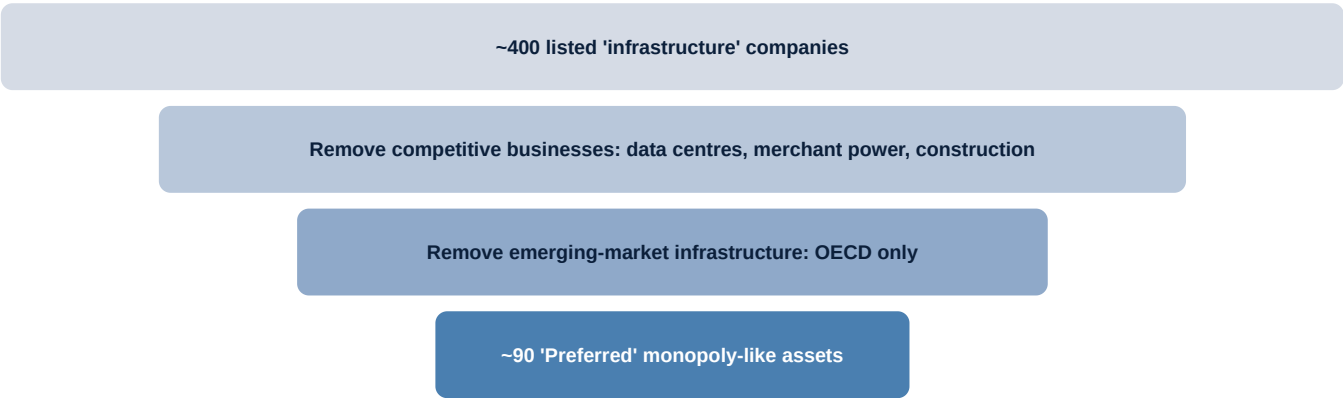

STANDS OUT

WATCH OUT

The narrowest definition in the market, a 20-year record with smaller falls, and an argument that listed infrastructure is cheaper than private deals (buyers paid a 23% premium for UK water assets) [EU12].

The UK fund trailed its index over the last year (10.9% vs 13.1%) [EU7]; utilities suffer when interest rates rise; LAM's own launch dates say 2005 and 2006, so say 'around 20 years'.

'Preferred Infrastructure': from ~400 stocks to ~90

Then: only buy when cheap. In Nov 2025 the team said about two-thirds of the 90 were overvalued.

3A.3 Quant: 'Equity Advantage'

Equity Advantage (quantitative equity)

'Quantitative Investing Done Differently'

WHAT IT IS	Computer models score thousands of shares daily on value, growth, quality and sentiment. The team builds portfolios close to the index but tilted towards the best-scored stocks, and a human checks every trade.
WHO BUYS IT	Institutions wanting a low-risk 'core' active holding; UK model-portfolio builders (the new target); investors worldwide via UCITS and US ETFs.
KEY FACTS	- Platform ~$51bn (30 Jun 2026) [EU4]; Global Equity Advantage alone $22.1bn [EU6] - Beat its index over 1, 3, 5 and 10 years in Global, International, EM and Europe [EP6][EP7][EP8][EP9] - New UK fund: Europe ex-UK Equity Advantage, share classes from 11 Sep 2026, fee 0.25-0.40%, seed size £0.7m [EU7] - Team lead Paul Moghtader joined in 2007 from State Street [EU4]

"By using multi-dimensional risk models that seek to minimize macro risk, and focusing instead on more rewarding sources of returns, we seek to generate stable, active returns in different market environments."

Paul Moghtader, PM, UK featured page [EU4]

"We may not deliver dramatic short-term outperformance, but we seek to avoid the volatility and drawdowns that often accompany high tracking error strategies."

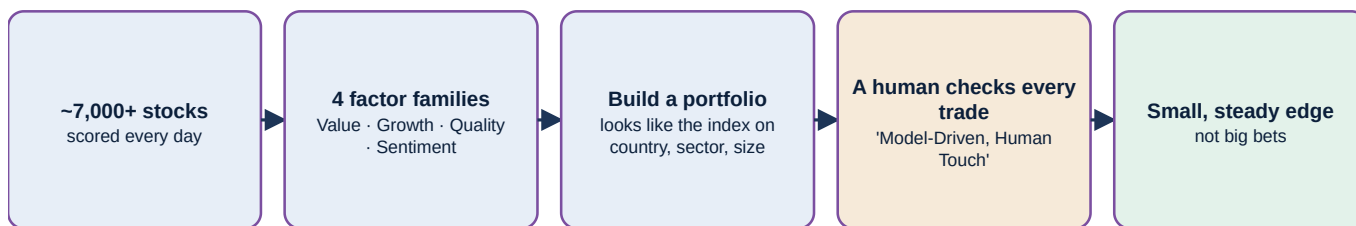

Moghtader and Williams, 'Tracking Error: Myth vs. Reality', 13 Jan 2026 [EU15]

"For portfolio builders and model portfolio service providers, our Equity Advantage funds are designed to target three outcomes: consistency of relative returns, controlled risk and a predictable style profile."

Tony Maddock, Head of UK Third Party Distribution, Trustnet, 30 Sep 2026 [EN1]

STANDS OUT	A quant process with human sign-off (answers the 'black box' worry), steady outperformance, and near-index-fund pricing. Fastest-growing part of LAM: it 'more than doubled' in a year [O26].
WATCH OUT	Model risk; limited upside in big single-theme rallies; the new UK fund has no record and is tiny.

YOUR TURN

A great marketing detail: the same Europe launch message was voiced by Tony Maddock in UK press (Trustnet) and by Jeremy Taylor in Spanish press (RankiaPro), under slightly different fund names [EN1][EN2]. One launch, localised by market. That is distribution marketing in action.

SAY THIS

"LAM's strongest equity stories right now are emerging markets, listed infrastructure and quant, which is exactly where Peter Orszag says active management has the edge. Some quality and thematic products are struggling because their style is out of favour, and part of sales and marketing's job is keeping those clients informed and patient."

PART 3B

The other shelves: bonds, alternatives, wrappers

Fixed income, multi-asset, hedge-fund style products, private markets, ETFs and Lazard's Paris sister firm, with the words each team uses to sell them.

KEY TERM · BOND

A loan you make to a government or company. It pays regular interest and returns your money on a set date. High yield = riskier borrowers paying more. Investment grade = safer borrowers paying less.

3B.1 Fixed income (bonds)

Nordic High Yield Bond Fund

'One of the last hidden value markets' (German trade press)

- WHAT IT IS

Loans to smaller Scandinavian companies, mostly with floating interest rates, so rate rises barely hurt it. Run from Frankfurt.
- WHO BUYS IT

European (especially German-speaking) investors; now being rolled out to UK buyers.
- KEY FACTS

- Launched Nov 2022; grew from ~€70m (mid-2024) to over €300m (Mar 2025) [O14]
 - New GBP share classes June-August 2026: a live UK push [O15]

5 Reasons Why?

"Investoren profitieren in diesem Markt von einem Renditeaufschlag von über 200 Basispunkten (Investors benefit from a yield premium of over 200 basis points versus traditional high yield markets.)"

Daniel Herdt, Deputy Head of Global Fixed Income, c. Apr 2025 [O14]

"You can't just go to the big banks and ask for prices – you have to work with local brokers... We have built these contacts at Lazard over almost 20 years. (translated)"

Daniel Herdt, DAS INVESTMENT, 17 Feb 2025 [O16]

- STANDS OUT

A true niche with a one-line story: more yield, almost no interest-rate risk, and a local network rivals can't copy quickly.
- WATCH OUT

Smaller, less liquid market; higher default risk. Performance figures quoted are from 2025.

WATCH OUT Some funds are small (Blend UCITS $81.6m); mixed record; local-currency risk.

Global Convertibles (incl. Lazard Convertible Global, Paris)

'Bond-like downside protection with an option on upside equity participation'

WHAT IT IS Funds holding convertible bonds: company loans that can be swapped for shares.

WHO BUYS IT European private banks, insurers and wealth managers.

- KEY FACTS
- Lazard Convertible Global: ~€2.0bn (Aug 2026) [O17]
 - Global Convertibles Recovery: $617.6m, +14.1% in the year to Jun 2026 [O8]
 - Recovery is 'benchmark-unaware', 70-90 holdings, target volatility 7-10% [O7]

KEYWORDS Convexity Asymmetry Benchmark-unaware

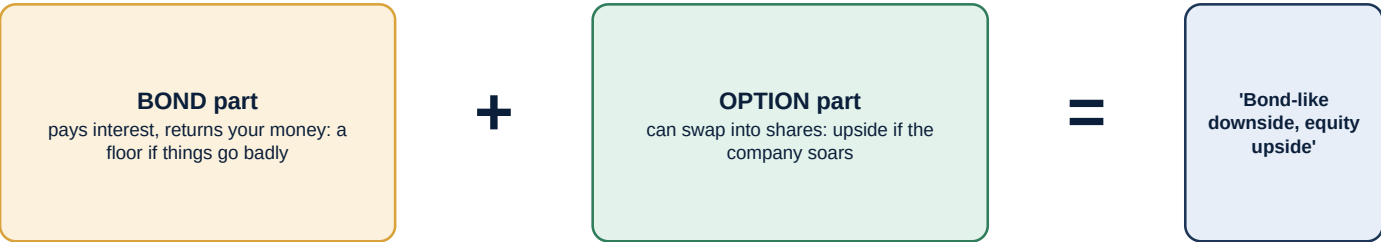

"The convertible's equity option makes it one of the few investments that can potentially come out ahead of volatility."

Recovery fund product description [O7]

STANDS OUT One of Europe's larger convertible houses; a contrarian 'Recovery' angle.

WATCH OUT The Paris flagship lags its benchmark over 3 and 5 years; convertibles fell ~18% in 2022.

3B.3 Alternatives and private markets

KEY TERM · ALTERNATIVES

Strategies that do more than buy and hold. They may bet on prices falling ('shorting'), exploit pricing gaps, or invest in unlisted companies.

Lazard Rathmore (convertible arbitrage)

'Lazard Rathmore: An All-Weather Strategy' (UK homepage hero, Oct 2026)

WHAT IT IS

A hedge-fund strategy inside a regulated, daily-dealing fund. It buys convertible bonds and shorts the same companies' shares, earning from mispricing rather than market direction.

WHO BUYS IT

Private banks, fund-of-funds, insurers, family offices wanting a diversifier.

KEY FACTS

- Strategy since 1 Jun 2007; UK-launched UCITS fund 2 May 2018 [O2][O2b]
- Fund size $2.71bn (Aug 2026), up from $2.29bn (Mar 2026) [O3][V12]

Wrapper	What's in it	Who it's for
Lazard Investment Funds (UK OEIC)	Nine UK funds, almost all equity (e.g. Emerging Markets, UK Omega, European Smaller Companies)	UK savers via platforms and advisers [O7]
Lazard Global Investment Funds plc (Irish UCITS)	Bonds and alternatives: Rathmore, EM debt, Nordic HY, convertibles	Europe and the UK [O7]
Lazard Global Active Funds plc (Irish UCITS)	Equity and quant: Equity Advantage range, infrastructure, Baylight, Digital Assets	Europe and the UK [O7]
Mid Wynd International Investment Trust	Global 'Compounders' run by the Global Quality Growth team	UK retail via the stock market [O37]
US Active ETFs	11 tickers by Sep 2026	US advisers and investors [O10]

SAY THIS

"LAM keeps taking strategies that already work and putting them in new wrappers: infrastructure as an Australian and a US ETF, a Paris bank-bond strategy as a US ETF, a US high-yield fund converting to a cheaper ETF. Orszag calls it expanding the 'modalities of delivery'." [O31]

3B.5 Lazard Frères Gestion: the Paris sister

Lazard's French asset manager runs more than €45bn for French private clients and institutions [O39]. Its funds reach international buyers through LAM's sales network: "Lazard Frères Gestion distribue ses fonds à l'international grâce au réseau de Lazard Asset Management" [O39]. So the London team can sell Paris products.

Fund	What it does	Fact
Lazard Credit Fi SRI	Subordinated bonds of European banks and insurers	€3.35bn; 47.3% over 10 years vs 26.6% benchmark (Aug 2026) [O40]. Its managers now also run the US ETF HYFY [O10]
Lazard Convertible Global	Global convertible bonds	~€2.0bn; behind benchmark over 3 and 5 years [O17]
Lazard Patrimoine SRI	Cautious multi-asset 'wealth preservation'	€438.7m (one share-class factsheet) [O41]

4.1 What the leaders say

"In Asset Management, we have sharpened our focus on areas of the market where active management is most differentiated and where client demand is strongest."

Peter Orszag, Lazard CEO, 2025 Annual Letter, 7 Apr 2026 [O20]

"we continue to believe 2026 will be a year in which investors increasingly re-allocate toward international markets, which is where Lazard's presence and performance are particularly strong."

Peter Orszag, 7 Apr 2026 [O20]

"In Asset Management, we delivered our best first-half net inflows in nearly 20 years and reached record reported AUM"

Peter Orszag, Q2 2026 results, 23 Jul 2026 [O44]

"Lazard Asset Management's success is built on the strength of our relationships, the quality of our ideas and the commitment of our people."

Chris Hogbin, LAM CEO, welcome message, Dec 2025 [O46]

"Together, they will help us make deliberate choices about where we invest, how we grow and how we deliver differentiated solutions to clients globally."

Chris Hogbin on the new Heads of Product and Corporate Development, 27 Jul 2026 [O36]

"As we continue to expand our active ETF offering, including in Europe, we will also look at new vehicles for various strategies"

'Lazard 2030: Beyond What the World Sees Today', c. Sep 2025 [O31]

SAY THIS

Drop one keyword per answer, then explain it in your own words. For example: "LAM calls its approach 'Preferred Infrastructure', which really means it only owns monopoly-like assets in developed markets." Quoting and translating shows you understand it, not just that you memorised it.

DON'T SAY THIS

Stacking slogans ("contextual alpha, financially productive, all-weather..."). It sounds rehearsed, which is Lazard's top video mistake [V2].

PART 5

Your three video questions

What each one is really asking, the facts to use, every example you can choose from, and a model two-minute answer.

Q1 Product

Did you research us? Can you think like a marketer?

Q2 Culture

Two real motivators + proof you fit

Q3 Teamwork

What YOU did to the team, and why the team beat solo

The three questions at a glance

Source: Author's summary Inferred.

These are Lazard's video assessment questions. Lazard says the video covers "your motivation, cultural fit, and interest in our organization and industry", and that the most common mistake is "reading from a script and coming across as too overly prepared" [V1][V2]. Learn the shape and the facts, not the words. Aim for 90-120 seconds each.

SAY THIS

Open every answer with a 10-15 second preview that contains your best point. Thank the reviewer. Then deliver. The person watching decides early.

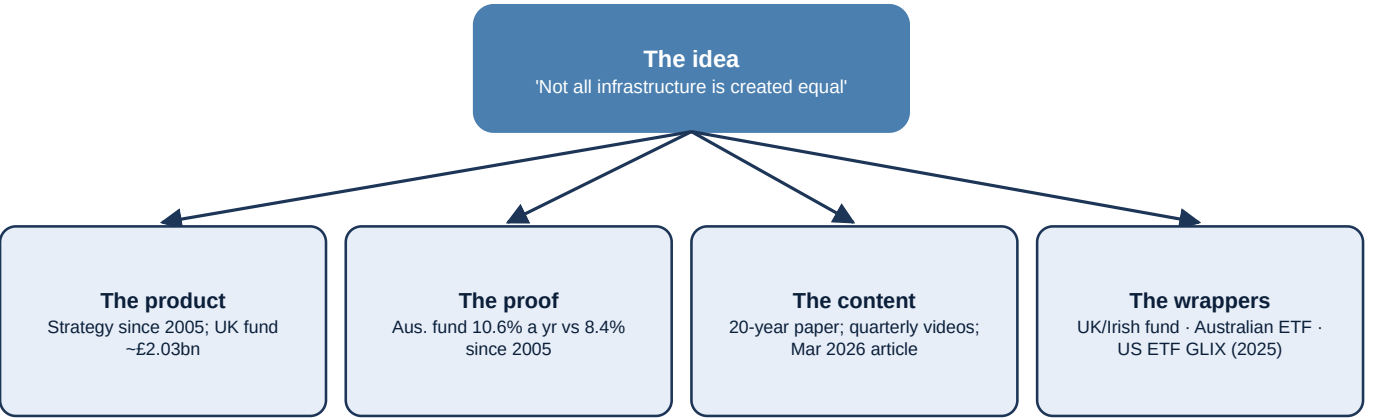

5.1 Question 1: a product, fund or campaign

"Tell us about a Lazard Asset Management product, fund, or campaign you've come across in your research. What made it stand out to you?"

What it's really asking

- Did you research us? Name a real product with real facts, not "your strong range of funds".
- Can you think like a marketer? "Stood out" means: what's the message, who is it for, and why would that buyer care?
- Do you have judgement? Add one honest caveat or a curious question.

How one idea becomes a campaign: Global Listed Infrastructure

The recommended example: an idea turned into a campaign

Source: LAM 20-year infrastructure paper (12 Nov 2025) and 'Not All Infrastructure Is Created Equal' (31 Mar 2026) [V3][V4]; UK fund size £2.03bn (Fidelity, 2 Oct 2026) [V5]; Australian fund factsheet, Jun 2026 [V6]; GLIX listed 6 Oct 2025 [V7].

Rank	Example	Why it works	Caveat to know
1	Global Listed Infrastructure	One clear, ownable idea ('Preferred Infrastructure': excludes data centres and merchant power; ~90-stock universe, 'two-thirds are overvalued today') packaged in three wrappers with steady content [V3][V4]	Rate-sensitive: harder sell when gilt yields are above 5%. UK fund trailed its index over the last year (10.9% vs 13.1%) [EU7]. US ETF tiny (~$30m)
2	Europe ex-UK Equity Advantage (launched 30 Sep 2026)	Brand new, UK-specific; pitched by Tony Maddock (Head of UK Third Party Distribution) to model-portfolio buyers with 'three outcomes' [V8][V9]	No track record yet and seed-sized (£0.7m at 30 Sep 2026); fees 0.25-0.40% [EU7]. Talk positioning, not performance
3	Lazard Emerging Markets Fund (UK)	Nearly doubled £884m → £1.49bn in the year to Mar 2026, and £1.9bn by 30 Sep 2026; 15.0% vs 8.5% a year over 5 years; Fidelity Select 50 and 2026 pick [V10][V11][EU7]	Say 'nearly doubled', not 'record inflows': much was market growth
Wild	Rathmore Alternative Fund	A hedge-fund strategy in a regulated fund; $2.71bn (Aug 2026); Hedge Fund Journal award four years running, 2023-26 [O3][V13]	Harder to explain in 2 minutes
Wild	'Behind the Headlines' (weekly)	Closest thing to a content campaign: Ronald Temple's weekly market note [V14]	A commentary series, not an ad campaign

DON'T SAY THIS

"Your campaign". No LAM advertising campaign for 2025-26 was found. Call your example a product, a launch or a content series. Also avoid Global Equity Franchise as your pick: it returned about -6% over the last year, inviting an awkward follow-up.

Model answer (about 2 minutes)

"Thank you for watching. The product that stood out most was Lazard's Global Listed Infrastructure strategy. What struck me was a marketing idea as much as an investment one: a very strict definition of what counts as infrastructure.

The team calls it 'Preferred Infrastructure'. They only buy monopoly-like assets in developed markets, things like regulated utilities, toll roads and airports. And they deliberately leave out data centres and merchant power, which surprised me, because data centres are the hottest infrastructure theme right now. In their 20-year review they said they think about two-thirds of their 90-stock universe is overvalued. Holding that line takes discipline, and it gives the sales team a message nobody else can claim: not all infrastructure is created equal.

The second thing was how one idea has been packaged for different buyers. It's been running since 2005, there's a UK-available fund of around £2 billion, an Australian fund with a 20-year record ahead of its benchmark, and since last October a US ETF. Same philosophy, three wrappers, plus regular videos and a 20-year paper to keep it in front of clients.

If I'm honest about the challenge, these stocks behave a bit like bonds, so with gilt yields above 5% that's a harder conversation this year. I'd be really interested to see how the team frames that for clients. That mix of a clear idea, matched to each channel and told honestly, is exactly what I'd want to learn in Sales & Marketing."

Alternative close if you choose the Equity Advantage launch

"...Tony Maddock framed it around three outcomes for model-portfolio builders: 'consistency of relative returns, controlled risk and a predictable style profile.' That's segment marketing in one sentence. My question would be why a fund rather than an ETF wrapper for those buyers, given LAM's 11 active ETFs in the US."

5.2 Question 2: culture and fit

"If you were joining Lazard, what aspects of the firm's culture or work would most motivate you, and how would you demonstrate that you are well-suited to succeed here?"

What it's really asking

Two halves, and most candidates answer only the first. (1) Motivation: two specific, true things about Lazard and why they matter to you. "Great culture" scores nothing. (2) Fit: prove each one with a short piece of evidence from your own life.

What Lazard actually says (verified quotes)

"Our entrepreneurial culture, flat structure and embrace of individual differences, allow creative ideas, original concepts, and unique perspectives to drive our business forward"

2027 London S&M internship posting, Req 6673 [V15]

"Our people are open, honest and straightforward."

Same posting [V15]

"our specialists are driven by debate and intellectual freedom—and they don't always agree. There is no 'house view'"

LAM UK equities page [V16]

"Candor, constructive challenge and the free exchange of ideas are fundamental to extraordinary results."

Lazard careers page, Global Head of HR [V17]

"If you only understand the numbers, you won't be successful. You have to be able to talk to people"

Jeremy Taylor, then CEO of LAM London (now Co-CEO Europe), Square Mile interview, Oct 2020 [V18]

"By unifying elements of our investment oversight, we can strengthen analytical rigor, build greater collaboration across teams"

Chris Hogbin, LAM CEO, 6 Jan 2026 [V19]

Pick a motivator	Why it's real	Prove it with (your own example)
No 'house view': you translate many philosophies	LAM equities page [V16]	Explaining something complex to a non-expert (tutoring, presenting, a pitch)
Flat structure: real work and a senior panel	Posting: project presented 'to a panel of senior management' [V15]	A time you gave a view to someone senior and it was used
Entrepreneurial: 'Automate marketing functions'	Posting duties [V15]	Something you built or fixed without being asked
Collegiate, 'continuous knowledge sharing'	Posting [V15]; Orszag memo [V20]	A team result you couldn't have reached alone
Talking to people, not just numbers	Taylor 2020 [V18]	A customer-facing job, sales or fundraising
Interns grow into long-term staff	A 2020 intern is now a VP, per LAM's site [V21]	Why you want to grow in one firm

Model answer (fill the yellow brackets with your real examples)

"Thank you for watching. Two things motivate me most, and I'll give an example of each that shows why I'd fit.

First, LAM's investment teams don't share a single house view. Your own site says they're 'driven by debate and intellectual freedom'. So the Sales & Marketing role isn't just promotion. It's translating very different philosophies, from a quant European fund to an infrastructure strategy, accurately for very different clients. I find that genuinely interesting, and I've done a small version of it: [e.g. as a tutor I explained the same idea three ways to three students].

Second, the flat, entrepreneurial culture. The internship gives real work from day one and a project in front of senior management, and it asks interns to automate marketing processes. I'm most motivated when I own something end to end. For example, [e.g. I noticed our society tracked sign-ups by hand, so I built an automated sheet that cut the admin from hours to minutes].

How I'd show I'm suited: Jeremy Taylor said in a 2020 interview that if you only understand the numbers you won't be successful; you have to be able to talk to people. I'd bring both: the analytical side from [your degree], and being open, honest and straightforward with colleagues, which is how your posting describes the team."

5.3 Question 3: teamwork

"Can you share an example of a time you actively contributed to a team dynamic or collaboration to achieve a challenging goal? How did engaging with the team improve the outcome?"

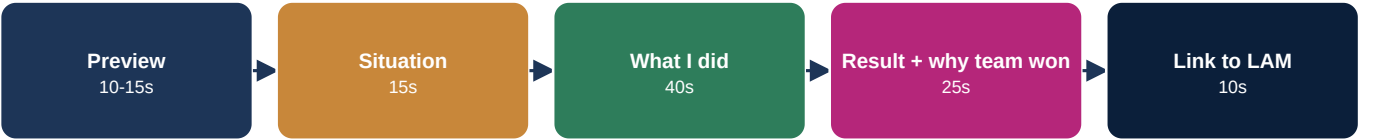

What it's really asking

- "Actively contributed to a team dynamic": what you did to how the team worked (ran the plan, settled a disagreement, split work by strengths, brought a quiet person in), not just your own task.
- "Challenging goal": a real difficulty: deadline, conflict, setback, big target.

- "How did engaging the team improve the outcome": the bit most people skip. Show before and after: what would have happened alone, and what was better with the team.

"The future belongs to well-functioning teams, not individuals acting solo."

Peter Orszag, Lazard CEO, 'Lazard 2030' memo, Sep 2023 [V20]. Use as an optional closing echo, not your opener.

A two-minute teamwork answer
Source: Author's structure Inferred

Story type	Example shape	Why it suits Sales & Marketing
Group project or case competition	Team split on approach; you proposed testing both or splitting by strengths; better grade/placing	Analysis plus persuasion
Society event or fundraising	Sponsorship drive or charity target; you set up a shared tracker and weekly check-ins; target beaten	Selling to outsiders, hitting numbers
Sports team	Losing run; you reorganised roles or training; results improved	Morale and roles
Part-time job	Busy shift or new process; you trained colleagues or fixed the rota; service improved	Real customers
Hackathon or volunteering	Tight deadline, mixed skills; you got non-specialists contributing	Translating between experts

Model answer: a template (your details in yellow)

"Thank you for watching. I'll talk about [our final-year group consulting project], where a five-person team had [three weeks] to [build a market-entry recommendation for a local business], and where changing how we worked made the difference.

A week in, we were split. Two people wanted [heavy data analysis], two wanted [customer interviews], and we were duplicating work.

I suggested we stop debating and test both: each pair got [two days], then we compared. I set up a [shared tracker] with owners and deadlines, and I asked [our quietest member], who'd studied [marketing], for her view.

That changed the outcome. The interviews showed [customers cared about X, not price], and her idea to [segment by customer type] became our core recommendation. We delivered [two days early] and [scored 78%, top in the cohort]. Alone I'd have produced the data-heavy version and missed the main insight.

What I took from it is that the best answer comes from combining perspectives quickly, which I think is how LAM's sales and marketing teams work together."

DON'T SAY THIS
Invented results or numbers. A real, smaller story told with specifics beats a big vague one.

5.4 Recording checklist

Do	Avoid
Preview your best point in the first 15 seconds	A slow 'So, um, I'd say...' start
Two or three words per line of notes, under the webcam	Reading a script (Lazard's top mistake) [V2]
Film each answer 10-15 times first	Recording the moment the invite lands
Camera at eye level, light in front, plain background, smart dress	Dark room, laptop looking up at you
Say '6-week internship'	'10-week' (that's Financial Advisory)
Chris Hogbin as LAM CEO (since Dec 2025)	Evan Russo as CEO
'Jeremy Taylor, in a 2020 interview'	Calling him current London CEO without a date

PART 6

One-page cheat sheet

Read this ten minutes before you record.

LAM in four lines

- Looks after $290bn for pension funds, insurers, wealth managers and savers [B1]
- Mostly active equity (75%), average fee ~0.45% [B3][B2]
- Focus areas: quant, EM, global/international, listed infrastructure [O20]
- Started in London in 1953; CEO Chris Hogbin since Dec 2025

Products to name

- Global Listed Infrastructure: 'Preferred Infrastructure'; ~20 years; 9.3% vs 7.2% a year
- Emerging Markets: $56bn platform; UK fund £1.9bn; 'A New Chapter'
- Equity Advantage (quant): ~$51bn; 'Stocks, Not Styles'; new Europe ex-UK fund 30 Sep 2026
- Rathmore: 'All-Weather'; 'Equity-like Returns, Bond-like Risk'; $2.7bn
- Nordic High Yield: ~200bp extra yield; GBP classes added 2026
- US ETFs: 0 → 11 tickers in ~18 months

Quotes worth having

- Donald: "one of the most favorable setups for emerging markets equities in over a decade"
- Maddock: "consistency of relative returns, controlled risk and a predictable style profile"
- Orszag: "where information is imperfect"
- Taylor (2020): "You have to be able to talk to people"

Q1 product: shape

Name it → the one idea that stands out → who it's for → how it's packaged → one honest caveat → why that excites you in S&M.

Q2 culture: shape

Motivator 1 + your proof → motivator 2 + your proof → "how I'd show it" line. Use 'no house view' and 'flat, entrepreneurial'.

Q3 teamwork: shape

Preview → challenge → what YOU did to the team → result with a number → why the team beat solo → link to LAM.

Never say

- "Your campaign" (none found)
- "10-week internship" (it's 6 weeks)
- "Evan Russo, CEO" (it's Hogbin)
- "Record inflows" for the EM fund (much was market growth)
- Made-up performance numbers

Honest weak spots to know

- Global Equity Franchise -14% vs +21% (1 yr)
- Mid Wynd NAV 3.6% vs 19.5% a year since 2023
- US Equity Select and International Strategic lag their indices

CHECK BEFORE YOU QUOTE

Fund performance figures are past performance and change monthly; check the latest factsheet before quoting. 2026 market context in LAM's own commentary (Middle East conflict, a new UK Prime Minister) should be checked against current news. Some quotes came via third-party transcripts and are marked as such where used.
